TONIGHT'S FIGHT CARD

Triple Main Event
Phil Bayes, 136, Salem, vs. Eddie Edleman, 136, Seattle; six rounds.
Jack Kentworth, 142, Salem, vs. Johnny Trambitas, 142, Portland; six rounds.
Pat Dundee, 145, Salem, vs. Frankie Britt, 142, Portland; six rounds.
Special Events
Lloyd Ambrose, 118, Salem, vs. Jackie Wattenberger, 118, Independence; four rounds.
Floyd Ambrose, 118, Salem, vs. Harry Savage, 118, Albany; four rounds.
Bob Kelly, 178, Salem, vs. Cliff Wetzel, 184, Jefferson.

The announcement of Tom Loutitt as the third man in the ring for all events, was all that was needed to make tonight's fight card outstanding in its promise of being one of the most interesting of the year. Loutitt knows the game from A to Z and his decisions don't go wrong once in a blue moon; but more important than either of those qualities is his faculty of making the fighters fight, whether they are naturally inclined that way or not.

There is little likelihood that Loutitt will have to prod any of the boys along tonight, for each bout will find a well known boy in at least one of the corners, and not one of them has ever quit. Phil Bayes has satisfied himself that he is in shape, and has announced to the wide world that there will be a knockout somewhere in his fight with Eddie Edleman. Local fans who saw Edleman fight in Portland Tuesday night report that he put plenty of action into his scrap with Jimmy Keyser of Seattle. It was a draw.

Jack Kentworth, local boy who is good showing in Portland Tuesday night against Frank Warneke. They went at a terrific pace for six rounds to a draw in the semi-final. Some fans may think two days' rest is not enough for Kentworth, but they aren't taking into account his youth and toughness. It's a safe bet that he will be at his best tonight against Trambitas. Kentworth has improved by leaps and bounds since Buck Perry took charge of his training.

The fans here are still a little skeptical about Pat Dundee, but they all admit he carries a vicious wallop. If Frankie Britt is going as he is used to travel in his former appearances here, he'll give Dundee little time to get set for those murderous uppercuts which caused Kentworth so much trouble in his first fight with the former Los Angeles scrapper.

There is a lot of interest in the four round bout between Bob Kelly of Salem and Cliff Wetzel of Jefferson. The blacksmith from the south end of the county packs dynamite in his right glove, and Kelly was a bit uncertain about standing up to it when they fought a few weeks ago. About toward the end of the fight Kelly gained more confidence and then he turned out to be faster than Wetzel. Tonight, if he keeps cool, he may outpoint the big fellow.

Salem High Grid Men are Progressing Well During Spring Practice Workouts

The introduction of spring football at Salem high school, practically an innovation in the realm of high school athletics, is proving a complete success, reports Hollis Huntington, coach-elect.

From 15 to 20 aspirants, including three lettermen, have been turning out regularly, and the work will continue until the boys get spring fever, the coach announced Wednesday. Fundamentals are being emphasized in these workouts.

This turnout is remarkably good considering that so many football men are prevented from turning out because they are engaged in spring sports. Huntington is hopeful that his football squad will be larger next fall than those of past seasons have been. Encouragement toward this end is provided by the better facilities made available through the improvement of Olinger field. Last season it was impossible to line up two elevens for scrimmages.

Brooklyn is Defeated 8 Tilts in Row

LOCAL PROTEST IS THROWN OUT

Fred Oass, League President
Holds Against Senators
in Baseball Row

The protest of the Salem club in the Oregon-Washington baseball league on last Sunday's game with Mount Scott, on the basis of a decision in the eighth inning when Coleman's hit was ruled out because Umpire Mason had called time, was overruled in a decision announced Wednesday by Fred Oass, president of the league.

"I looked this play up thoroughly and found no rule saying that the umpire could not call time out for this," Oass wrote in announcing his decision to The Statesman.

"However, before making a final decision I called in several men long identified with the game and totally disinterested persons, and they were of the same opinion as myself. One of the men whom I took into my confidence was none other than Judge W. W. McCredie, who I think all will agree knows baseball from all angles.

"It is very unfortunate that the thing came up and I will say that it frequently does. The same identical play came up in the opening game of the Pacific Coast league here when pitcher Knight was in the act of throwing the ball and one of the umpires called time. "My answer is that the protest is not allowed and I hope that my decision will cause no bitter feelings. I acted on the merits of the case and hope the Salem fans will feel that they were not legislated against."

Legion Nine Wins Again Wednesday

The American Legion baseball team in the Commercial league continued on its victorious way Wednesday night by taking the Papermakers into camp 9 to 0.

The losers threatened only once, in the last inning when Versteeg, the first man up, hit a three bagger. Schnelle, legion pitcher, fanned the next two men and the third went out on an easy chance.

The war veterans batted around in the first inning, forcing Lauderback to retire from the mound in favor of Odeans. That rally netted five runs, and two more were scored in the third frame, two in the fourth and one in the fifth.
