NELSON UNABLE TO FIX BLAME

Party Who Started "Riot" Friday Night Unknown to Principal

Following a half day intensive search to learn, if possible, who was responsible for the riot staged by Salem high school students following the Chemawa-Salem game last Friday night, Principal J. C. Nelson reported Wednesday afternoon that he could not learn definitely what boy or boys were at the bottom of it, but leadership seemed to belong to two former students not in school.

At the police station Nelson found the officers could not name any individual, as the mob had scattered at the cry "here comes the cops."

Express Regrets
He also interviewed four persons who were in Coach Roy Keene's office at the gymnasium after the game but none of these knew any of the boys. Keene reported several boys had come to him later to express regret at the riot episode, but since the boys took this stand, their names are being withdrawn.

Two things Nelson learned which had not been brought out before. They were that so far as he could learn nothing at all was said about throwing R. R. Turner of Dallas in the mill race; and that what really started the whole fracas was a statement of Turner to a Chemawa student and overheard by Salem students to the effect that "it's a good thing you beat the dirty pups." Two mothers of Salem boys may have unwittingly kindled the riot when they gave Turner "a piece of their minds" following the game.

Statements that George Beecher, Don Stegmund and Bob Kelly followed Turner were also emphatically denied by Nelson following his investigation.

RATE POSTS IN HOOVER "FAMILY"

Hoover efficiency will mark the White House executive office organization when it gets under way March 4, according to advance announcements. Julius Klein, left, who has served under Hoover in the commerce department, is to hold a new secretaryship, with the task of co-ordinating the activities of the various government departments. George Akerson, right, who has been Hoover's right-hand man for four years, becomes political secretary.

Rigid Ban on Cigarettes In Oregon Proposed Under New Initiative Measure

A rigid ban on cigarettes in Oregon is proposed in a constitutional amendment which the Anti-Cigarette League of Oregon is initiating. Copies of the proposed constitutional amendment were filed with Secretary of State Hoss Wednesday with a request that he submit the petition to Attorney General Van Winkle for the preparation of a ballot title preliminary to the circulation of petitions for signatures to place the measure on the state ballot at the general election in November, 1930.

The proposed amendment to the constitution would forbid the manufacture, importation, possession, advertising, sale or giving away of cigarettes, cigarette papers or materials. Penalties for violation of the proposed law would include fines ranging from $25 to $250 and jail sentences ranging from 30 to 90 days.

Officers of the Anti-Cigarette League, which has its headquarters in Eugene, include John B. Perry, president; W. J. Williams, vice president; E. M. Patterson, secretary; J. M. Shelley, treasurer, and E. F. Atchley, field representative.

NEW FORESTRY WORK SOON TO BE BEGUN

Arrival of Eberly Signal for Classification of Timber Lands

First work to be done under the provisions of the new reforestation act passed by the legislature will be done in Clatsop county according to F. A. Elliott, state forester.

This work will be launched immediately after the arrival of H. Eberly, now assistant state forester of Texas, who is returning to Oregon April 15 to take over the administration of the new act as a member of the state forester's staff.

New Tax Planned
Under the reforestation act all cut-over and burned-over lands in the state, aggregating more than two million acres, are to be classified as to their value for agricultural, grazing or timber purposes. Lands classified as valuable only for timber purposes will be placed on a separate tax roll and be subject only to a forest fee of five cents per acre per year, in lieu of all other taxes, except that when the timber matures and is cut the state will receive a yield tax of 12 1/2 percent of the value of the timber at the time.

In making the classifications public hearings must be held at which the owner of the land, county officials and others interested will be heard. The facts presented at these hearings, together with the findings of the forester in charge, must then be submitted to the state tax commission for final action before the classification becomes fixed.

LOCAL THRIFT STORE JOINS WITH M'MARR

Commercial Street Room to be Occupied by Star Exchange

Stock of the Thrift grocery, located at the corner of North Commercial and Chemeketa streets since entering the Salem field a year ago, was Wednesday moved to 20th Century store No. 59, at the corner of State and Commercial and the Thrift store will be discontinued for the time being at least.

Both Thrift and 20th Century stores have been operated by the McMarr organization since the first of the year, when 700 north-west groceries merged under that banner. H. F. Taylor has been manager of Thrift here since October 1. All members of the Thrift sales force will be placed, but just where will not be known until word is received from Portland headquarters.

The corner vacated by the grocery will be occupied after April 1 by the Star Exchange, now in a small building across the street on Commercial and between Chemeketa and Center. A. Volchok is owner of the exchange.

Bancroft Stars
In Picture On Now At Oregon

One night off ship, the hero rescues a girl from drowning and marries her in the saloon. George Bancroft is the stoker on shore leave and Betty Compton is the girl. The film is "The Docks of New York," on at the Oregon theatre now.

There is some good character acting. The stars do not disappoint us. The theme may be hackneyed, and we've seen the sets before. But it is a good show and if you are a Bancroft fan you will want to see it.—H. H.

State to Spend $6,008,009 In Two Years on 5 Schools Shows Secretaries Budget

Oregon's institutions of higher learning, five in number, have received appropriations of $6,008,009 for expenditures in the next two years, according to figures released Wednesday by the office of the secretary of state. Included in these figures are legislative appropriations, as well as special millage taxes within and outside of the six per cent limitation. The sum includes all the activities of the institution, embracing research and extension work, the Doernbecher Memorial hospital and the university medical school.

Of the grand total the agricultural college at Corvallis will receive $2,862,073.16, the University of Oregon at Eugene, $2,423,161.19, the eastern Oregon normal school at LaGrande, $84,780; the Monmouth normal, $365,174.44; and the southern Oregon normal school at Ashland, $157,820.64.

Sources Accounted For
Sources of the revenues to be made available for the various institutions are accounted for as follows:

Oregon Agricultural college—Special millage taxes within the six per cent limitation, $397,865.74; special millage taxes outside the six per cent limit, $1,539,198.42; continuing and annual appropriations, $311,700; legislative appropriations for research, investigations and extension courses, $140,000; appropriations for medical school, $251,122.36; appropriation for Doernbecher Memorial hospital, $169,240.71; appropriation for construction of infirmary, $50,000.

La Grande Normal school—Legislative appropriation, $84,780. Monmouth Normal school—Special millage taxes within the six per cent limit, $39,786.58; special millage taxes outside the six per cent limit, $134,679.86; legislative appropriation, $140,708.

Ashland Normal school—Special millage taxes within the six per cent limit, $89,786.58; legislative appropriation, $68,024.06.

SINGLE TAX LOOMS AS POSSIBLE FIGHT

Oregon League Would Put Measure on Ballot in Next Election

The single tax question, a ghost of yesterday in Oregon's revenue measures, appeared in plain view Wednesday when an initiative petition to place the proposal on the ballot in November, 1930, was filed with Secretary of State Hoss by the Oregon Single Tax League with headquarters in Portland.

Officers of the league are S. L. Casto, president; R. D. Marchant, vice president; Mrs. Laura Lees, second vice president; J. R. Horman, manager. A total of 15,555 signatures will be required to insure the measure a place on the ballot.

To Amend Constitution
The measure provides for a constitutional amendment providing that from March 1, 1931 to March 1, 1935 all revenues for the maintenance of the state, county, municipal and district government throughout the state be raised by a tax on the value of land, irrespective of improvements. After March 1, 1935, it is proposed that the full real value of the land, irrespective of improvements, shall be taken in lieu of all other taxes.

The petition has been referred to Attorney General Van Winkle for the circulation of petitions for signatures.

GLEE GIRLS SOON TO LEAVE FOR BIG TOUR

The women's glee club of Willamette university gave the program at the chapel exercises Wednesday. The program was a preliminary announcement of the concert tour which they will begin early next week.

Nineteen women besides the accompanist and chaperon will leave Salem Sunday afternoon. The club will sing at the church service at the Methodist church at Silverton, Monday morning the club will proceed to Portland, where they will broadcast over KOIN in the morning and will give a concert at the Woodstock Methodist church in the evening. The itinerary includes Tacoma, Seattle, Bremerton, Everett and other cities in northern and western Washington. The club will return to Salem on April 3.

The direction of the club has been in charge of Marjorie Miller, who has taken an active part in work of the club during her three years at Willamette university. The trip is managed by Katherine Everett, Grace Henderson of Salem is accompanist and will present piano solos on every program.

GIRL HORN-TOOTERS SEEKING UNIFORMS

The Salem high school girls' band, which has been making it a fun while doing much practicing, has just been donated $50 by Miss Sally Bush, and with this sum as an encouraging nest egg is making a quiet canvass for an additional $150 with which to purchase uniforms.

Prof. O. F. Tayer is directing the 25 girls of the band. This is
