

Returns From Stayton Community Play Are Gratifying

CROWD PACKED TO SEE DRAMA

Play Shed Equipment is to be Purchased With Receipts of Affair

STAYTON, April 29.—The results of the entertainment put on by the P. T. A. were indeed gratifying. The high school auditorium was crowded both Thursday and Friday nights.

Ninety-four dollars was taken in on Thursday and $87 on Friday night. This includes the returns from the sale of candy.

The expenses are small so a worth while sum will be cleared for play shed equipment. The committee in charge of the entertainment was Mrs. H. A. Beauchamp, Mrs. G. F. Korinek and Miss Velma Strain and it was assisted by Floyd Crabtree, local P. T. A. president, and the men and women who appeared on the program and spent a great deal of time and effort in learning their parts.

The cast for "The Pot Boiler" was: Gun Mauney, Robert Woods, Floyd Crabtree, Ed. Pieser, Mrs. Ed. Pieser, H. C. Eggleston, Iva Reed, Raymond Spahol.

"The Zander-Gump Wedding" cast was: Mrs. H. A. Beauchamp, Richard Calavan, Ben Carlson, Leonard Lambrecht, Mrs. Robert Woods, John Thoma, Ted Taylor, Chris Neitling, Mrs. Frank Stupka, Mrs. Claude Lewis, Dave Johns, Darrel Lewis, Mrs. Frank Lesley, H. E. Tobie, Chas. Schmitt, Wendel Weddle, Pearl Phrason, Mrs. Claude Booker, Floyd Crabtree, Iva Reed, Birden Yeoman, Joyce Anderson, Geo. H. Bell, Harry Jones, Chas. Burnester, Raymond Spahol, Robert Woods, Miss Goode, Maxine Crabtree, Fred Davenport, Harry Stupka, Geo. Ferry, Mrs. Blanche Scranton, Mrs. Eva Humphreys, Frank Stupka, Claude Booker.

Directed by Miss Strain. Mrs. G. F. Korinek, accompanist.

On Thursday evening Mrs. Oids' orchestra consisting of about 16 pieces furnished excellent music and on Friday the Siegmund and Salsbury orchestra of six pieces did likewise.

R. G. Wood ably assisted by Wilbur Lesley put on a few minutes of magic that pleased the crowd between the plays.

Performance Creditable
Every person in the entertainment did his or her part in a very creditable manner. Of course some had a better opportunity for displaying their talents than others, but anyway the duet by Mutt and Jeff and the solo by Maggie Jiggs will not soon be forgotten. As one would imagine this "Zander-Gump Wedding" was a laugh from start to finish.

The "Pot-Boiler" while a farce required some dramatic acting and those taking part certainly gave the audience an idea of what they could do along this line.

It was indeed gratifying to all taking part in this entertainment to hear so many praises and also hear so many say "I would like to see it again tomorrow night."

The reading by Maybeth Stewart of Corvallis who won the declamatory contest in Linn and Benton counties and the accordion solos by Walter Dozier were very much appreciated.

It would take up too much space to give each person separately the praise to which they are entitled.
