

HEARINGS FOR MELLON URGED

Full Round of Argument Provoked When New Suggestion is Advanced

WASHINGTON, May 2.—(AP)—Suggestions for an open hearing on Mr. Mellon's right to serve as secretary of the treasury provoked a new round of discussion in the senate judiciary committee today but without results.

The question of procedure was raised after the recent introduction by Senator Walsh, democrat, Montana, of a deposition made by Mr. Mellon in which he testified as to his relations with the aluminum company of America. The dispute as to the propriety of Mr. Mellon's serving as secretary of the treasury which forbids the secretary of the treasury to be directly or indirectly interested in carrying on trade or commerce. Mr. Mellon has informed the committee that he is a stockholder in various enterprises.

Law Violated
Norris Declared

Because he is a stockholder, Chairman Norris says Mellon is serving in violation of the statute. It was argued by some committee members that the sole duty of the committee is to decide whether Mr. Mellon as a stockholder comes within the scope of the prohibitive statute.

Then Senator Walsh introduced the deposition given by Mr. Mellon and showing his interests in the Aluminum company while he was secretary of the treasury.

Senator Borah, republican Idaho, is one of those who maintain that this brings up a question on the observance of the law, and if it is to be pursued it should be done openly with full opportunity for the secretary to be heard.

Modern Woodmen Finish State Meeting With Big Initiation Ceremony Here

The Modern Woodmen of America wound up their quadrennial Oregon state camp in Salem Thursday night with degree work at the Fraternal Temple, a large class coming from all parts of the Willamette valley being initiated. In addition to the delegates from nearly all of the 109 local camps in Oregon, who were here for the banquet Wednesday night and the business meeting Thursday, many Woodmen from nearby cities attended the initiation Thursday night.

Mr. Mellon in a law suit last summer about the acquisition by the Aluminum company of America of a Canadian power development from the tobacco interests. In that deposition, Mr. Mellon told of a conference at his home here in 1925 with Mr. Duke about the Canadian power proposition.

Asked in the deposition about his interests in the Aluminum company, Mr. Mellon said:

Claims He's Been Out Of Touch Two Decades

"I should say for over 20 years at least I have not been in touch with the affairs of the business (of the Aluminum company). Other than occasionally seeing Davis when something would come up in conversation."

"But I was not generally consulted. Of course, if there was anything of importance in the way of policy or something that way I think I usually was, I was talking now of in the last 20 years."

"Did your brother continue so far as you observed in active participation in the affairs of the company or care of details?" Mellon was asked in the deposition.

"No to an extent he was familiar with what was going on but he was not at all active in the affairs of the company," he replied.

Mr. Mellon also went to Canada in 1925 in his interest as a stockholder regarding the Duke transaction.

William Harcombe of Dallas was elected consul of the state state camp at the Thursday morning session, and J. A. Wright of Salem was reelected state clerk. In accordance with regulations previously adopted, the state camp will be held in Salem hereafter, sessions being at intervals of four years.

Delegates chosen to attend the head camp at Chicago in June, were Stanley Crump of Multnomah county, Floyd D. Moore of Polk county, Henry Wendt of Lake county and J. R. Rees of Hood River county. Alternates were B. F. Vofsi of Multnomah, M. H. Kendall of Yamhill, George F. Hoover of Deschutes and William Grenbommer of Jackson.

Following the close of Thursday's business meeting, the delegates were taken on a sightseeing tour through Salem and the surrounding country. Cars for this trip were arranged by the Salem chamber of commerce. The business sessions of the convention were held at the chamber of commerce auditorium.

Kay Thinks Two Women Can Live As Cheap As One

In a statement made Thursday, Bernard Kay, Salem merchant, declared it was his opinion that two people can live as cheaply as one providing the two persons were women. "They can share the same room and in the present dieting craze, it costs no more for two than formerly was required by one," Kay stated. "As to clothes," concluded Kay, "we believe that values now are so reasonable that the two-for-one rule can apply here also."

MULTNOMAH JUDGE STATUTE ATTACKED

A referendum petition attacking the Multnomah county circuit judge law enacted at the 1929 legislative session, was filed in the state department here Thursday. The petition was filed by George Bylander and C. E. Yeager, both of Portland.

The referendum will be statewide in scope and will not be limited to the voters of Multnomah county, as indicated in some press reports. This was announced by the attorney general. The secretary of state asked the attorney general whether the preliminary petition should be accepted by his department or be filed with the county clerk of Multnomah county. The secretary of state was advised to accept and file the petition.

The completed petitions for the referendum must be filed in the state department by June 4 in case the measure is referred to the voters at the general election next year. The petitions will be circulated by Mr. Bylander, as soon as the attorney general has completed the ballot title.

While here Thursday, Mr. Bylander informed officials that an effort probably will be made to recall Gas C. Moser, Henry Corbett and J. O. Bailey, members of the state senate from Multnomah county. Bylander refused to divulge the names of the persons behind the recall movement.

Bylander said that the recall, if filed, would be based on the refusal of the three senators to vote for the Burdick home rule telephone bill. The bill passed the house at the 1929 legislative session, but was defeated in the senate.

Senator Milton Klepper of Multnomah county also voted against the home rule telephone bill, but the referendum will not be directed at him for the reason that he is not a hold over senator. Moser and Corbett were reelected at the last general election. Bailey is a new senator.

Dr. Estella Ford Warner, director of the Marion county child health demonstration, Thursday issued the following statement in approval of the visitations to local hospitals "national hospital day," to be observed May 12.

"Sunday, May 12 is 'national hospital day,' anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale. This is the day when people are urged to give thought to hospitals in general and if possible make a visit to their local hospital and learn all they can concerning it."

"The science of ministering to the sick has advanced in the most marvelous way during the past few years. It is directly reflected in the enormous increase in hospital buildings and equipment all over the world made necessary by the constantly increasing demand for the best in hospital service. The science of medicine and surgery is forging ahead at a tremendous rate. The standardized hospital has in no small measure aided these present day achievements. Attend the national hospital program on May 12 at the Salem general hospital."
