

Armory Fight Card Tonight Full of Potential Knockouts

BIG BOYS MAY PILFER SHOW

Jefferson Battering Ram Pitted Against Robert Kelly of Salem

TONIGHT'S FIGHT CARD
Main event—Jack Kentworth, Salem, 147, vs. Chuck Borden, Eugene, 147; ten rounds.
Special—Frankie Britt, Salem, 137, vs. Roy Jacobs, Eugene, 137; six rounds.
Special—Russell Green, Salem, 117, vs. Del Farmer, Eugene, 117; four rounds.
Special—Cliff Wetzel, Jefferson, 185, vs. Robert Kelly, Salem, 182, four rounds.
Preliminary—Bob Kellogg, Salem, 155, vs. Carol Triggs, Salem, 155, four rounds.

Another fight card loaded to the guards with dynamite and potential knockouts, is on the bill for tonight at the armory, with distinct prospects that one of the earlier bouts may steal the thunder of the main event.

The scrap most likely to accomplish this is the heavyweight event which comes second on the program. This boy Cliff Wetzel of Jefferson demonstrated on the last card that he has a tremendous wallop filed away for use at the opportune moment. He used it on a tall lad named Lewis, from Albany, and when it landed Lewis simply wilted to the canvas.

Fans Back Kelly Robert Kelly of Salem, who will try his mettle against Wetzel, is reported to be equally ready with the heavy artillery, and fans who have seen him work out say he even has an edge on the Jefferson mauler, although it wouldn't be safe to mortgage the old home-stand to back either fighter, with a knockout the almost certain conclusion.

But the big boys will have a harder time eclipsing the main event this time, for there's no chance of it being the "du" that the last one turned out to be.

Fans here are convinced by this line that Jack Kentworth carries a wallop that will floor any fighter of his weight, provided Jack is able to land it in the right place; and he showed plenty of talent along that line last Wednesday, when he dropped Red Hayes to the canvas early in the fight by swinging a glove in Hayes' direction.

Borden Hard to Hit But Borden, veteran of many fights in and around Los Angeles where he met and vanquished the best scrappers in his division, is scrapping to his heart for Kentworth to hit than was Hayes. The Stayton boy is a fighter, and never has been a boxer. His style is to trade blows, and the trouble last Wednesday was that the blows he got were more than he could stand up under.

Borden is trained to take care of himself; he is a finished boxer, yet has a long string of knockouts to his own credit and is capable of unhooking one more any time the opportunity shows. There are only three apparent possibilities; a knockout either way, or a decision for Borden.

The rest of the card is up to standard or a little better; Frankie Britt, originally a Salem boy, comes back to match fistieuffs with Roy Jacobs, talented Eugene scrapper; Russell Green of Salem is matched with Del Farmer of Eugene, and Bob Kellogg and Carol Triggs, local 155 pounders, will mix in the first preliminary.

BABE PICKS 'EM UP; LAYS 'EM DOWN

There may not be anything startling in the photo of Babe Ruth, Behemoth of swat, socking one out of the lot at the Yankees' training camp in St. Petersburg, Fla., but the ones showing him daintily dropping a tantalizing bunt in front of home plate and of draping his Ruthian form in front of a red hot shot from third base while playing first shows him in unusual roles

Johnny Beck is Showing Up Well With Portland Team

Information in more detail on the showing made by Johnny Beck, former Salem pitcher, in his second attempt at Coast league pitching Wednesday for the Portland Beavers, indicates that aside from a little wildness, he did remarkably well for a "rookie."

In the two innings that he pitched, he allowed no hits and no runs, but handed out five free passes; and he was taken out at the end of that time, not because he wasn't handling the Sacramento batsmen satisfactorily, but to make room for a pinch hitter. A couple of other Beaver pitchers had shown the same tendency to wildness that day, so it may have been an epidemic; but fans

MISSING ESTATE IS AGAIN IN LIMELIGHT

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 4.—(AP)—The "missing" Mark Hopkins estate was in the limelight again today when attorneys argued an appeal before the United States circuit court for a bill of equity to permit presentation of evidence which they claim would prove existence of some $150,000, 000 undistributed assets.

Several hundred persons throughout the United States claim to be heirs of the early Californian, who left a fortune of some $20,000,000. This was dis-putedly "hidden assets," held in the Wells Fargo bank and Union Trust Co. and the Crocker First National bank of San Francisco, and the California National bank, of Sacramento, persons claiming to be heirs to obtain possession of these assets.

Hunt C. Hill, representing attorneys who in turn represent the so-called heirs, presented the argument today, claiming the district court erred in granting the banks a motion to dismiss the bill of equity.

Charles H. and Howell Lovell, attorneys representing Timothy Hopkins, one of the defendants and the banks, submitted their arguments on briefs.

Students Are Still Seeking Bagshaw's Scalp

PROPOSAL ASKS ISSUE SETTLED

Board Puts Proposition up to Deans; Details Are Not Made Public

SEATTLE, Wash., April 4.—(AP)—The war against Enoch Bagshaw as head football coach at the University of Washington smoldered on the campus tonight, a student board of control meeting called for tonight to deal with negotiations over the football coaching situation was indefinitely postponed. It was understood that a committee of deans delegated by President M. Lyle Spencer was considering a proposal of the student board which was intended to settle the question satisfactorily for everyone.

A committee of four members of the board of control was appointed last winter after the student body was blocked by the faculty athletic committee and Dr. Spencer in its attempt to oust Bagshaw. A compromise proposal worked out by this committee was turned over to the three deans. The board meeting had called for tonight to consider the reply of the deans but was postponed when it was learned the deans were not ready to answer.

Dr. Spencer tonight intimated that he would take no action in the matter and that David Thomson, dean of faculties, Frederick Paulford, dean of the graduate school, and William Schweppe, dean of the law school, were free to use their own discretion.

All of those involved refused to discuss either the new proposal or its status.

TEN BOYS ORGANIZE CAMPING CLUB HERE

Ten boys, former campers at the Y. M. C. A. summer camps, organized Thursday night into the Campers' club. Their first overnight hike will be April 26 and 27 to the Paul Wallace farm in Polk county, where they will have a large campfire and many games.

Officers elected are Lin Heise, president; Irving Hale, secretary-treasurer; and Junior Devers, sergeant at arms. Advisors will be Dwight Adams and Ivan White of the Y. Staff.

Other members of the group besides the officers are Hugh Adams, Phil Brownell, Bob Brownell, Harold Peters, Jim Fehon and Fred Hageman.

Circulation Men Going to Meeting At Albany Soon

Gus Hixon, circulation manager of the Oregon Statesman and W. A. Scott, circulation manager of the Capital Journal, will represent these newspapers Monday and Tuesday, April 8 and 9, when the Pacific Northwest Circulation Managers' association has its annual meeting. Albany will be host to the members this year.

Net Entries Accepted in Local Meet

Threatening skies and an unfavorable weather forecast caused the tournament committee of the Salem Tennis association to postpone until 6:30 o'clock tonight the closing of the entry list in the spring tournament. Entries were at first announced to close Thursday night at 7:30, but since it appeared certain that no play would be possible today, the time for entries was extended.

Both singles players and doubles teams must sign up by tonight in order to get into the tournament. Even if the weather forecast is still unfavorable, the time for making entries will not be further extended, as it is necessary to get the tournament under way Saturday if at all possible.

If weather permits, all of the matches will be played Saturday and Sunday.

Entries may be filed by calling Ivan White, or left for him at the Y. M. C. A.

DAIRY AND ROTH'S QUINTETS WINNERS

The Salem Sanitary Dairy won three straight games from Montgomery Ward Thursday night in Business Men's league play on the Winter Garden alleys, and the Roth Grocery team won two out of three from Stiff Furniture.

| Oakland | 5 | 4 | 556 | Sas | .333 |

SAN FRANCISCO, Apr. 4.—(AP)—The Missions nosed out the San Francisco Seals, 6.5 today in a hard fought game that was decided in the eighth when the former scored three runs. The Missions tied the count on hits by Boone and Hunt and a sacrifice, while Deacon Jones, relieving Couch on the mound for the Seals, allowed the winning run with a bad throw home. Thurston, L.F. of the Seals, was the leading hitter with a homer, double and two singles in four times at bat. An added feature came in the fifth when Smead Jolley, Seal right fielder who led the league in home runs and hitting last year, struck out with the bases full.

OAKLAND, Cal., Apr. 4.—(AP)—Oakland hammered four Seattle pitchers for 16 hits and a 9.6 win today. Seattle had two different leads but each time, heavy hitting by Lombardi, Frazier and Verges put the Oaks out in front. Verges, third sacker, hit a homer in the eighth after Ariett had tripled.

Scores Thursday night were:

METHODISTS PLAY CHRISTIAN QUINTET

Two of the teams considered contenders for the championship of the senior Sunday school basketball league will play tonight on the Y. M. C. A. floor, the first game beginning at 7:15. The third will be idle and the two will not get a chance at eliminating each other.

Contender one, First Methodist, will meet the First Christian quintet and expects a hard fight to keep its high place. The second game will be between the Presbyterian five, the other aspirant to honors, and the Jason Lee men, who aren't considered a set-up. Fruitland and Leslie will tangle in the third game, the west will be no less exciting than the other two.

K. O. Wizard

Jack Kentworth, Salem's favorite by reason of his knockout proclivities displayed last week, tonight he runs up against tougher competition in the person of Chuck Borden of Eugene, in the main event at the armory.

SILVERTON MEETS STAYTON HI TODAY

SILVERTON, April 4.—(Special)—The following schedule for the Silverton high school baseball team has been announced by Coach Delay:

April 5, Stayton at Stayton; April 12, Woodburn at Woodburn; May 7, Independence at Silverton; May 10, West Linn at West Linn; May 17, Woodburn at Silverton.

This schedule leaves a number of dates open which will be filled in as soon as the county league has arranged its program of games.

Although the Silverton boys have been greatly handicapped in not having a suitable diamond, a number of lettersmen are out to make the team as well as several new men who are promising. The following is the probable lineup:

Catcher, P. Relling; pitchers, Burch and E. Fox; infielders, Nuenberg, E. Miller, E. Johnson; Stayner, Weisner and Gibson; outfielders, Green E. Rutherford and W. Claus.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS BREAK ALL RECORDS

NOGALES, Ariz., April 4.—(AP)—Despite the revolutionary activities across the border in Sonora the past few weeks the United States customs house reported today that customs receipts are breaking all records. To date the receipts for the year beginning last July 1 are approximately $100,000 greater than at this time last year, with a total for the nine months of more than $1,250,000.

The increased receipts at this border port of entry were stated to be due to greatly increased production in the Mexican west coast agricultural sections of tomatoes and other fresh vegetables.

Elmer E. Stewart Opens New Realty Firm Across River

Elmer E. Stewart, formerly of Turner, announced the opening this week of the Tourist Realty Co. in West Salem. Stewart will own and manage the business but expects to have associated with him a number of salesmen.

A specialty will be made of tourist business. Stewart's plan being to see that every visitor in the city is contacted with the view of selling him property in Oregon. The business address of the new firm is 775 Edgewater street, West Salem.

Prior to his residence in Turner, Mr. Stewart resided in Stayton and before that in Amity. His family moved here with him and will reside in West Salem.

Petition Seeks To Vacate Part Of Local Street

Petition was filed in the offices of City Recorder Mark Paulsen Thursday, asking the vacation of Fir street between Front and Commercial. The petition recites that this street, although included in the original plat of the city, was never dedicated, accepted nor improved, and that the property has at all times since the plat was filed, been occupied by improvements. Vacation is asked in order to clear the record.

This street was laid out midway between Division and D, and extended for only the one block at this point, although there was an additional stretch in Kapp's addition, now called Willow street.

WOODBURN TO PLAY FRANKLIN HI TODAY

WOODBURN, April 4.—(Special)—After only a week of practice Woodburn faces its first scheduled game of the season with Franklin high school of Portland here Friday afternoon.

With eight lettermen from the championship team of last year, prospects for another good season are assured. Although Woodburn will have no chance for the county cup this year, due to its dropping from the league on account of difficulties arising over the entrance of junior high schools into the league, a schedule of twelve games with many of the strongest teams of the valley has been arranged.

The pitching duties will be handled by Hastie and Owens, both sophomores with excellent records from their first year. Bartos will be on the receiving end, while all other lettermen will probably hold their old positions. Only two positions are in doubt, those of center field and first base. Chapelle and Lemcke are being considered for the former, while Black and Gearin are making the strongest bids for the latter.

The probably starting lineup for Friday's game is as follows: catcher, Bartos; pitcher, Hastie or Owens; first, Black or Gearin; second, Mocheil; short, Winton Hunt; third, Gribble; left field, Willard Hunt; center, Chapelle or Lemcke; and right, Schooter.

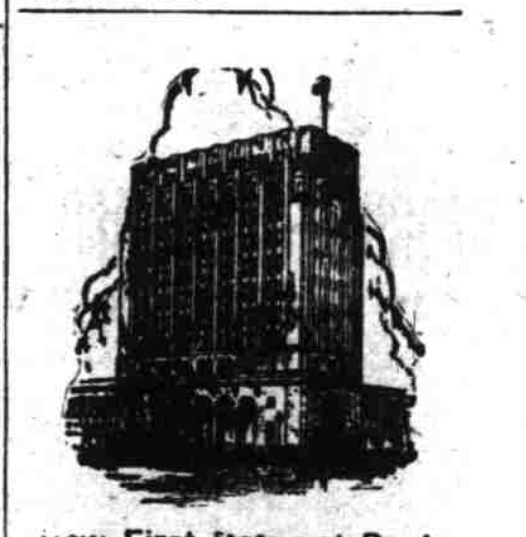

The season's schedule:

April 5, Franklin, here; April 12, Silverton, here; April 16, Franklin, there; April 23, Newberg, there; April 30, Independence, there; May 7, Newberg, here; May 7, West Linn, there; May 10, Gervais, there; May 14, Independence, here; May 17, Silverton, there; May 21, Gervais, here; May 24, West Linn, here.

COLLETT TO MEET VAN WIE, TENNIS

PINEHURST, N. C., April 4.—(AP)—Miss Glenna Collett, National women's champion and Miss Virginia Van Wie, Chicago star, will meet tomorrow in the finals of the north and south women's golf tournament.

Miss Collett today nosed out the plucky little Marion Turpie of New Orleans, one up in a thrilling match that was not decided until the 16th hole.
