Parrish Operetta Is Promising Affair

The annual operetta given by the music department of Parrish Junior high school will be presented Friday evening, April 12. The cast of 50 includes a chorus of Hawaiian girls and a boys chorus of pirates. They will be accompanied by the Parrish orchestra.

Helen Benner, as an American girl, and Bradford Lee, baritone, as an American lieutenant play the principal parts.

Miss Benner has a pleasing soprano voice, and as an American girl spending the winter in Hawaii, is sure to captivate the audience.

Win Jenks, tenor, the pirate chief, and Dorothy Ostland, contralto, provide the humor. Picturesque Hawaiian and pirate costumes have been made under the direction of Miss Herron, of the serving department.

Between acts Emmy Hobson will play a piano solo and serenade by Rachmanoff. Joyce Phelps will play a violin solo. These numbers will be supplemented by the orchestra.

The proceeds from the operetta will go to buy music for the music department and towards the fund for a new stage.

The cast follows: Dorothy Dear, Helen Benner; Miss Primer, Dorothy Ostland; Leahua, Doris Urub; Karniani, Arroyo; Costes, Wallace Beckett; Elvira Rosenthal, Loraine Leizer, Helen Miller, Arlo Adlard, Lloyd Townsend, violin, Harold Jepson, Crystal Dell, clarinet; Ennis Hannow, Clyde Wiegand, cornets; Evelyn King, Claudine Guffroy, saxophones; Wiens, baritone; Norman Fletcher, drums, Mildred White, piano.

She Knits and Knits

Lottie Summers

When they buried Lottie Summers' father in Confederate gray during the last days of the Civil war, she was six and friendless. Came a letter from the north to her home in Arkansas, and Lottie went to live in the Chicago Home for the Friendless. "I can knit," she said, proudly, "and I'll pay you-all for my keep." That was 64 years ago, and Lottie is still at the home and still knitting. Her work has found its way into "hope chests" and trousseaus of a thousand brides, but romance has passed her by and at 70, as at six, Lottie faces the world alone with her knitting.

Other officers elected in order are Mrs. Roy Burton, first vice president; Mrs. W. E. Feldman, second vice president; Mrs. M. B. Wagstaff, secretary; and Miss Gertrude Savage, treasurer.
