FRUIT MARKET HOLDS STEADY

Local Asparagus Now Down
To 10 Cents; Strawberries Come in

Conditions of the local vegetable and fruit market remain fairly steady, with no new commodities appearing during the week. Local asparagus, now at its best, is down to 10 cents a bunch. Strawberries are coming in better and are selling at 20 cents.

The best local spinach offered yet this season is now displayed, at four pounds for 25 cents. Rhubarb is plentiful but demand is not so heavy. Price now is four pounds for 25 cents.

California is shipping better beets and turnips, with no change in prices. Green onions and radishes sell at various prices, with the locally-grown still at 10 cents. Imports are cheaper.

Old potatoes, the top quality Yakima Gems, have taken the first raise in some time and are now quoted wholesale at $2. The increase is due to scarcity. New potatoes are coming better, though the price remains at the same figure. New peas sell two pounds for 25 cents.

The largest peppers yet offered are displayed today, at 50 cents per each pound also the highest price this season.

Hot house tomatoes, grown by Bagley here, are offered in sufficient quantity to meet the demand. Selling price is 45 cents a pound. Local cucumbers are available also.

Carrot wholesale prices have taken an advance, due to the scarcity of the vegetable in California. It will be some time before local carrots are offered.

Celery, from California, is down 25 cents wholesale. Stalks sell at 15 cents each, but the quality is only fair.

Local lettuce is being offered in the stores now and is of good quality but not up to that offered from the south. Local sells at 10 cents a head. Cabbage continues to sell for six cents and is good grade.

CLEAN MILK IS CLAIMED VITAL

Head of Capitol Dairies Is
Speaker Before Salem
Realty Board

Cleanliness is the principal essential in the production of pure milk. H. D. Hurley, president and manager of the Capitol Dairies, told the Salem Realty Board Thursday noon in describing operations in the handling of milk at his plant. Capitol Dairies operates 12 trucks, distributes to some 2,600 accounts in the city and handles milk from between 75 and 80 producers.

Practically all milk distributed from this plant is pasteurized. Mr. Hurley said and emphasized necessity for this additional precaution for cleanliness. Arguments that pasteurization destroys vitamin content of milk hold little water, it was asserted, as milk contains but little of vitamin C, which is actually destroyed in the process. Vitamins A and B are un-

Preserving Foods Held Important

The proper preservation of foods today becomes an integral part of the job of preserving health. The scientific cold of electric refrigeration kills the bacteria that spoil the food. It keeps meats wholesome, milk sweet and salads crisp. And, in addition, it changes the marketing from an every-day drudgery to a twice-a-week adventure. Buying, too, becomes much more economical, and precious hours of leisure are granted the busy housewife.

Early in the twentieth century, a French monk designed a refrigeration machine that was hermetically sealed and it is said that some of these machines are still running after twenty-five years of service without having been refilled. The General Electric company has developed a hermetically sealed machine and now manufacture it.

MISS OLIN TO TAKE NEW LIBRARY POST

Request of Miss Beatrice Olin, high school librarian, for transfer to the public library has been ratified by the Salem school board, following the approval of the transfer by the city library board. By the same action, Miss Alta Kershner will be transferred from the city harmful by pasteurization. "The Marion county health unit is doing a wonderful piece of work for Salem as far as the milk supply is concerned," Mr. Hurley said in commenting upon the better quality of milk offered generally in the city.

Pasteurization simply means that the bacteria content of milk is reduced to not more than 50,000 per cubic centimeter or for about every 18 drops of milk. Raw milk may contain as high as 100,000 bacteria for each 18 drops and still be sold on the local market, so long as it is thus labeled.

Mr. Hurley described the handling of milk from source and through the bottling, capping and delivery, stressing the precautions taken to assure pure milk. Frequent sample both at the dairy and source and sediment tests, made both by the dairy and the child health demonstration, serve to keep the milk up to strict city requirements.

Don Young, secretary of the Capitol Dairies, and Grover Hillman, vice-president, were also guests at the Realtors' meeting.

library staff to the high school position.

Miss Olin came to Salem last fall from Minnesota. Miss Kershner is a Salem girl and at present is studying in the Columbia University library school in New York City. The new school librarian was graduated from Willamette University in 1923 and has had considerable library and teaching experience. In her undergraduate days at the high school she was student assistant to the librarian.
