Franklins Hosts At Writers' Club Meeting

Dr. and Mrs. F. G. Franklin entertained the Salem Writers' club Tuesday evening at the Franklin home on Summer street. A very interesting and enthusiastic program was presented by members present.

In the absence of Miss Sarah Wrenn, Dr. Mary Rowland presided. The program presented consisted of original poems given by the authors, Dr. Mary Rowland, Mrs. Ruth Parks, Mrs. Blanche Jones, and Miss Grace Gillham. Miss Edna Garfield read some original limericks. Joseph Singer, young author, read the poem of Edwin Markham written in the present contest for a new national song. This poem is entitled "The New America." Dr. Rowland showed some of her sketches.

Dr. Franklin read several selections from the "Frontier" and also a letter which he had written to the Putnam Publishing company calling attention to the latest Lindbergh book "Flying with Lindbergh" in which Crater lake was attributed to California.

Sabra Nason gave a sketch of her contacts as librarian with Anne Shannon Monroe, and her interesting experiences with this Oregon writer.

Mrs. F. G. Franklin gave an account of her recent attendance at the Northwest Poetry association meeting which was instructive in its nature. At the election of officers at this time Mrs. Franklin reported the following people receiving offices: Howard McKinley Corning, author of "These People"; Verne Bright, vice president; Mrs. Iris Thorpe, secretary; Miss Burkholder, treasurer; Mrs. F. G. Franklin, historian, and Lawrence Pratt, anologist. Mrs. Franklin reported that the next meeting would be with Col. and Mrs. Clarke of Portland.

In the business meeting of the Salem group, announcement was made concerning the next meeting which will take place Tuesday night in the social room of the city library. This will be an open meeting at which time a very unusual lecture and lantern presentation will be given.

Turney Orchestra To Play Friday Night

The Y. M. C. A. program for Friday night at the Y. building promises to be one arranged for all of Salem. The Chemawa orchestra, directed by Ruthyn Turney will present a unique and varied musical program which Mr. Turney assures will be "liberal."

Mr. Turney has been connected with Chemawa for the past 18 years, and is well known to Salem. This year the orchestra is better than it has been at any time in the past, so it is with real anticipation that the Friday night program is awaited.

Parents and Teachers To Hold Council

The Marion County Council of Parents and Teachers will hold an all day session, Saturday, March 9th, beginning at 10:30 a. m. in the Aumsville high school. Dr. Norman K. Tully of Salem will be the principle speaker of the day. All who are interested in child welfare are cordially invited to attend. Lunch will be served by the Aumsville Parent-Teacher circle.

Snikpoh Play Is Well Received

The Institutions department of the Salem Woman's club under the chairmanship of Mrs. S. M. Endicott sponsored "Sauce for the Goose" a Salem high school Snikpoh play under the direction of Miss Ceell McKecher, at the Boy's Training school Tuesday evening. Reports from the evening would indicate that the effort was a genuine success.

Winning special enthusiasm from the audience was "Tricks of Magic" as presented by E. Cook Patton. Vocal solos "Duna" by Josephine McGill, and "I Passed Your Window" by May Brahe, sung by Lawrence Alley also won much praise.

Following the program Superintendent Gilbert took the guests on a tour of inspection of the Training school. At a late hour Mrs. Gilbert served.

Those motoring out to the school for this agreeable evening were Mrs. S. R. Dippel, Mrs. Mary Gallier, Mrs. E. Cook Patton, Miss Ceell McKecher, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ostling, and Mrs. S. M. Endicott.

Mrs. F. E. Halick Tuesday Club Hostess

Mrs. F. E. Halick entertained with a one o'clock luncheon at the Elk's club, having as her guests the members of her club, the Tuesday club. Covers were laid for 12 at an attractively appointed table. Following the luncheon bridge was the center of attraction for the afternoon.

Special guests were Mrs. D. C. Minto, Mrs. Ira Follis, and Mrs. Iva Bushey. Club members present were Mrs. H. E. Wain, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Mrs. John Sweeney, Mrs. G. W. Hillman, Mrs. F. J. Meany, Mrs. C. F. Giese, Mrs. Mose Adams, and Mrs. F. E. Halick.

Local Student Wins Praise in University

Malcolm Medler, well known in musical and University circles in Salem has won laurels for himself in the special work in music which he is doing with Mrs. Jane Thacher of the University school of music. He appeared in recital in the music auditorium at the university Tuesday evening and won much praise from the reviewer and appreciation from the audience.

In speaking of the Greig number which he played and of the Caprice Viennois-Kreisler the reviewer said: "The Greig was an achievement! There was a delightful niceness about the individual notes and the finale, molto allegro, was especially noteworthy for the fine shading in it. Mr. Medler put all the traditional feeling into Schubert's Impromptu in B flat, which led the third group, and Kreisler, I believe, would have been pleased to hear his interpretation of the Caprice Viennois-Kreisler."

California Guests At Robertson Home

Mrs. Charles Robertson, Jr. and young son Charles III, are the guests of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Robertson. Mrs. Robertson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Apperson of McMinnville, and Dr. Charles Robertson Jr. is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Robertson of Salem.

Dr. and Mrs. Robertson Jr. have been making their home in Santiago, California for some time past where Dr. Robertson is practicing. Mrs. Robertson and young son intend to make a months visit dividing their time between Salem and McMinnville.

Several affairs are being planned for Mrs. Robertson while she is here.

Zena: The Zena Missionary society, meeting yesterday at the home of Mrs. Jesse Walling, elected the 1928 officers, who are as follows: Mrs. L. F. Matthews, president; Mrs. Charles McCarter, vice president; Mrs. V. L. Gibson, treasurer, and Mrs. W. W. Henry, secretary. The nominating committee are Mrs. Ralph H. Scott, Mrs. Jesse Walling, and Mrs. C. F. Merrick.

Zena: Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Henry entertained a group of their Zena and Brush College friends recently with a turkey dinner at their country home. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Barker and son Sammy Joe, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Barker and sons, Paul and Billy, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry.

Plans Being Made For Active Auxiliary

The auxiliary of the Salem General hospital made plans at its March meeting, held this week at the chamber of commerce, for a 500 membership drive. Each present member intends to bring five guests or new members to the next meeting to acquaint them with the organization, established in Salem February the 19th.

At the meeting, presided over by Mrs. Russell Catlin, first vice president, in the absence of Mrs. W. H. Dancy, president, it was voted to enlarge the board of directors from seven to nine members, with election in April. Mrs. E. C. Cross was appointed to fill out the term of a treasurer of Mrs. L. H. McMahan, who has resigned.

The Parrish Girl Reserves met Tuesday afternoon and made some changes in the scheme of their procedure. The first change of importance to them is that hereafter the first meeting of the month will be a business meeting and thereafter the other three meetings will be program meetings.

They have also planned to take up a new project, a world trip to be made during the year. At each program meeting an invitation will be given for some local person who has traveled abroad to come and speak to the Reserve group concerning a certain place that has been visited.

The girls have also planned a hike for Saturday, March 9. These plans were all worked out under the direction of Miss Olson, the Reserve leader for the Parrish group.

The Salem Heights Woman's club will sponsor the production of the comedy "The Dutch Detective," Friday night, March 8, at Community hall. The cast is made up of the young people of Knight Memorial church. The program, beginning at 8 o'clock, includes a prelude of musical numbers.

Zena: Eighteen pupils from the fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades of Zena school, Miss Lillian Reynolds, their principal, and Mr. and Mrs. James A. French, Mrs. Alice Judson, and Mr. P. K. Klasson heard Herbert Hoover's inaugural address over the radio at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Crawford Monday.

The Best Way club of the Woman's Benefit association will meet Thursday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Jennie Miller, 351 S. 19th street. Members are requested to bring thimbles and scissors.

Peter's Adventures

MR. DUCK LOSES HIS TEMPER

Drake stared at Peter as though he couldn't believe his own ears. But Peter paid no attention to him. He went right on with what he was saying.

"You do not sleep at night. Drake - you have just said night is the time you visit the feeding grounds - so how can the frogs keep you awake when you know as well as I do that night is the time they make the most noise?"

"When the sun shines the frogs are too busy to do much talking and then, too, I suppose the bright warm light makes them sleepy, just as it does you. No, my fine fellow, you will have to make up another excuse for treating the frogs so badly."

Now nobody in the world likes to be caught telling a fib, and it made Sir Drake angry to think that the boy had found him out. In a fit of temper he ducked his head under the water and puffed and sputtered and tried his best to splash his accuser, kicking out with his feet just as hard as he could. Not a drop touched the boy though; he was too far up on the bank. Then Sir Drake began to croak in the daytime as well as in the night! You better learn the habits of the pool people before you go around talking about them!

"If I don't like frogs that is my own business and nobody else's, and one excuse is as good as another for not doing so. Don't you ever have moments when all you wish to do is to sit still and think of nothing - just nothing?"

"It doesn't matter whether you have or not," continued Drake without waiting for Peter's answer. "It makes me mad to pick out a nice, quiet spot, away from the ducks and ducklings, and believe I am all alone, settle down upon the water, fix my eyes upon the far off skyline and make ready to forget all the world and then -kerplunk! - something splashes into the water beside me with such force that the drops fly into my eyes."

"My heart misses a beat as I shoot out into the stream sure that an enemy is upon me, and then I discover that a fat green frog is grinning at me from a lily pad near shore - a pad that he has hopped back upon after scaring me half to death. Quack! Quack! The miserable diver! I wish they would all get stuck deep in the mud that they could never get out, I do! But no such luck!"

Diet and Health

The "Tummy Ten" Exercises Not Chied To Cure Rupture. Abdominal Exercise and Hernia.

You have one which you say you have been known to cure ruptures. I wish to inquire whether a cure might be effected by this exercise, even though no truss is used, or must the rupture be held in by a truss in order for the exercise to do any good? Also, please advise if you would consider moderate rope jumping a hazardous case of rupture where no truss is used.

If you will re-read the article on the Atonic Abdominal Wall you will find that I did not say the abdominal exercises would cure a rupture. What I did say was that by developing the abdominal muscles they might reduce the rupture opening and that they might prevent hernia from forming. A hernia of long standing, one where a truss has to be worn, would most likely have to be operated upon. The operation is not a serious one, as the inner abdominal wall is not opened.

As far as rope jumping is concerned, I don't believe it would be harmful in case of a small hernia where a truss didn't have to be used, but it would be better for you to see your physician and get his advice after an examination.

"My eyes trouble me. When I am in the wind or read a lot, they become bloodshot, or I get little pimples under the lids and they swell up. What causes this? Please give me a solution in which to bathe my eyes. I can see all right, but I cannot understand why the eyes should get red and swell underneath."

It looks as though you ought to go to an oculist, L. You may have some weakness of the eyes that lowers their resistance.

A diet that is deficient in the vitamin A profoundly affects the mucous-membranes of the eyes (as well as other organs). How about your diet - is it balanced? Until you can see your oculist, I will give you a formula for a good eye wash, and then you had better get a little tube of 1 per cent yellow oxide of mercury to rub on the lids at night.

Alkaline Eye Wash. Take a moderately-heaped teaspoon each of bicarbonate of soda (ordinary baking soda), borax and table salt; dissolve in a quart of boiled water; add a full tablespoon of glycerine and filter. (You can filter by pouring solution through a cotton-stuffed funnel.)

May states that the eyes should be irrigated with this eye wash several times a day. It is good for washing the eyes after exposure to wind and dust, after automobile driving and golfing, and is preferred to the various eye drops which are sold in drug stores which may contain ingredients

Helped at Change of Life

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a wonderful medicine at the Change of Life. I would get blue spells and nervous, could not sleep at night, and was not able to do my work. I know if it had not been for your medicine I would have been in bed most of this time and had a big doctor's bill. If women would only take your medicine they would be better."
