Supply of Vegetables is Now Steadily Increasing

Supply of fresh vegetables on the Salem markets grows larger daily, with a car of cabbage from Texas the latest arrival. The new cabbage arrived Thursday and will be in use in Salem homes almost immediately. Demand is growing better right along.

Market quotations took several changes during the week, with new prices listed from the wholesalers on: Pitted dates, a drop of 25 cents to $4.50; Yakima gems, No. 1 variety, a drop of 25 cents to $1.25; California new peas, up two cents to 20 cents; cauliflower up 10 cents on the crate to $1.85; Mexican tomatoes, up 50 cents on the lug to $5.00.

Oranges have taken another drop on the medium and smaller sizes, with the following quotations effective: 150's, $5.50; 176's $4.50; 200's, $4.00; 216's, $3.50; 252's, $3.25; and 288's, $3.25.

The onion market is unstable, with growers who held their old crop unloading. Wholesale figures on No. 1's is now $4.50 one hundred; on No. 2's, $3.50; and on local holling, $3.50.

Rhubarb is up, too, with the new price 50 cents higher than the old all around. Quotations range from $3.25 to $3.25. Little local rhubarb is offered as yet.

Imperial valley lettuce has also shot upward with practically the only variety leaving the wholesalers now that at $4.25.

New potatoes are quoted at the same as a week ago, 17 cents.
