Local Products Coming Into aptece. Markets in Considerable Volume Now

Demand for fresh vegetables has products coming to the market. The first Marion county carrots cheaper. and beets of the season appeared this week and, although small in size, are fine quality. The selling $3.25. Other products remain unprice is 10 cents a bunch for each, or three for 25 cents.

More cauliflower, or rather breccoli, is coming in from Roseburg. This is excellent quality and sells at 20 cents for the best heads.

Labish lettuce is at its peak right now, with very good heads coming into the local stores and warehouses. The large heads retail at two for 15 cents. Local asparagus is getting scarce, as seen in the boost in price to 15 cents a bunch. Roseburg is shipping the bulk of the new peas now on the market here, with the store price at 15 cents a pound. Pods are good size and well filled. Hot house fancy tomatoes, regular beauties, sell at 35 cents a pound-which is also the wholesale figure. California is also shipping tomatoes, these leaving the of circus talent ever assembled! It's so Dig it needs the sky for a roof and all outdoors Added attraction... Brilliant Fireworks Display!
