Mr. and Mrs. John Stibe and Mr. and Mrs. C. K. Spaulding are spending the week-end at Nye beach, Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Arneson, and daughter Inga of Corbett, were Saturday guests at the J. A. Resington home.

Graduation Frock

1603

Pattern 1603
Statesman 15c. Practical Pattern School days are soon over, and every smart girl needs a dainty frock for graduation and parties. Design 1603 is extremely youthful with its adorable trimming of lace and tucks. The V neck is finished with a pert ribbon bow, which is repeated at the waist.

Organzie, georgette or fine voile would be charming mediums for the development of this model. White, of course, will be used for graduation, but any of the pastel shades would be exquisite for parties if cream lace, or lace dyed to match the material is used.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18 and 20.
Size 14 requires 3 yards of lace, 40 inches wide.

This model is easy to make. No dressmaking experience is necessary. Each pattern comes to you with simple and exact instructions, including yardage for every size. A perfect fit is guaranteed.

Patterns will be delivered upon receipt of 15 cents in coins carefully wrapped or stamps. Be sure to write plainly your name, address, style number and size wanted.

Our latest fashion book will be sent upon receipt of 10 cents in coin. Address all mail and orders to Statesman Pattern Department, 243 West 17th Street, New York City.

CAMP FIRE ACTIVITIES

The Salem Camp Fire girls, their parents, and sponsors motored to Mehama Thursday. At Mehama the girls and some of the older folk hiked to Shelburn falls and back to Mehama again where a picnic supper was enjoyed at the girls' summer camp.

Parrish School Has Interesting Episode

In the recent paper drive which was sponsored by the students of the writing and spelling department of Parrish school a most unexpected result followed. In addition to the 135 tons of paper which were gathered in one week and which netted the youthful workers $135.00 for their efforts there were some old magazines produced which caused almost as much excitement as the realization that the prize winning room would secure a glorious plaque of Sacajawea from Carponi & Sons, dealers in exclusive works of art.

These old magazines came from the home of Mrs. J. W. Norwood, grandmother of Wallace Beckett, one of the industrious paper hunters.

There were 18 copies of "Peterson's National Ladies' Magazine" bearing the date of 1869 and 1378 two copies of Frank Leslie's "Popular Magazine" of 1873, a "Delineator" of 1889, and the Oregonian of 1901, in which was given an account of McKinley's assassination.

Some of these old copies are being bound and the others are being kept on file in the school after having been very graciously donated to the school by Mrs. E. M. Beckett, mother of Wallace.

Mrs. Dale Taylor G. K. P. Hostess

Mrs. Dale Taylor entertained the members of the G. K. P. club at her home on South 19th street in rather an unusual manner recently. A room in the basement was made into a gay banquet room with pink crepe streamers forming a canopy over the long table which was centered with yellow and pink flowers and yellow tapers in silver candle holders. Here at the table a three course supper was served, following a business session in which plans were laid for picnics and summer activities.

Members of the club present for this party were Mrs. Harry Harms, Mrs. W. S. Foster, Mrs. W. C. Pickens, Mrs. Newell Williams, Mrs. Katherine Middleton, Mrs. O. P. Pickens, Mrs. Walter Nelson, Mrs. K. H. Pickens, Mrs. T. A. Raffety, Mrs. H. S. Gile, Mrs. Thomas Roen, Mrs. B. E. Sisson, Mrs. J. F. Billeter, and Mrs. Dale Taylor.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Walter Nelson.

Miss Gladys Miller Lectures in Salem

Miss Gladys Miller, a graduate of Oregon State college, and for the past three years head of the art department of a large department store in the East, was a Salem guest Monday. While here she gave an interesting lecture on "Style and Fashion" at the Miller Store, at which many represent others from out-of-town stores of the Miller chain attended the meeting.

Miss Miller is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Miller of the Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teel and children, Ellen, Ellis and Adah Mae of Salem, and Mr. Cyrus Clawson.

Gives Martial Air

This striking blouse is made of knitted jersey and is given a martial air by the three-tone strap that runs diagonally across front and back. The large scarf carries out the motif of the blouse. The color is brilliant red.

Mrs. E. A. Miller Missionary Hostess

Mrs. E. A. Miller will entertain members of the Missionary society of the First Congregational church at her home Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. This will be a picnic meeting. Business will be transacted in the afternoon and at 6 o'clock the husbands and children will arrive for a picnic dinner.

The hostesses for the social hours are Mrs. E. A. Miller assisted by Mrs. M. D. McCallister, Mrs. William McGilchrist, Sr., Mrs. J. Morris and Miss Leora Morris.

For the afternoon meeting Mrs. W. C. Kantner will lead the devotions, and Miss J. M. Brock will speak.

Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Thomas will present their pupils in a violin and piano recital Wednesday evening at the First Evangelical church at 8 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lower of Los Angeles are here for an extended visit with Mrs. Frank Brown and Mrs. Frank Meyers.

Mrs. C. H. Monroe and her sister, Miss Minnie Brugger, of Portland, were the guests of Mrs. S. P. Talkington Decoration day.

Mrs. John Carson, who has undergone a serious operation at the Salem General hospital, is improving slowly.

Dewey Coffin, of San Francisco, has been the guest of Mrs. Russell Catlin for the past week.

Miss Jean Bell, of Portland, was the guest of her mother, Mrs. Henry Bell, Decoration Day.

Reception Will Close Art's League Season

The last meeting of the Salem Arts League will be a reception for which Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bishop will be hosts at their home on Court street Friday evening. Invitations will be out the first of the week for this affair which is planned in honor of Andrew Vincent, Salem artist. Mr. Vincent will display a group of his own pictures at this reception.

It will be remembered with pleasure that Mr. Vincent displayed a group of his paintings once before in Salem at the delightful tea given by Mrs. Frank Durbin, Jr., early in the spring. It will be a real pleasure for those attending the reception planned to be able to see another like exhibition.

Mrs. B. J. Teel Entertains at Dinner

Mrs. B. J. Teel entertained with an informal luncheon honoring the birthday of her husband, Thursday, at the Teel home.

Covers were laid for 12 around the table centered with a birthday cake with lighted candles.

The guests were, the honor guest, Mr. Teel, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Goodman and children, Lee and Margery of Rainbow, Oregon, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Teel and children, Ellen, Ellis and Adah Mae of Salem, and Mr. Cyrus Clawson.

Special Showing of Axminster Rugs in Style-Right Patterns and Colors

THESE new axminsters—of famous Bigelow-Hartford quality—are shown in unusual diversity of designs. There are modernistic motifs, hooked rug designs, Oriental, floral, and plain effects. The very new small all-over designs in Oriental motifs are especially interesting.

Finest yarns, expert workmanship, and sturdy construction make for outstanding quality.

The prices are remarkably low, especially when you consider the extraordinary patterns and colors, and the economy of long wear.
