Senior Class Big—The first check of seniors who will be eligible for graduation this June was completed Wednesday by Principal C. Nelson, with 367 names on the preliminary list. This is 11 more than were graduated last year, but since less than the better class of 376 which finished three years ago this spring, Mr. Nelson believes the graduates will number a few more than the present list indicates, as there are usually additions to the first list. There is an even chance that the graduating class this year will be the largest in the history of the school.

Science Club to Elect—The new science club at the senior high school will hold election of officers during the activity period this morning. Officers will be chosen from this list: Forrest Holaday, Fred Blatchford and Harold Rhoten, presidential nominees; Gertrude Winslow, Helen Childs and Sylvia DuBoise, secretary; and Richard Baker, Rufus Frank and Charles Newberry, treasurer. Mrs. Taberner is faculty advisor with the club membership numbering nearly 40 students.

Principals to Meet—Principals of the Salem schools will meet at 2 o'clock at the senior high school Thursday afternoon, and at the same hour junior high school supervisors will meet in room 203. The supervisors' meeting has been set ahead a half hour from its customary time. At members' as well as the regular class attendants will meet for Superintendent George W. Hug's class in Curriculum Making.

Claim Sued For—Alleging that the state industrial accident commission unjustly turned down his claim against it after he had been injured in an accident, Abel Charpillo began action against the commission in circuit court here Wednesday. The accident in question took place near Silverton October 24, 1927. His claim against the commission was rejected December 4 of last year. Bill Edgecomb was his employer.

Lial Committed—John G. Lial, a Portuguese from Las Vegas, Nev., who was arrested on State street Tuesday night after a struggle with the police, Wednesday was adjudged insane and was committed to the state hospital. No word has been received in reply to telegraphic inquiries addressed to officials at Las Vegas.

Planning Program—All departments of the First Methodist church Sunday school are preparing plans for an Easter morning program to be given in the church auditorium between 10 and 11 o'clock Sunday morning. The public is invited to the program. Departmental superintendents are in charge.

Mrs. Dumlér Improving—Mrs. Alden Dumlér, 757 Center street, continues to improve. Her health following two major operations performed several weeks ago at a local hospital, while her strength has not entirely returned, she is able to be up and about the house.

Compete in Eugene—Amateur and novice teams from the local high school typing classes were in Eugene Wednesday to compete with Eugene high school typists in a contest preliminary to the state typing contests held each spring on the state college campus. Those making the trip were: novices, Edna Paxson, Dorothy Klopping and Margaret Wilson; amateurs, Dorothy McCracken, Louisa Bickel, Lella Fox and Wilma Taylor, and Miss Muriel Willis, faculty member and advisor.

May Use Airplane—Not only special runs on the railroad and an automobile caravan will be arranged to take Rotarians to the district convention at Vancouver, B. C. in May, but a special airplane trip will be arranged if necessary to convey those who must remain in Salem until just before the convention opens. It was stated at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday by George Arbuckle, chairman of the "On to Vancouver" committee. The convention dates are May 6, 7 and 8.

Morris to Address Pupils—Dr. Henry Morris will address the junior chamber of commerce at the senior high school this Thursday morning as a part of the club's program to bring outside speakers before the school body. All commercial students may attend the meeting. The silver cup given annually to the commercial student held to have developed his character most in the year is a gift of Dr. Morris.

Chautauque Backed—The executive committee of the Ladies Aid of the First Methodist church has undertaken to act as a committee to obtain support for the Hillson White chautauque, to be held in Salem next summer. Report to this effect was given out Wednesday night. A number of tickets have been sold, it was stated, but it will be necessary to sell more if the success of the affair is to be assured. Mr. French, representing the chautauque, is in Salem this week and is stopping at the Argo hotel.

Gives Demonstration—W. H. Arbury of the Eastman Teaching Films, Inc., gave a demonstration moving picture Wednesday morning to Miss Julia Phillip's physics students. A second demonstration was given the commercial geography class taught by Miss Helen Richards.

Salem Kiwanians Win Favor With Banquet Stunts

Salem Kiwanians fairly took down the house Tuesday night at a banquet held in Portland, several local members reported Wednesday. With F. Veimore Burrill, "king of dolls" as chief entertainer, the visitors from this city were outstanding contributors to the evening's entertainment. Special songs prepared for the delegation, were sung, inviting Portland Kiwanians and their guests to come to the convention in Salem this summer.

Pajo Moon ginger ale, furnished by the Gideon Stols Co., was given each of the men and ladies attending the banquet while corsages of violets and narcissus were furnished the ladies by the Salem club members.

PRESIDENT DISLIKES ADDRESS IN PUBLIC

Robert Littler Says Radio Speech Preferred by Mr. Hoover

Fry Nominated For Rotary Head; Election in April

Local Club Men Invited to Help In Pedee Affair

WEST SALEM, March 27.—President Hoover is a master of efficiency but as for public speaking... well, it's just one of those things the chief executive doesn't like to do. Over the radio the job is not so bad, but out in the open with an audience to confront, the president finds the job of putting his thoughts across orally a trying ordeal.

Such is the opinion of Robert Littler, former Salem youth now a senior in law at Stanford and a prominent worker in the republican campaign in California last fall.

Trics to Get Wm's Help
"After Hoover was elected a large group of his friends went up the hill back of Palo Alto to persuade the president at his home," Littler recounted Tuesday speaking to local friends. "Hoover came out on the porch to greet. He asked his wife to make the talk but she put it up to him, saying he was the president now."

"Actually Hoover looked as though he would rather have given up ten years of his life than make the talk. As it was he said two sentences and that was all. When he does make a formal address, it is always with the aid of a carefully prepared manuscript to which he confines himself very closely."

Mr. Hoover's son, Herbert, was a close acquaintance of Mr. Littler's while the two men were in Stanford. The son is a well trained engineer and is especially well informed in the field of public utility.

Service Men to Aid 'Y' in Boy's Conference Here

Members of the service clubs in Salem are being asked to assist in the older boys' conference at the Y. M. C. A. here this week, by attending the banquet Saturday noon, it was stated by W. L. Phillips at the Rotary club luncheon Wednesday.

The plan is that each service club member who finds it possible to attend, will take some boy attending the conference to the banquet, and that so far as possible, a boy will be assigned to each business man, who is interested in his particular type of work.

Members of the nominating committee were Max Page, Fred Thielsen and W. M. Staley. The election will be held at the last meeting in April.

For president, Dan J. Fry; for vice president, W. H. Dancy; for secretary, Eric Butler; for treasurer, William Waiton; for directors, E. L. Weider and W. L. Phillips.

Members of the nominating committee were Max Page, Fred Thielsen and W. M. Staley. The election will be held at the last meeting in April.

Ralph Cooley, president of the Salem Kiwanis club, was invited Wednesday to bring several members of the local organization to Pedee Friday night to assist the Dallas Kiwanis club in its staging of a program in that community. Cooley accepted the invitation of the Dallas men but was not decided yesterday afternoon on the men who would make the trip.
