CHURCH CLUB PLANS COMMUNITY AFFAIR

The recently organized community club, sponsored by the Mill Street Methodist church, will hold its first public program and meeting Tuesday evening, May 14. A three-act mystery play, "The Stain on the Carpet," will be the main attraction, with reading and musical numbers rounding out the evening's entertainment. Girls who appear in the play are all under 15 years of age, and according to their coach, they are showing considerable talent and a great amount of imagination.

Children must be accompanied by adults but there will be no admission charged. It is purely a neighborhood gathering, with the prime object of a social get-together. The Junior group will attend this meeting instead of their usual party.

The Senior league will this week give the first public performances of the play on which they have been working for the past few weeks. The local folk are being assisted by the Rev. Henry C. Warber of Lyons and the Rev. D. George Cole of Brooks. The play "Neighbors" one of Zora Gales' most popular numbers, will be presented Friday, May 17, at the Brooks schoolhouse and Saturday May 18 at the Community hall at Lyons. It will be presented May 24 at the Mill Street church.

The play is being directed by the Rev. Patrik Dahlin and Mrs. Alta M. Gentry. Others taking part besides Mr. Warber and Mr. Coles are the Misses Esther, Mildred and Evelyn Erickson, Miss Svea Okerberg, Miss Idella Adams, and Miss Andrea Ipsen. On account of the time being given to this play the regular meetings for Monday, Wednesday and Saturday evenings are cancelled. Thursday evening May 16, the Ladies' Aid will hold a package sale at the church. After the sale of the packages there will be refreshments and a good social time.
