HEWITT STRIKES AT ANTI-PROHIBIT TALK

Arguments Flaunted at Meet of College Boys at Seabeck, Wash.

Dean Roy R. Hewitt of Willamette college of law spoke on prohibition at the Thursday evening meeting of the Seabeck conference of college Y. M. C. A. associations at Seabeck, Wash. Quoting from a pamphlet, "They Nearly Fooled Me, They Told—," Dean Hewitt took each popular argument against prohibition in turn and exposed its fallacy.

Willamette university is represented by a delegation of seven men. Several of these are prominent on the Seabeck campus. Harold Shellhart, last year's president of the Willamette Y. M. C. A., and Leslie Manker, this year's president, are both members of the Northwest Field Council, the executive body of the association of college Y's in Washington, Oregon, Idaho, and Montana. Shellhart is chairman of the nominating committee of this body, and is also on the committee studying the problem of morning watch for the conference. Manker is a member of the finance committee. Frank Lombard, manager of the Willamette Collegian during the past year in managing "The Sea Breeze," the daily newspaper of the conference. Harry Stone controls the life of the campus in his capacity as bell ringer.

Well known colleges and universities represented in the conference are Washington State College, with 14 delegates; Oregon State, with 14; University of Washington, with 15; and University of Oregon, with 11. Smaller colleges range from one to six in the size of their delegations. The total number of students present is 85, and there are 14 faculty members.

Among the prominent faculty members are Dr. Allyn K. Foster, noted speaker and author, whose purpose is to deal with the fundamental concepts of religion—belief in God and prayer; Dr. Nelson Bossing, specialist in vocational guidance from the University of Oregon; and Herbert L. Seaman, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at the University of Washington, who had a considerable part in the reform of the U. of W. campus this year. Yale University is represented by one of her graduates on the faculty.

Tax Assessed—Assessment of an inheritance tax of $28.45 has been made against the estate of Benjamin F. Boughey, deceased, who left an estate of the estimated value of $14,744.

Goes To Halsey—Miss Rita Reid left Saturday for Halsey where she will spend a week visiting Mrs. Pearl Pehrsson. Miss Reid taught in the Parish Junior high home economics department the past two years.

JAMES R. GARDNER DIES AT HIS HOME

Stayton Man, 67, Long in Business; Death Comes Suddenly

STAYTON, June 15.—James R. Gardner died early Saturday morning. He had been in poor health for the past year, but had not been confined to his bed. He did his usual duties about his house and yard on Tuesday. He has been subject to severe heart attacks so the end while a shock to the family and friends, was not unexpected.

Mr. Gardner was about 67 years old and had been a resident of Stayton for the past 20 years or more, coming here from Baker, Oregon, where he had considerable property interests.

For a number of years Mr. Gardner was associated with W. H. Hobson in a general merchandise store. Mr. Hobson retired, but Mr. Gardner continued the business until 1923, when the business district of Stayton suffered a severe fire and Gardner's store was among the establishments destroyed. He suffered a considerable loss as he owned other property than that which he occupied which was also destroyed.

Decedent was always actively identified with lodge, church and civic affairs. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Marilla Gardner, a daughter, Mrs. Mable Fryer, of Salem, Oregon; a son, O. E. Gardner, of Stayton; two grand children, Janet Fryer and Val Gardner, of North Powder, Ore.

Funeral services will be held Monday at 2 p. m. conducted by the I. O. O. F.

Silverton Will Hold Air Circus

SILVERTON, June 15.—"It's in the air"—is the slogan which has been adopted by the third annual air circus for July 6 and 7. Walter Arbuthnot, chairman of the advertising committee states that 15 army planes from Pearson field will be present the two days to furnish many thrillers for the crowds.

As the army pilots are trained especially for formation flying, it only follows that an exhibit of their skill would be more spectacular than that of commercial fliers.

Following a scandal in the auto department of the bureau of public works of Manila, P. I., over irregularities in the issuing of licenses, one man has been discharged and 10 placed under investigation.
