

Tod Morgan Gets Nod Over Baby Sal Sorio in Fast Battle

CHAMP RETAINS OFFICIAL TITLE

Mexican Youth is Unable to Lift Crown From Junior Lightweight King

BY VICTOR G. SIDLER Associated Press Sports Writer WRIGLEY FIELD, Los Angeles, May 20. (AP)—The title quest of Baby Sal Sorio, a boyish San Bernardino, Mexican, was halted by the flashing left of Tod Morgan, junior lightweight champion at the end of 10 rounds here tonight. The champion won the decision, retaining his title.

The 19-year-old Mexican who had hoped to succeed where others of his countrymen had failed in the winning of a world's title was defeated decisively by the title-holder, who took all but two of the sessions. Sorio was at his best in the third and eighth rounds and scored a momentary knockdown in the former but Morgan was too much for him with his greater experience, ring generalship and boxing ability.

In only the two rounds which the Mexican took did Sorio effectively use his widely touted jolting right hand. In the third he put the champion to the canvas with several rights and lefts to the head. Morgan, who claimed a foul, weathered the storm successfully but his Brown-skinned opponent had a wide margin on the round. Again in the eighth Sorio was able to connect with his right and he had Morgan in distress, but not to the extent of being close to a knockout.

Morgan won all of the other rounds with his tantalizing yet hard left which kept in Sorio's face and body, oftentimes without a return. In the fifth round he scored with 25 lefts to the head and body without a return blow from the Mexican.

Morgan had rather an easy time in winning. His left constantly tipped Sorio's head back, or sent the Mexican back on his heels. Sorio, when he tried to let his right go, found it nailed to his side.

CASEYS BEAT STATE HOUSE TEAM 3 TO 1

The Knights of Columbus baseball team in the Commercial league defeated the State House 3 to 1 in a tightly played game Monday night. The State House scored its lone run in the first inning, and the Knights came back with two in the second, result of a home run by R. Sequin who tallied Winkler ahead of him. R. Sequin got around again in the fourth.

SUNDAY GAME WON BY ALCOS

Speed Shown in Local Tilt But Costly Bobbles Give Contest to Albany

Oregon-Washington League W L Pct. Longview 3 1 .750 Mt. Scott 2 1 .666 Kelso 2 2 .500 Albany 1 2 .333 Salem 0 2 .000

Confirmation of early season predictions that there would be fast baseball and "nothing else but" played in the Oregon-Washington league, was seen at Olinger field Sunday when the Albany Alcos nosed out the Salem Senators 5 to 4.

Only two of Albany's runs—those in the first inning scored on Burke's three bagger and Sutherland's home run—were earned, so it was no fault of King Cole's pitching that the Senators lost. There were some bobbles and some bad breaks, and while the local team could stand some improvement in the clotting department—especially in the pinches.

Red Ridings Makes Two Costly Errors Two of the errors were chalked up against Red Ridings, who can be counted on to commit few more this season.

French Hard Court Title is Sought by Tilden and Francis Hunter

PARIS, May 20.—(AP)—With only doubles on display for the early customers, the French hard courts tennis championships opened today with the triumphant appearance of favorites before a holiday crowd of 6,000, a third of them vacationists from England and tourists from America.

The latter had the pleasure of seeing their old and new champions bowl over continental opponents under a beaming May time sun. Big Bill Tilden, stanching another comeback, was his old time self again. Paired with Francis T. Hunter he quickly eliminated two Nordic blondes from Denmark, Rasmussen and Nielsen, by scores of 6-0, 6-1, 6-0.

Jack Emphatically Denies Persistent Report RING HAS NO LURE NOW

NEW YORK, May 20 (AP) Stretched out in a barber's chair while a razor fought with his blue black beard and a manicurist clipped his nail, Jack Dempsey blew the lather from his lips today and declared without reservation that he is farther away than ever from another ring comeback.

An hour later, bars legged Helen Willis stepped upon the center court where 20 photographers heralded her appearance, then paired with Hunter to win in straight sets from the French pair, Mademoiselle Doris Mextaza and S. Glasser, 6-3, 6-3, 6-0. Mextaza is not yet 16 years old and though she has been in junior championships and has won them, this was her first appearance before so large a crowd. She was too stage

WHITMAN WINS SERIES OPENER

One Bad Inning Causes Upset in Bearcat Hopes; Houk Socks Home Run

The Whitman college baseball team took the first game of the Northwest conference championship series from Willamette university's ball tossers Monday at Walla Walla, by a 5 to 3 score according to word received from "Spec" Keene, Willamette coach.

The Bearcats played good ball except for one bad inning which proved fatal to their chances to win. Houk, Willamette third baseman, accounted for two of the local team's runs by hitting a homer with one man on base. Ledbetter pitched good ball, Keene reported. Van Nice will start today's game. If necessary, a third game will be played Wednesday.

OREGON NET STARS DEFEAT STANFORD

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Cal. May 20.—(AP)—Winning four out of the six matches, the University of Oregon tennis team trounced the Stanford racketeers here today.

The northerners made a clean sweep of the doubles matches, and succeeded in getting an even break in the singles, Johnny Doeg, 6-2.

MALICE or IGNORANCE?

In an article published in one of Portland's newspapers under the signature of Kenneth G. Harlan an attempt is made to show that PORTLAND ELECTRIC POWER COMPANY has issued and outstanding millions of dollars of securities representing no value.

The annual report of the Portland Electric Power company shows that it has stocks and bonds outstanding on December 31, 1927, in the amount of $112,064,000.79, with a total property valuation of only $80,179,058."

The clear inference to be drawn from the quoted statement was that on December 21, 1927, this company had outstanding obligations of $112,064,000.79, or approximately $32,000,000 more than the property valuation.

The same report, on the same page, listed the following securities owned by the company:

Sinking funds $ 8,444,449.11 Reacquired securities 343,300.00 Treasury securities 23,910,000.00 $32,697,749.11

The item of $8,444,449.11 represented the par value of bonds purchased by the company in the market under the Sinking Fund provisions of its mortgages and no longer constituted a liability.

The item of Reacquired Securities, $343,300, represented stock of the company reacquired and owned by the company.

The three items, aggregating $32,697,749.11, constituted and were a part of the $112,064,000.79 referred to by Mr. Harlan.

At the time of writing the article referred to, and for a long time prior thereto, Mr. Harlan had possession of the reports detailing the facts, as above stated. He was either incompetent to read and understand the reports, or willfully misrepresented the facts.

In the same article Mr. Harlan quoted an unidentified auditor as authority for a statement made in 1924 as follows:

"He said the company had more than $90,000,000 of borrowed capital on which it was carrying on its business at that time."

At no time since the organization of this company has its liability for borrowed capital ever exceeded $46,000,000.

There is a universally accepted maxim that a witness found to be false in one part of his testimony is to be distrusted in all.

FRANKLIN T. GRIFFITH, President Portland Electric Power Co.
