80th Anniversary Occasions Many Calls

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jones of Brooks were given a reception at their home, Labish Meadows, Friday, March 29. Friends of the family extending to three generations, neighbors and business friends from Salem, Woodburn, and Portland, called during the afternoon and evening on the occasion of Mr. Jones' eightieth birthday anniversary. This eminent pioneer was one of a family of thirteen children born to Mr. and Mrs. S. R. W. Jones who crossed the plains with nine children by ox team from Indiana in 1842. Four children were born in Oregon. Only four are survivors. The youngest son, Scott Jones of southern Oregon, Mrs. Sarah Clark of Portland, and Mrs. Emma Simmons of Woodburn, besides Mr. Jones are the four. The family came through to Oregon, and first settled on, and acquired, the "Nook" section land claim between Gerwals and Brooks near Florence, Oregon, where they became extensive land owners, holding nearly seven thousand acres.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Jones are possessed of a family of six children, nearly all present at the anniversary. They are Ronald, Eugene, Gertrude Moore and Mabel Cannon of Portland, Ilda Wytlicombe at Arlington, and Clara Gray at Redlands, Calif. There are ten grandchildren living at present.

There was a constant stream of callers all the afternoon and evening and the guests were hospitably entertained with a bevy of daughters and in-laws under the leadership of Mrs. Jones who was very proud to help in the entertainment in honor of her still active and courteous octogenarian bridegroom of the early pioneer days.

Public officials and bankers came to pay tribute to one of the oldest still hustling tillers of the soil, who began many years ago to plant the seed of civilization in Labish meadows and lived to see four hundred acres converted into the highest intensified agriculture. Mr. Jones served as a member of the house of representatives with credit and felt highly honored to have been named in the program of the state fair board under Governor Wytlicombe. He took the greatest pride of his life in serving as a plain tiller of the soil, and in 1923 took pleasure in erecting a commodious and beautiful home for his family at Labish. — Col. E. Heter.

The order of Rainbow Girls of Chadwick Chapter Assembly will hold a special meeting at 12:15 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Masonic Temple in regard to the funeral service for "Vivian Fleener" who was a member of the order.

Former Salem Girl has Afternoon Bridge Compliments Mrs. Jones

Mrs. Genevieve Howard, former Salem girl and for eight years a pupil of Professor Hans Seitz, has attained a signal success in Portland opera. Mrs. Howard entered a contest offered by the Bruce Knowlton Opera company of Portland and was given the Santuzza role in the recent production of Cavalleria Rusticana. In referring to her work in this role the Oregon Journal spoke of her as a second Rosa Raisa. Her fame was instantly established in the Portland music circles and she was engaged to sing the leading role in the coming premier presentation of E. Bruce Knowlton's new western opera, "The Woodman." This production is to be staged under the dramatic direction of Paul Bjornskold at the Portland Masonic Temple Thursday evening, April 4, with a company of distinguished artists.

A chorus of fifty have been rehearsing the ensemble parts for the past six months and twenty-fourteen from the Portland symphony will play in the production. The other members of the cast are Paul Bjornskold, Stephen the Woodman; J. McMillan Muir, tenor; Guy Raven Devon; Virginia Hutchingson, Madam Devon; Herman Hauner, Henry, who is Moss's woods lover; Genevieve Howard, Mona, the Woodman's daughter; S. E. James, doty old Raven Devon; and Everett Craven, the friend of Guy Devon. Mr. Craven is also well known in Salem musical circles.

E. Bruce Barton will conduct the performance and Dad Watson, exponent of the old-time dance, has arranged the country dances.

Mrs. Victor Hostess To Bridge Club Group

Mrs. E. A. Victor entertained her bridge club Thursday afternoon in the Victor home on Wilbur street. Easter lilies and daffodils were used to carry out the Easter motif.

The members of the club group present included Mrs. R. E. McNulty, Mrs. W. L. Grey, Mrs. C. E. Hultenburg, Mrs. J. V. Schur, Mrs. F. M. Fleming, Mrs. Russell Woodry, Mrs. L. M. Fleming and the hostess, Mrs. Victor.

Mrs. L. A. Baisdel was a special guest for the afternoon. High score prizes were awarded to Mrs. McNulty and Mrs. Woodry.

Mrs. DeLap and Mrs. Ashby entertained the "Orchard Heights" club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. DeLap.

The short business meeting, presided over by the president Mrs. Ella Gibson, was followed by a social afternoon. Some sewing was done for the needy.

The next meeting will be held April 11 in the Oak Grove garage hall and will be an all day meeting with pot-luck dinner. The time will be spent in quilting for Mrs. Farmer and Mrs. John Simmons.

Special guests for the afternoon were, Mrs. Putman, Mrs. Cass Riggs and Miss Alice Riggs. Members present were Mrs. C. H. Fisher, Mrs. Bernam Southwick, Mrs. Frank Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Mrs. Fred Gibson, Mrs. Will McDowell, Mrs. Eugene Southwick, Mrs. Roy McDowell, Mrs. Ed Reed, Mrs. Grace Bliss, Mrs. John Simmons, Mrs. Inobel Falk, Mrs. Frank Farmer, Mrs. Will Knower, Miss Helen Bliss, Miss Mary Waite, Mrs. Cash Roberts and the hostesses, Mrs. DeLap and Mrs. Ashby.

Mrs. Knower, Miss Irene Knower and Miss Ruth Farmer assisted in serving delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pailletter entertained a group of friends at a card party in their home Thursday evening. Honor for high scores of the evening spent in playing "500" were awarded to Mrs. W. G. Lee and Mr. Abbott. Second awards went to Mrs. Charles Campbell and John Sande.

Miss Gladys McIntyre, former soloist at the First Methodist church, will be in Salem during the Easter holidays to visit with her mother, Mrs. Ora F. McIntyre.

Afternoon Bridge Compliments Mrs. Jones

An attractive affair of Thursday afternoon was the afternoon bridge party at which Mrs. Ellis Cooley entertained for her mother, Mrs. Seymour Jones, who is moving to her country home on the River road soon. A dainty Easter motif was carried out in yellow and white with dainty arrangements of daffodils, sprigs and rascals, and with the cakes and loaves.

Two tables of bridge formed the diversion of the afternoon for the guest of honor, Mrs. Jones, and for Mrs. Alton D. Hurley, Mrs. L. E. Bean, Mrs. U. C. Shipley, Mrs. John H. Scott, Mrs. Hal D. Patton, Mrs. E. E. Bragg, Mrs. John H. Albert and Mrs. Charles K. Spaulding.

Mrs. Mauk Entertains Birthday Club

Mrs. Elmer Mauk entertained the South Salem Birthday club in her home Thursday afternoon. A feature of the dinner which was served at noon was the attractive birthday cake. The afternoon was spent with needle-work and conversation.

The club group included Mrs. Howard, Mona, the Woodman's daughter; S. E. James, doty old Raven Devon; and Everett Craven, the friend of Guy Devon. Mr. Craven is also well known in Salem musical circles.

E. Bruce Barton will conduct the performance and Dad Watson, exponent of the old-time dance, has arranged the country dances.

Mrs. Logan Hostess Honoring Mrs. Lange

Complimenting Mrs. F. W. Lange, Mrs. C. K. Logan entertained at bridge in the Logan home on Judson street Thursday afternoon.

In the group were the honor guest, Mrs. Lange, Mrs. Willard Wirtz, Mrs. Harold Hughes, Mrs. D. X. Beecher, Mrs. E. J. Huffman, Mrs. Gardner Knapp, Mrs. A. E. Robins, and the hostess, Mrs. Logan.

High score award of the afternoon which was won by Mrs. E. Lange was presented by the group. Mrs. Huffman won the second prize.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters MD. Author of "Diet and Health" and "Diet for Children."

Tuberculosis and Sunlight
 "My mother, aged 59 years, has tuberculosis of the knee. We want to know if putting her on a diet would cure it."
 "M."

The right diet is a valuable part of the treatment of any disease, but it is only curative, so far as we know now, in the diseases that are caused by deficient diets. M. However, it is beginning to be believed that tuberculosis is partly due to deficient diet, for it has been found that those who suffer from this disease not infrequently have for a long period of time been on a diet that has been lacking in vitamin A, which is so necessary for the integrity of the mucous membranes of the body.

Tuberculosis of the joints, glands and skin comes under the heading of surgical tuberculosis. Formerly it was thought that only surgery was curative. But we now know that the ultra-violet rays of the sun, and the air are also curative. At Rollier's institute in the Swiss Alps, where the air is pure and rarified, and the full benefit of the ultra-violet rays of the sun can be had, it is the only method of treatment besides the strappings to correct positions, etc.

If your mother would consult a tuberculosis specialist, he would undoubtedly have her expose her knee and leg to the sun and air every day, beginning with a few moments a day, and gradually increasing the area exposed and the time of exposure.

Some cases of lung tuberculosis are also treated by sunlight and the artificial ultra-violet rays, but not all of them. Only the physician who has charge of the case would know whether the particular case is the type that would be benefited or not.

We have an article on tuberculosis which takes up the diet, which you may have by following column rules.

"I wrote to you several months ago and asked you to write on the cause of a fungus skin disease of the hands, which is made worse by washing in soap and water. I have failed to see any response to my question. Dear Dr. Lulu Peters, have you forgotten me?" P."

No, dear P., but there are so many questions to answer! However, before this appears, I hope you have realized that the only sensible thing to do is to go to a skin specialist for a diagnosis and proper treatment, for no physician can give this without a personal examination. All I can do is to give you some general directions for ringworm, which is a fungus growth and may be your trouble, for it not infrequently attacks the hands, especially around the fingernails.

HOSIERY and FLOWERS

Most any antiseptic lotion or ointment will cure ringworm, if it is persistently applied. The part must be scrubbed with hot water and soap to soften and remove the scales, so the medication can penetrate and kill off the little plants. If temporary disfigurement is of no concern, iodine is one of the best applications. For children, this should be diluted one-half with alcohol. Jackson states that three to five grains of bichloride of mercury to the ounce of water is one of the best applications for adults. Sometimes one application will affect a cure. Sulphur ointment, ammoniate of mercury ointment, and many others are used.

Occasionally ringworm may be quite stubborn, and even after it is cured, there will appear a new crop.

Editor's Note: Dr. Peters cannot ignore, nor give personal advice. Your questions of general interest will be answered in the columns in turn. Requests for articles must be accompanied by a fully self-addressed, stamped envelope and 2 cents coin for each article, to cover cost of printing and handling. For the pamphlet on reducing and gaining, 15 cents in coin, with fully self-addressed, stamped envelope, must be enclosed with your letter. Dr. Peters, in care of this paper.
