Spring Fever

Sunshine at last—and Salem's little world shows the effect of it—leaves have bursted their wrappings, blossoms are in profusion and there is a lure in the air that calls to the beach, the mountains, the golf course, the tennis courts and the bridal paths. Salem folk are lucky who can within three easy hours humor any one of these calls. Already there are picnic parties, and on Friday the woman's semi-finals will be played off on the Salem golf course. There are riding parties from six A. M. on through the day, tennis tournaments, weekend beach parties, and for those who like the soft spring flower air of the drawing room there is plenty of interest. Parties last week were many. Mrs. Frank Spears and Mrs. Russell Catlin entertained with two afternoons; Mrs. F. E. Halik entertained with two afternoons; Mrs. Hollis Huntington had a luncheon bridge, and the Willamette university May Queen and her princesses were entertained with a formal tea at the Alpha Phi Alpha sorority house. Add to this the regular club parties, the plans for "good music week," "The Piper," and the auxiliary's work for "Hospital day" it must be said there is "spring fever" in the air true enough but socially it has none of the elements of ennui so often attributed to it.

Miss Miller Appears In Interesting Program

A program of unusual interest was given Friday evening at the Robert studio by Miss Mae Miller, organist of the First Christian church. Miss Miller was assisted by Ralph B. Patterson, pianist.

The studio was attractively decked with tulips, lilacs and apple blossoms. Guests were greeted at the door by the Misses Lolita and Lorita Robinson and Miss Edna Miller, sister of Miss Miller.

The varied program opened with the "Third Sonata" by Borowski, and "Dawn Enchantment" by Dunn, followed by "Ball's Little Road," and "Rock in De Win," by Nudlinger, sung by Mr. Patterson. The program continued with "May Time," by Lemare, "In Summer," by Stebbins, and "Sea Gardens" by Cooke, a group of organ numbers which were rendered in splendid style by Miss Miller. Mr. Patterson's other three numbers, "Invictus" by Hahn, "The Old Road," by Scott and "Schubert's 'Serenade,'" were greatly appreciated by the audience. The Serenade was especially beautiful with both organ and piano accompaniments played by Miss Miller and Prof. Roberts. The closing organ number, "Polonaise in C Minor" by Stebbins was a splendid climax to the program. Both artists were at their best throughout the evening and graciously responded to numerous encores.

The numbers selected brought out the beautiful tonal effects of Prof. Roberts' organ, especially the "Polonaise in C Minor" in which the powerful and majestic tones of the organ proved their true musical value.

Mrs. Fred Gordon Bridge Club Hostess

Mrs. Fred C. Gordon entertained the members of her bridge club in her apartment at the Glenora Tuesday afternoon.

The high score awards of the afternoon were won by Mrs. Vern Suko and Mrs. Stanley Burgess.

Among the guests who were present were Mrs. R. D. Woodrow, Mrs. Donald Madison, Mrs. R. O. Koepf, Mrs. Hal Wiley, Mrs. F. McGee, Mrs. Stanley Burgess, Mrs. Vern Suko and the hostess, Mrs. Gordon.

DuBois, Mrs. M. McDowell, Mrs. A. J. Nixon, Mrs. Will Hunt, Mrs. R. A. Erickson, and Mrs. E. B. Taylor. Tea was served from a service table centered with pannes.

Mrs. F. G. Franklin, read "Through California Art Galleries," a paper which she has only recently prepared, before the Englewood community club Saturday afternoon. In addition to this she gave the high lights of European galleries commencing with the lake region of England and tracing art and literature into Italy.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Molton Gathe will be dinner hosts today to Mrs. Virginia Bacon, Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Sackett, Dr. Henry Kohler, and Leland Chapin.

W. C. T. U. Convention Given in Resume

The recent Marion county W. C. T. U. convention which met at the Presbyterian church in Woodburn, transacted much important business under the able management of their president, Mrs. Sarah Oliver, who was also re-elected for the seventeenth time.

Department reports were given as follows: flower mission, Mrs. J. R. Presnal, evangelistic, Mrs. Nellie Gunning, publicly, Lena V. Robins, christian citizenship, Mary Charlton; legislative, Mrs. J. Nunn; child welfare, Mrs. A. H. Deane; constitutions, Mrs. J. Wilson; anti-narcotic, Mrs. Almara Reed; Sunday schools, Mrs. A. Hadley; circulation of official papers, Ora Bear.

The general reports showed a total active membership in the county of 239, with 23 honorary members, and all budgets paid in full.

Following the noon prayer, a delightful luncheon was served by the Woodburn women.

The afternoon session was opened with singing, followed by a memorial service conducted by Mrs. O. A. Condit, Mrs. Mary Brooks then placed upon the table, a beautiful bouquet of flowers in memory of the following: Mrs. Retta Pemberton, Mrs. Emma Hawkins, Mrs. Mary Newton, Mrs. Dorothy Clamp, who have gone to the Great Reward.

Mrs. Vern Bain, and Mrs. J. Hanson sang a duet, and kindly responded to encores. Mrs. Francis Swope, state corresponding secretary, gave a short talk.

A vote of thanks was extended Mrs. C. A. Swope for the efficiency with which she acted as manager of the White Ribbon Review. Resolutions were passed expressing appreciation to the various civic organizations and individuals whose assistance greatly aided in making the convention a success.

A separate resolution made the state of Oregon for the W. C. T. U. for the year in that it "urged clean, wholesome pictures, that will in no way reflect against home life, or prohibition law enforcement, and that the policy of education as to the bad effect of narcotics be promoted even as it had been against alcohol."

The next convention will meet in Salem next April.

Mrs. W. S. Foster was hostess Friday afternoon to the women of the Calvary Baptists Missionary society. Mrs. A. J. Nixon, Mrs. F. McGee, Mrs. Stanley Burgess, Mrs. Vern Suko and the hostess, Mrs. Gordon.

'Good Music Week' Show Sprightly Interest

"Music hath power"—to create more interest in a cooperative fashion "week" to be celebrated, than any such "week" so far observed. The first such observance was supposed to be of Western origin having its beginning in Boise, Idaho in 1919. Later in the same year Dallas, Texas, St. Louis, Missouri, and Sharon, Pennsylvania held music weeks. By 1925 the number of towns celebrating this week was 2,268.

In Salem every one is participating in some fashion either as a willing listener or an active assistant. The schools speak through Superintendent Hug, who says "the schools have always endeavored to give the student full encouragement in any and all lines of music endeavor." From the programs which they are offering and that in addition to keeping up full class work one may well believe the statement is according to facts.

Each school in town is planning something special. "Pinafore" will be presented by the high school students at the Grand theatre May 8. There will be a concert given by the graduating class of the Sacred Heart academy at St. Joseph's hall May 9. The Leslie Junior high school will present the opera "Bubbu" May 9. Concerts will be given by the Salem school bands. Parrish Junior will give two operettas "Rip Van Winkle" and "Hiawatha's Childhood" May 7. These are only a partial list of what to expect from the school.

From now on it will be the endeavor of this column to present individual programs which may be kept for reference as "places to go" during the weeks activities.

Mrs. Steusloff Will Be Hostess Tuesday

The Missionary society of the First Congregational church will meet at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. F. W. Steusloff in her home at 607 North Commercial.

The Rev. C. E. Ward will conduct the devotions. Leland Chapin, who but recently returned from the Orient, will be the main speaker of the afternoon. Mr. Chapin's subject will be "China," the Ladies Quartet will furnish special music for the afternoon.

The hostess committee includes Mrs. E. C. Charlton, Miss Edith Hazard, Mrs. John Bayne, Mrs. L. H. McMahon and Mrs. Steusloff.

Dumb Doras Guests At Evening Party

Mrs. Ed Kitchin and Miss Ruth Kitchin entertained the Dumb Dora club at three tables of "500" in the Kitchin home Thursday evening. After a few hours of cards, the hostesses served a dainty luncheon.

The guest group included Miss Jessie Starr, Miss Hope Divine, Miss Mildred Durgan, Miss Alta Simmons, Miss Anna McIntyre, Mrs. Arthur Jepson, Mrs. Harry Young, Mrs. Robert Ruback, Mrs. Carl Fisher, and Mrs. Harry Boles.

The high score awards of the evening were won by Miss McIntyre and Miss Divine.
