Missionary To Speak—Miss Faye Brunau, a returned missionary of the Methodist church in Chile, South America, will speak at the First Methodist church Wednesday afternoon in connection with the monthly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary society. Miss Brunau is a present teacher of Spanish in Lewiston, Idaho, and is spending a week in Salem visiting her mother and her sister, Nellie M. Brunau, who graduated this week from Willamette university.

Students Go South—Laurence "Buck" Winslow and Trygve Bennett, Willamette university students started for California Tuesday by the hitch-hiking route. Bennett has a job assured in a warehouse, but Winslow declared that the trip is merely an extended vacation so far as he is concerned. He will return to Willamette in September.

Weller Students Recital—Pupils of Miss Elma Weller will give an evening of ensemble numbers Thursday evening at 8:15 in the Willamette auditorium. The numbers will be duos and quartets. Miss Weller's students will be assisted by the Salem high school quartet and Kenneth Abbott, baritone.

Reply Filed—A reply was filed Tuesday in the county clerk's office in the case of G. E. Prine vs. P. D. Hoag, on the part of the defendant, who claims that an x-ray table sold Prine was inspected by the latter before it was accepted and consequently that any action taken by Prine to recover from the defendant is useless.

Asked to Produce Documents—Demmond that Ralph S. McDowell produce official documents showing the exact relationship to the business he owns here, insofar as amount of stock and profits goes, was filed in circuit court by Myrtle McDowell on Tuesday. She is plaintiff in an action for divorce brought against McDowell.

PURVINE CLAN HOLDS REUNION

Thirty Four Relatives Meet at Old Home in Spring Valley Sunday
The annual gathering of the A. J. Purvine clan took place Sunday at the old home in Spring valley in Polk county, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Fred Purvine. The families not able to be present were those of Charles Purvine, Col. Percy Willis and George Graves. Thirty-four found their way back to the old home place where the romances of early days began. Jordan and Cyrus Purvine were the oldest ones present and will be remembered by old timers of the Salem district. Jordan was seeing shoes for Krauss brothers about 40 years ago, while Cyrus was farming.
A picnic dinner was served under the big oak trees. Mrs. Eva Walling Purvine was declared a most charming hostess.
Those present were:
Elmer Purvine, Miss Mabel Prather, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Purvine and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Purvine, Edna Purvine Byers, A. G. Byers, Helen Byers, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Purvine, Winston Purvine, Elvora Purvine, Elizabeth Purvine, Julius Purvine, Mrs. Mary Purvine Brown, Elvira Brown and Edward Brown, all of Independence.
Emily Purvine Prescott, Eugene T. Prescott, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Purvine, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Remington, Albert Purvine, Leo Purvine, Marjorie Walling and Mrs. Elizabeth Remington, all of Salem.
Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Purvine, Mrs. Allice Skipton and Mr. C. H. Thompson, all of Portland.
Monroe Purvine of Stellancom, Washington.

Arguments Presented by Counsel in Suit to Halt Education Board Statute

Arguments were heard by the state supreme court here Tuesday in the suit filed by L. B. Smith of Portland, to test the constitutionality of the 1929 legislative act creating a state board of higher education. Governor Patterson and other state officials were named defendants in the action.
The law under attack abolished the existing boards of regents and placed the board of higher education in control of the university of Oregon, state college and the three state normal schools.
Fred W. Packwood, attorney for Smith, alleged that the act was unconstitutional for the following reasons:
That it does not set out clearly how funds administered by the board shall be expended.
That it includes part of an act of special session of 1920 and amends it beyond the scope of the original act.
That the act of 1920, providing for a millage tax, is outside the six per cent constitutional tax limitation because it was voted by the people, while the legislature by amending it changed its purpose and automatically placed it within the six per cent limitation.
That the act creates a public office of more than four years tenure.
That the act attempts to prohibit appearance before the legislature of subordinate officials in violation of their constitutional rights.
That the senate attempted to confirm by secret ballot the appointments of the governor on the board in violation of the constitution.
That the appointments are inoperative for the reason that the act is a revenue measure with the emergency clause illegally attached, which would make anything done under the act before June 4 invalid.
That it makes interim appointments by the governor the exclusive power of appointment.
That the act is indefinite, incomprehensible and meaningless.
Willis Moore, assistant attorney general, appeared for Governor Patterson and other defendants. He said that, in his opinion, there was no doubt but that the act is constitutional.
It was indicated that the court would hand down an opinion in the case not later than next Tuesday. The act, if held to be constitutional, will become operative July 1.
Another "bigger and better" year for the Salem Boys' chorus closed Sunday with a banquet and program staged in the new Mehana park recently donated to the Campfire Girls by Miss Anna Stout. Dr. H. E. Epley, who ended 10 years of service as director with the Sunday event, was presented with a brief case with his name engraved thereon.
The program consisted of vocal solos, duets, and choruses by members of the chorus; special accordion numbers; reading by Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist and other recitations; and concertina solos by William McGilchrist, Sr. Following the program, a community sing was enjoyed and a donation of $25 was raised from the audience for the Sunday school.

GLOVE MAKING IN SALEM DESCRIBED

Details of the manufacture of gloves at the Gleason glove factory in South Salem were told the Salem Zonta club at its Tuesday afternoon luncheon by Mrs. Wilhelmina Gleason, secretary of the company and a member of the Zontans. Mrs. Gleason's talk was the first in a series to be given by club members on their respective lines of endeavor.
The factory makes 3,000 pairs of canvas gloves and 12,000 pairs of canvas with leather over-layers daily, and for these 75,000 yards of canvas and 2,200 square feet of leather are used. The company makes nearly 40 varieties of gloves which are sent to all parts of the country. It is the largest glove factory of its kind west of the Rockies. Established in 1909 with 10 machines, 22 machines are now kept going, most of them the year around. The machine makes just 2,500 stitches a minute, and because of this speed its operation is one of the hardest things for the beginner to learn. This speed also makes for fewer changes in personnel. Between 30 and 35 persons are employed, according to the demand.

Fire Losses Are High During May

The club voted to place its proxy vote at the national convention in Erie, Penna., in the hands of the Seattle club, in hopes that such action will assist the Sound city in getting the convention.
At the close of her talk Mrs. Gleason presented each person with a pair of the gloves.
Lee Eyerly of the Pacific Airplane company will talk to the group next time.
Fire losses in Oregon, exclusive of Portland, for the month of May, aggregated $229,423.23, according to a report prepared here Tuesday by Clara A. Lee, state fire marshal. There were 92 fires reported during the month. Thirty-eight fires were of incendiary origin.

Permit Issued

A permit to haul logs and piling over the county road leading from Marion to Jefferson was issued out of the county court on Tuesday. A. J. Char-traw will do the work.

Investigation

Henry Ruth was arrested Tuesday by local police for investigation. It was indicated that charges of indecent exposure might be filed against him.

Fox in Again

Mose Fox, who was in the city jail last week end on a charge of drunkenness, was in again Tuesday on an identical charge.

Collision Reported

Mrs. T. R. Godley, 620 Electric, reported a collision between her automobile and one driven by C. M. Greene of Medford, Tuesday afternoon at High and State streets.

Miss Reid in Portland

Miss Rita Reid, daughter of Mrs. Cora Reid of the county school superintendent's office, was a Portland visitor Tuesday.

REV. DAHLIN WILL START EAST FRIDAY

The Rev. Patrick Dahlin, who has been student pastor at the Mill street Methodist church for the past five years leaves Friday for Chicago, where he will spend the summer working with a brother. He will be accompanied by the Rev. Edward Terry of Jefferson. Both young men will enter Northwestern university in September.
During Rev. Dahlin's pastorate the Mill street church changed from a Swedish speaking to an English speaking church. The attendance has doubled and many new activities were promoted. This fall the church will be transferred from the Puget Sound to the Oregon conference.
This summer Mrs. A. M. Gentry will preach and will be in charge of the church program. She has been active in the work of the church for over a year and has been instrumental in much of the progress made.

BIRTHS OUTNUMBER DEATHS IN COUNTY

Marion county births for May outnumbered the deaths by 13 with 87 live births and 54 deaths reported for that period, according to the monthly report being compiled at the county health center. Thirty non-residents who died in the state institutions are not included in the 54 deaths. Communicable diseases for the month reached 101 cases, not including 51 reported from the state institutions.
Of the deaths, eight were due to communicable diseases, five to accidents not including auto, nine were caused by heart disease, 11 to kidney disease, seven cancer. A third of the institutional deaths were due to communicable diseases.
Mumps led the list of communicable diseases with 23 cases. Measles followed a close second with 20 victims. Other diseases reported: Pneumonia, 14 cases; scarlet fever, 10; German measles, five; chickenpox, 13; diphtheria, one; tuberculosis and smallpox, three each; influenza, four.
Seven sisters were bridesmaids and three brothers were pages at the recent wedding of Miss Phyllis Cowley and G. E. Taylor at Orlans, England.

Music helps School Study

Of course you want your children to do well in their music studies. But what music will do for them is even more important than what they will do with music! School authorities have found that children taking music are more efficient in arithmetic, history, etc., than the others. A million children in America are learning to play the piano. Give them the advantage of a modern, new, inspiring Gulbransen Piano. Just the right "touch" for big or little fingers.
