Fresh Pineapples Reach Here
This Week; Prices on
Oranges Going Up

Oranges are going up; fresh pineapples have arrived; there is a temporary loose banana situation; strawberries are coming faster and dropping in price; grapefruit remains about steady and so do apples. And that's a bird's eye slant at the fruit offerings made by local merchants.

First pineapples were received the middle of this week, a shipment of five cases going to the stores readily enough. Demand is good so far. Top price per apple is 40 cents, with a few stores selling under that price. Apples shipped in are pretty green yet, and should be held a few days before the fruit is used.

Strawberries are offered in larger quantities, most of the shipments coming in fairly green. Prices range all the way from 15 cents a box to 30 cents a box. The retail quotation on the 20-box crates of Florina is $3.75, down 75 cents over earlier in the week. Florida grapefruit is offered in numerous sizes and prices, with a good fruit obtainable at two for 25 cents. The small seedless grapefruits are displayed in large quantities at five for 25 cents.

The tag end of the orange season is approaching and bringing with it the usual firmer tone on oranges. Valencia oranges will be offered in a few weeks. Orange wholesale quotations are up 50 cents over the earlier part of the week.

Apples are sorry offerings, unless one is purchasing the extra fancy grades. Fancy winesaps cost 40 cents a dozen, and with yellow Newtowns and fancy Romes constitute the apple variety.

An oversupply of bananas is responsible for a temporary drop in banana prices, with grocers selling Thursday as low as five pounds for 25 cents. These are, of course, fruit that is pretty ripe.

MISS CARNES GUEST AT MONMOUTH MEET

MONMOUTH, May 2.—Miss Myrtle Carnes of Stockton, Cal., was the guest of honor Saturday at a luncheon sponsored by the state council of the Oregon Kindergarten-Primary Educational Association. A highly moving program of diverse effort proved pleasing, as accompaniment to the courses.

Miss Ida Mae Smith primary supervisor at Monmouth, and president of the state kindergarten and primary clubs, graciously welcomed the guests, and Miss Nellie Casabere of Portland spoke on Kindergartens in Oregon. Musical numbers were a vocal solo by Mrs. Gertrude Whipple of Roseburg; and duets by Misses Mary Haller and Maurine Moore of Albany with piano accompaniment by Margaret Scruggs of Oregon Normal School. Miss Carnes was the closing speaker, bringing "Suggestions from California."

Increased Quantities of Vegetables Arriving Here Supplying Local Markets

More and more vegetables are stocking the Salem store windows, with the greater quantity rather than added variety giving a genuine spring appearance. Prices have remained fairly steady this week, although the larger offerings of local radishes and green onions have brought a lowering in these commodities. These sell at three bunches for 10 cents now, instead of 10 cents straight as heretofore. The quality is excellent and in most stores these are offered fresh daily from local gardens.

Pictures Of Goat Industry Planned

MONMOUTH, May 2.—Will Hudson, Seattle, Oregon, and Washington staff camera man for the Pathe' company, was the guest Tuesday of his cousin, Miss Daisy Buckner. Mr. Hudson was en route to Grants Pass to make a scenic film featuring Angora goats similar to some made by him last year on the farms of William Riddell and Sons and J. B. Stump and Sons, but relinquished the idea because so many local Angoras have already been sheared.

Mr. Hudson has made pictures for Pathe' in many sections of the northwest, including British Columbia, and was stationed in Alaska at the time of the Wilkinson flight to the north pole.
