MRS. EMMA BYARS CLOSES LONG LIFE

Widow of Late General Had Lived 46 Years Here

PLAINS CROSSED IN 53

Golden Wedding Celebrated in 1918 in City

Early Monday morning Mrs. Emma A. Byars, 85, died in Salem, where she had lived for more than 46 years, except for a period of four years when her husband, the late General W. H. Byars, was United States surveyor general for Oregon.

Surrounded by her children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, some of whom were always near to relieve the pain of her recent months of severe illness and comfort her, she silently and peacefully departed her mortal existence of more than 85 years. Thus came to a close the earthly pilgrimage of a good mother, a loyal citizen, and an exemplary Christian.

Born in Louisville, Emma A. Slocum was born in Louisville, Ky., on August 31, 1843, the daughter of William Slocum, who was a Massachusetts Yankee, and Sara (Collins) Slocum, of Maryland Cavalier lineage. She crossed the plains to Oregon with her parents during the year 1853 where she has resided continuously until her death.

On December 23, 1868, she was united in marriage to William Henry Byars, also a pioneer of 1853, and with whom she had been acquainted since early childhood, and with whom she lived as wife and mother until his death on April 22, 1922. On December 23, 1918, they celebrated their golden wedding at their home on North Commercial street in this city, when scores of acquaintances and relatives called to pay respect to a couple who had long occupied an honored position in public and private life.

Mother of Nine Children Mrs. Byars was a devoted mother and no consideration took priority over her home. She was the mother of nine children. Laura Emma died at the age of six months, Mera Bell died at about the age of six years, Dr. John Rex Byars died when about 25 years of age, while she is survived by the remaining six of her children, Collins L., residing at Roseburg, Mrs. Effie W. Dunlap, of Salem, William F., of Goldendale, Wash., Dr. Alfred H., of San Diego, Calif., and Mrs. Sherman W. Thompson and Mrs. Ronald C. Glover, both of Salem.

She was long identified with patriotic organizations of the state and was past president of the local unit of the Woman's Relief corps. Her husband, the late W. H. Byars, was a veteran of the Civil War, Dr. John Rex Byars, also deceased, was a veteran of the war with Spain, and Dr. Alfred Byars is a veteran of the World War, serving in the American forces in France at the time of the armistice.

Faithful to Church Long a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, she has been active in the years past in the activities of that faith, being a life member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society, and charter member of West Central circle of the church.

Funeral services will be held from Rigdon's Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock with the Rev. Fred C. Taylor, pastor of her church, in charge, and assisted by the Woman's Relief corps. Interment will follow in the family plot in the Cityview cemetery.

Stankovich Alice Frances Stankovich died in Salem March 4 at the age of two and one half years. She is survived by her parents of Bandon, Oregon. Remains in care of Clough-Huston Co.

Edward Fane Edward Fane, residence 645 Gaines avenue, Salem, died March 4, age 76 years, 10 months, 28 days. Survived by his widow, Mary Fane and two step-children. Remains in care of Towillinger home. Announcement of funeral later.

Smart, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Rose Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Roy McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fisher, Mr. and Mrs. Cash Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Will Knower and the host and hostess.

Spring has turned the corner, so it would seem, for already there is bathing in the Willamette river.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Clarke are being congratulated upon the birth of a nine pound son Donald Elmer, born Wednesday morning, February 27. Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Lear of the River Bridge grocery motored to Dallas Sunday accompanied by Mrs. S. L. Burk. They spent a very enjoyable day visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Magee of Dundee, was a week-end guest at the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Magee. Mr. Magee was also a week-end visitor from his position at Hood River.

The primary department of the Latter Day Saints church will meet at the home of Mrs. Dale Lemon on Edgewater street Tuesday afternoon. Miss Della Robinson of Salt Lake City, Utah, is here to take Miss Mary Rigtrup's place as teacher.

The Boy Scouts will meet Tuesday after school at 4 p.m.

The Ladies Aid will meet for an important business session Wednesday, March 6 at the community hall at 2 p.m. The special feature is a shower for the church kitchen. Each lady may bring some article which will aid in the furnishing of the kitchen. Some ladies will be present from Jason Lee church to discuss the organization of a Missionary society.

After house bill 541, introduced by the insurance committee, had been killed at the morning session Monday it was brought back for reconsideration later in the day and passed with a few dissenting votes. The bill seeks to safeguard policy holders in foreign companies who reside in Oregon. It requires that such companies must have a surplus of at least $100,000 on deposit to protect their policy holders. Provisions regarding reciprocal and interinsurance exchanges were removed from the bill.

Senate bill 219, by Joe Dunne, designed to restrict malpractice and defining "dishonorable conduct" as used in connection with the matter of licensing of physicians, was killed, with 40 votes registered against it. Those opposing the measure thought it was too drastic and would jeopardize the interests of reputable physicians.

AFRICA IS TOPIC Leo Fricka of Portland speaks to Rotary Wednesday noon on the subject, "My Tour of the West Coast of Africa." The meeting next week will be held in the evening and will be a ladies' night held at the Marion hotel.

CONGRESS ENDS TERM QUIETLY

Seventieth Session Concludes Colorful Record Without Fireworks

By WALTER CHAMBLIN Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, Mar. 4.—(AP)—The seventieth congress ended its session quietly today after writing a record as colorful as that of any of its recent predecessors.

It enacted the bill to control the turbulent waters of the Mississippi river system; greatly expanded the nation's naval forces; paved the way for harnessing for man's uses the mighty Colorado river; and placed upon the statute books a new act to materially increase penalties for violation of the prohibition laws.

Peace Pact Approved In addition, the senate ratified the Kellogg treaty to have war denounced as a national policy by the nations of the world.

The closing hours on Capitol Hill today were in contrast to the 70th congress' opening session two years ago when charges of excessive campaign expenditures threw the senate into a turmoil and the Beck election contest produced confusion in the house.

Dispute is Averted For a brief space this morning a controversy over a bill to postpone the effective date of the national origins provisions of the immigration act threatened to upset the decorum of the senate. But this dispute faded as the noon hour approached and the oft-filibustering senate came to a peaceful end.

The immigration measure, passed yesterday by the house at the first Sunday session in six years, died with the congress, and under existing law the national origins clause will become operative on July 1. Under its provisions England and northern Ireland will be favored in immigration quotas at the expense of Germany, Sweden and Norway.

The last minutes in both houses were dominated by farewells and eulogies to departing leaders.

Students Obtain Radio Reports On Inauguration Data

History, physics and commercial students of the Salem high had a radio party all their own Tuesday morning and early afternoon to listen to the inaugural broadcasts with two radios bringing in the speeches and music.

Through the efforts of Mrs. Gertrude Smith of the history department, her classes and the physics classes of Miss June Philpott enjoyed the radio installed in the physics room. Sherman Clay and company loaned the students a radio for the purpose, the inside aerial being rigged up by the physics students. Merritt Davis, head of the commercial department, had his radio installed in his room for the benefit of commercial students.

Enrollment in the sewing class which the part time continuation school is sponsoring for Salem housemaids is complete, with the first class to be held this Tuesday afternoon from 2:30 to 4 o'clock. The class will be conducted each Tuesday and Thursday, with instruction being offered in practical sewing to 12 housemaids.

Mrs. Gladys Jensen, head of the home economic department at the senior high school, is the instructor. Classe will be held in the high school economic rooms. Housemaids will furnish their own materials and equipment, individual as well as group instruction to be given.

Community projects and problems of all types will be thoroughly studied by officials of chambers of commerce and other commercial organizations of Oregon at the annual short course for chambers of commerce secretaries to be held at the University of Oregon, March 19 to 23. Secretary C. E. Wilson, President B. E. Sisson, and other officials of the Salem chamber of commerce have been invited to attend the session, which promises to be the most successful of the short courses so far.

Airport development, community publicity and land settlement will be among the chief problems discussed at the conference, with expert speakers leading the forum meetings. It is expected that the Salem officials, will return with many ideas for promoting community projects and with a comprehensive view of what other commercial organizations are doing along this line.

STUDENTS APPLAUD HOOVER'S ADDRESS

The student body of Willamette university assembled at 8:40 Monday morning in the university chapel to hear the radio account of the inauguration of President Hoover. The radio reception was sponsored by the Blue Key service fraternity with the cooperation of the university faculty.

The schedule of morning classes was shifted so that only the second period recitations and the chapel hour were omitted from the daily program. An interesting feature of the gathering was that men and women students did not divide in the usual manner for the chapel hour; in fact, few students sat in their regular chapel seats. Applause was given at various points in President Hoover's address.
