

Y. M. C. A. MAKES GREAT RECORD

Most Successful Period in History of Institution Being Enjoyed

The Salem Y. M. C. A. is enjoying the most successful year in its history in Salem according to reports of the committee chairman which were made Thursday noon when directors of the association held their regular first-of-the-month gathering.

Not only are more activities being carried on by the association for the largest membership in the history of the "Y" but the financial situation of the association is the best in recent years.

"We are truly optimistic not only about the record of the past year but also over the outlook for the future," C. A. Kells, association director, told the members of the board. "Our budget income this year will exceed by $75.00 the income of 1928, if the record for the first seven months of the year is maintained. This means that an operating deficit of $2300 carried over from the previous year will be wiped out and a month's delinquency held over from former years necessitating that payment of bills be delayed, will be abolished."

Payment of Unpaid Pledges Necessary
Joseph Albert said that the collection of $7000 in pledges made but unpaid, would square the budget of the association for the current year.

Special rates will be offered during the summer. Ben Rickli, associate secretary, reported to the board. Rickli said that a considerable increase in membership should be afforded through this privilege. Men will receive a membership good for all the privileges of the "Y" from June 10 to September 21 for the sum of $4.00; women will receive a similar membership for $3.00.

Mr. Rickli reported that occupancy of rooms in the "Y" dormitory had averaged 96 per cent during May which is an unusually high mark.

Education Activities
For Boys—George Hug reporting for the boys' work committee presented the board with a condensed outline of a wide variety of physical education activities carried on during the spring months. Acting upon the motion of Dr. Frank Brown, the board unanimously approved the hiring of Ivan

Man Who Cheats Newsboys Found Meanest in Town

Every city has rivalry at times for the meanest man in town. In Salem just now that meanest man is the person who moves out of the city and fails to pay the carrier boy for his newspaper.

This man makes the carrier arrive early daily, bring him his newspaper, pay the publishing company for the paper and then he forces to lose both time and money because the bill is not paid.

Fortunately, there are not many of these "mean men" in town; they soon leave and some other town has their presence. But it's unfair, and dishonest to the carrier boy; he loses because of such dishonesty.

White as boy's work secretary of the "Y," his term to start this summer and continue throughout the coming winter.

tions sent to Washington, D. C., recently, principally because he has the backing of a number of farmers' cooperative associations. Since that time Senator Reynolds has received letters from members of Oregon's delegation at the national capital, touching upon the matter of this appointment, although nothing definite has been decided.

The local member of the state senate has made no active campaign in his own behalf for the appointment, and has not announced that he will accept it if it is offered.

The appointment will be made by President Hoover, probably soon after the bill is passed. According to the present provisions of the bill, the board is to consist of nine members who will each receive a salary of $12,000 a year.

Senator Reynolds is a "dirt farmer," operating an orchard a few miles north of the city. He has been a member of the state senate during two sessions, and prior to that was a member of the lower house in 1907, 1909, 1911, 1923 and 1925. He was graduated from and was a member of the state board of horticulture for six years.

One of the Cheek cars at a famous Country Club where the hat-fellow who owns it seeks to better his golf score

This beautiful seven passenger Lincoln is hard driven but it gets very good care. Blodgett keeps it running sweetly on Shell 400

Notice the cars at Shell stations. Cars that show care—not all new or expensive makes by any means, but driven by thoughtful people who know the sound value of Shell 400, the "dry" gas

Here is BLODGETT's slant on gasoline

... one reason why the James H. Cheeks are envied for their chauffeur!

H. J. Blodgett, chauffeur to Mr. James H. Cheek

SOUTHERNERS—distinguished southerners like James H. Cheek, son of the founder of Maxwell House Coffee—have a reputation for hospitality that is richly deserved. Even their household affairs seem to run more smoothly!

And people in the exclusive district in which the Cheeks live actually envy them the driver of their fine cars. Blodgett is never late; his cars purr silkily while theirs are being overhauled; the Cheeks never have automobile worries.

"How do you keep those motors running so sweetly?" other drivers ask the Cheek chauffeur.

"A lot of it is in the gasoline," Blodgett confesses. And he tells how he avoids crankcase dilution by using "dry" gas. He learned it from a lubrication man who once showed him how thin motor oil could really get—like water or kerosene—thinned from "wet" gasoline. "And you can't expect even a high-priced automobile to run very long on oil like that!"

It is now a well recognized fact that oil dilution from "wet" gasoline is one of the most serious menaces to automobile motors. Manufacturers and dealers, lubrication men and expert mechanics are constantly sending out warnings.

And today there is no need of using "wet" gasoline. Shell 400, the "dry" gas, exactly refined to eliminate heavy, "wet" petroleum fractions, goes completely vaporized into your motor. No condensing droplets run down the cylinder walls. All of it goes into power and mileage—full value for your gasoline money.

Yellow and red pumps identify Shell 400, the "dry" gas. Thousands of convenient stations sell it.

IMPORTANT TO EVERY MOTORIST—the kind of gasoline

Here is a typical example of old crankcase oil after "wet" gasoline was used. Oil 54% gasoline—ruined long before it had run a thousand miles

Shell 400 in the same car would dilute your oil very little. Perhaps 8% or 9% in a full thousand miles—not enough to hurt its lubricant qualities

SHELL 400 The 'DRY' gas

New high-compression motors have no room for the hard carbon that comes from burned motor oil. It is important that you use an oil that forms no hard carbon. Shell Motor Oil leaves only a little soft soot that blows easily away
