WILLAMETTE CITIES RESUME ACTIVITIES

 cussion of the problem that Salem is favorably inclined toward solution of the problem of disposal plant and that his attitude in the committee's discussion will be that of urging the other cities to do likewise as rapidly as possible.
 Appointment of this committee was the outcome of a stream pollution conference held on March 21 and 22 at Eugene. Mr. Williams has filed with the city council a report of the discussion at that conference, including technical addresses on the board subject of stream pollution.
 The Willamette river presents a particularly aggravated problem because of the many bays which exist along its course, these filling with water in the wet season. The water in these bays becomes stagnant and then seeps into the main current. Also there are a number of long narrow streams, of which Long Tom river is an outstanding example, which dry up in summer except for stagnant pools. When they resists come, this stagnant water is carried along into the Willamette river. Farms and pastures along these side streams add to the problem.
 It was brought out at the Eugene conference, according to this report, that the popular idea that a stream purifies itself within a given distance has been exploded. The foreign matter is merely diluted and partly oxidized.
 Sewage and industrial waste from the cities constitute another large factor in the pollution problem. It was brought out that there is not so much pollution just above Albany and above Salem as at other places along the river.

Headquarters Orders Big Assignment of Cars for National Guard This June

Seventy-two passenger cars, 17 baggage cars and 50 freight cars were ordered Saturday by Brigadier General George A. White, commander of the Oregon National Guard, for movement of the National Guard for participation in the annual federal camp of field instruction to be held at Camp Clatsop June 12 to 26. The movement to camp will be made in eight special troop trains and one special freight train.

Mr. Williams points out in his report that while municipal water supplies may be safeguarded by filtration and chlorination, pollution is a menace to the health of persons bathing in the river and boating along it, mentioning that sewage has been noticed at popular bathing places below Salem.

HOOVER OPPOSED TO EXPORT DEBENTURE

 chairman sent out the call for the Monday meeting.
 As a basis for his letter of opposition, Mr. Hoover had before him special reports prepared by experts of the agriculture, commerce and treasury departments as to the operations of debenture plans in other countries and the probable effect if put into force in the United States.
 McNary Mum On Action To Be Taken
 Senator McNary would not predict what action his committee might take in a height of presidential opposition, but he said his own position was unchanged; that he had said all along that if the plan met with executive disapproval he could not support it, as a protracted controversy over it in congress might seriously delay the whole program of relief legislation.
 The president's views on the debenture plan were sought by the committee late last week. Mr. Hoover then said he would obtain the opinions of the departmental experts and transmit them to the committee for its guidance. In the meantime, the senators included in the bill introduced by Senator McNary early this week a provision that the debenture plan might be put in operation by the proposed federal farm board upon the application of one or more farm cooperative organizations.
 Mr. Hoover in a statement yesterday urged the farm bodies to get together on measures of farm relief, and, although Mr. Taber declined to comment on his conference with the president, there was a more or less general impression that the suggestion had been made that his organization forego the pressing of the debenture proposal at this time.
 Upon leaving the White House the grange master did say that he expected "a good farm bill before the fourth of July."

 under all circumstances, but some quarters thought it was not inconceivable that he might request permission to enter in this exceptional case. Official circles, however, said that they were certain that the former Kaiser would not apply, for he did not when his first wife was buried at Potsdam.

 Among the many telegrams of condolence were messages from King George of England and the former crown prince of Germany.

MELLON DECLARED ENTITLED TO OFFICE

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—A decision on the right of Secretary Mellon to hold office was deferred again today by the senate judiciary committee, after it had received an opinion written by Attorney General Mitchell for President Hoover upholding Mellon, the propriety of his serving had been questioned on the basis of an old statute forbidding the secretary of the treasury to be interested in trade or commerce.
 Senator Reed, republican, Pennsylvania, an intimate friend of Mr. Mellon, said the attorney general's opinion before the committee along with a letter from the secretary stating that his sole business connections were those of a stockholder.
 The committee adjourned without fixing a time to discuss whether to proceed on the inquiry into Mellon's service, which was ordered by the senate in adopting the resolution of Senator McKeellar, democrat, Tennessee. Chairman Norris said there was no intention of calling Mr. Mellon, in view of his letter.
 Senator Norris said the question had narrowed to the proposition of whether a stockholder in business enterprises could serve as secretary of the treasury under the old statute now in effect. Senator Reed replied that if a stockholder could not be secretary of the treasury, every secretary for the last 100 years had served in violation of the law and it would be difficult to fill the post hereafter.
 The opinion of Mr. Mitchell came somewhat as a surprise. There had been no intimation that the president had asked for ruling.

BULLS OBTAIN LIGHT BACKING

Demonstration Staged Upon Stock Market But With Little Result

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP)—Bulls again staged a demonstration on the stock market in today's abbreviated session, but with the federal reserve advisory council's unexpected meeting in Washington, and the critical stage reached by the reparations conference, they were unable to attract a following.
 American telephone and Bethlehem steel were again sent up to new high prices, the latter in anticipation of the first quarterly earnings report next week. Bohn Aluminum and Foundation Co. also reached new high ground. Automotive equipments were sent soaring in buying expectations of big earnings from the record automobile output. Sparks Withington jumped more than 14 points to a new peak, and Borg Warner sold up over five.
 Merchandising shares were also in demand, Montgomery Ward, Woolworth, Sears Roebuck, Childs and Frank G. Shattuck making substantial gains. Some of the amusement shares were again well bought, Keith Albee preferred jumping five points on reports of expansion plans, Stanley Co. gaining on the minority exchange offer by Warner Brothers, and Warner Brothers jumping about six points. International telephone and United Aircraft were in good demand.
 Motors turned heavy, Graham-Paige dropping three points to 36, a new low for the year. Chrysler, Hupp, Marmon and General Motors sagged. Hudson and Packard were steady. Crex Carpet continued downhill, touching 26 1/8, in contrast to its recent peak of 57 1/8. Wright Aero lost two points, and Midland Steel products preferred made an extreme loss of 17.

STIMSON OPPOSES PHILIPPINE TARIFF

WASHINGTON, April 20.—(AP)—Secretary Stimson has informed the house ways and means committee that if proposed restriction of free sugar imports from the Philippines is carried out, it would be "inevitably interpreted as betrayal of trust by the United States toward a dependent people."
 The state department head told the committee that the proposed restriction was entirely unnecessary to protect American beet or cane sugar interest, as free entry of Philippine sugar into the United States "does not and can not affect the price of sugar in the American market."
 Mr. Stimson said the issue lies between Cuban and Philippine sugar rather than between Philippine and domestic sugar. He added that the present attempt to restrict sugar from the Philippines "comes directly from those interests which have invested in Cuban sugar."

BOURBONS MEET TO CONSIDER TROUBLES

NEW YORK, April 20.—(AP)—Leaders in the Democratic party met at dinner at the Ritz-Carlton hotel tonight to try to decide in secret what to do about the party's $1,500,000 national deficit.

John J. Raskob, Democratic national chairman, was host. He said it was an executive session and he indicated there would be no publicity about what happened. Besides discussing the deficit and means of wiping out the big debt they incurred last year while trying to elect Alfred E. Smith president, it was believed the leaders would discuss future policies of the party, but they were not talking about it—not for public consumption.
 Former Governor Smith's friends, W. F. Kenny and James J. Riordan and the members of the party's national executive and advisory committees were among the guests.
 Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt is a member of the executive committee, but he was not present. He went from Albany to Boston today to visit his sons at Groton and Harvard.
 Other members of the executive committee are former Senator Peter Goelet Gerry of Rhode Island, James J. Hoey, Lieutenant Governor Herbert H. Lehman, and Public Service Commissioner George R. Van Namee. Senator Gerry, Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi, Senator Millard E. Tydings of Maryland, J. M. Kremer of Montana, and James Shouse of Kansas are members of the advisory committee.
 So far, the chief contribution to pay off the deficit have come from sale of former Governor Smith's campaign book and in response to his radio appeal delivered a few nights after election. About $200,000 has been raised.
