Louisiana Court of Impeachment Adjourns on Verge Of Colorful Trial

24 concurring in the motion to adjourn but deploring the attitude of fifteen Long supporters and expressing the opinion that it would be futile to proceed with the trial.

Court Dissolves Short Time After Noon

Thus shortly after noon, the court of impeachment dissolved by unanimous consent and the first impeachment attempt ever aimed at a governor of Louisiana was brought to a formal close. Adjournment was taken amid light hand clapping but most of the senators and spectators accepted the result in silence. While the senate court was adjourning, Governor Long was holding a levee in his office on the floor below the senate chamber surrounded by friends and relatives. His young wife came in, threw her arms around his neck, and then she phoned the news to their children in Shreveport. The governor was happy, calling out greetings to callers and signing his name for State's History Clones.

'Governor of Louisiana by the Grace of the People'

Stormy Chapter of Dropping of the impeachment charges turned the pages of probably the stormiest political chapter in the annals of the state. Governor Long became governor last May 21, just short of a year ago, as the youngest state chief executive in the United States. He went in on the support of a strong political coalition but a few months after taking office, some of this support began to slip away because of his political and personal actions and a few months ago the impeachment cry went up. This cry became louder when the governor called the legislature into extraordinary session on March 18 to put through an occupational tax on oil. Strong opposition developed to the tax, led by business organizations claiming it would drive industry from the state. Newspapers joined in the fray and demanded impeachment. Governor Long's spokesmen continued with the charge that it was opposed by the Standard Oil company of Louisiana.

The tax was defeated and the legislature turned swiftly to the business of impeachment. In a series of riotous sessions, the house of representatives voted on eight counts charging misuse of state funds, attempts to bribe legislators and to suppress the freedom of the press and general incompetency.

The freshmen and sophomore men's tug of war team will battle it out for supremacy at 11:30 at the same place. The sophomores declare that the story will be different from that event of last Tuesday when the yearlings pulled them into the race. The interested public is invited to watch all three events.

Charles Piper, Fox Movietone representative from Portland, says that news reel sound equipment has just recently been received in Portland and will be used in Salem for the first time Saturday. This equipment is mounted in a truck and synchronizes the sound recorder with the photographic equipment by means of long cables. Will Hudson of Seattle, a veteran among newspaper photographers, will be on hand to photograph these events for Pathé news reel. Both news reels are shown regularly at Salem theatres.

price paid for the armory, $25, which means also that there will be no additional expense for piano or extra seats.

Capacity of the theatre is 1400 persons, as against maximum of 1900 for the armory, however McFadyre assured the school heads that students could be allowed five tickets for commencement as usual and he would see that the crowd was accommodated.

When word of the change of time and place for graduation became known about the school, objections from the girls came forth quickly. Objections were on two grounds: that parents could not readily get away to attend a morning program and that the formal dresses already planned for the occasion would not be appropriate to a morning event. Inasmuch as artificial light will be used, the latter objection does not mean much. Principal J. C. Nelson said Wednesday afternoon. The principal pointed out that colleges and universities almost universally hold their commencement program in the morning, adding that there was little doubt that parents would fall to attend such an event at whatever time it might be arranged. Employers, he thinks, will readily grant parents or relatives permission to attend.

Some parental objection to the change was also heard Wednesday, both about the school and about the town. The "class" engaged commencement announcements read that the event will be held at the armory Friday evening, but were received, of course before the change was made.

Plans for seating have not been worked out, but it is probable the 27 members of the class will occupy the center lower section of the theatre and the suggestion has been made that faculty members be seated on the stage. One of the chief problems which remains to be settled is where the class will meet to march to the theatre, as there is not enough room for them to assemble there.

Hagen Loses But Leo Diegel Wins At Golf Tourney

MOORTOWN, Eng., May 16.—(AP)—Walter Hagen fell today, but Leo Diegel sprang forward to grasp the banner of leadership in the battle for International professional golf honors over the Moortown course.

Supreme in the medal play of the qualifying rounds, Hagen found a match play conqueror in his old rival, George Duncan, in the first elimination test of the thousand guineas tournament. It was the second time the famous American tasted defeat at the hands of the Briton over the same course within the month.

COMMENCEMENT IS SLATED JUNE 8 TO 10

Elaborate Program Planned At Willamette University This Year

Willamette university commencement activities will take place the week-end of June 8-10. Saturday, June 8, will be the heaviest day, if the number of scheduled events is fair indication. Early in the morning the seniors will have their farewell breakfast. Later in the forenoon the annual meeting of the board of trustees will be held.

At 2:30 Saturday afternoon class day exercises will be held. The main features of this program will be presentation of athletic awards to participants in spring sports and forensics, and the presentation of the senior class gift. The business meeting of the alumni association will be held at 4:30, and will be followed by the alumni banquet at 5:30 in the gymnasium.

Alumni Meet Saturday Formerly the alumni meetings were held following the commencement exercises, but at a meeting last fall it was decided to hold the banquet and business meeting on Saturday night. In stead of Monday night because of increased convenience to out-of-town alumni. The final event for Saturday will be the president's reception to seniors, alumni, trustees and friends of the university. This reception will be held in Lansane hall.

The baccalaureate sermon will be preached by President Doney in the First Methodist church Sunday morning, June 9. Reunion of members of the university Christian associations will be held in the chapel in Waller hall on Sunday afternoon.

The graduation exercises will be held at 10 o'clock Monday, June 10 in the First Methodist church. Following the impressive academic procession, the address of the day will be given by Walter W. R. May of the Morning Oregonian. The address will be followed by conferring of degrees, presentation of prizes and announcements.

300 YOUTHS PLAY IN NEW BALL CIRCUIT

Elaborate Program Planned At Willamette University This Year

More than 300 young men and boys are playing baseball several times each week in the five leagues organized under the sponsorship of the Y. M. C. A. Twenty-eight teams comprise the leagues.

The Commercial and Industrial leagues of young men have ten teams with a play estimate of 120—average of 12 men to each team. The first and second Sunday School leagues will number approximately 144 players on the 12 teams. The junior Sunday School league of six teams has 72 players by the average method.

All the teams play at least once a week and sometimes twice under the schedule. Most of the players get in a little practice on their off days.

Oregon Golfers Lead Big Field At Coast Meet

SEATTLE, May 16.—(AP)—The University of Oregon two man golf team continued to lead the field at the end of 27 holes of the Pacific coast conference golf tournament here today.

The Webfooters, represented by Don Moe and George Will, gained a ten stroke lead over Washington in second place with a score of 218. Stanford jumped into third place, while the University of California at Los Angeles was fourth.

QUEEN WANTED BY MEN

Girls Would be Banned From Vote CAMPUS PUT IN FUROR

The Willamette university student body was thrown into a mild furor Thursday when Donald Grant of the constitutional revision committee read a proposed amendment which would place all voting for the university May Queen in the hands of the men of the university.

Other measures up for consideration were concerned with student body awards for athletics and forensics. One of these provided that requirements for graduation must be fulfilled in order to receive the four-year athletic award; another cut the number of award-days in the year from five to three. The third provided that students eligible for awards must be present to receive them at regular award ceremonies, or forfeit the right to receive the award until some succeeding award-day. Two amendments proposed by the forensics council raised the requirements for receiving forensic awards.

Nominations for membership on the forensics council were made Thursday, and election will follow at a special meeting to be called next Wednesday. Installation of new officers of the student body was deferred until the later meeting.

«What Famous Users Say About Richfield»
ART GOEBEL
Shortly after we broke the non-stop Coast to Coast record with Richfield Gasoline, we made a comparison of four well-known motor fuels. We discovered in this test that Richfield, in addition to giving us greater power and speed, would enable us to remain in the air two hours longer per one hundred gallons than any of the other fuels. Naturally, we used Richfield in our most recent victory, the Los Angeles to Cincinnati non-stop race.
One of America's foremost pilots...winner of the Dole-Hawaii flight; first to shatter the Army's five-year old transcontinental record and winner of the Los Angeles to Cincinnati non-stop race.
Goebel adds his tribute to those of dozens of other leaders in the field of motordom, who endorse and use Richfield products—such men as Harry Miller, Fred Duesenberg, Anthony Fokker, Allan Loughead, Harry Hartz, Captain Wilkins and Ralph Snoddy—men whose achievements as designers and pilots are internationally recognized.
Richfield's qualities—proved in grueling competitive events—are the same qualities you need in your own motor car—instant power, speed and acceleration without loss of mileage. What gasoline do you use?
