

BUILDING TRADES 9 WINS BY 7-6 COUNT

The Building Trades ball team tossed out the Oregon Pulp and Paper company outfit 7 to 6 in a slugging bee at Olinger field Wednesday night in the Commercial League series. It went an extra inning.

Rickman of the Building Trades was the boss swatman of the occasion, with three hits out of as many times at bat, two of them three baggers. Greene of the Papermakers hit a home run in the first inning.

Interest among the boys. All of them have been practicing for these matches, and some have been practicing for these matches, and some have been showing good form.

BAD WEATHER MAY HALT BAND CONCERT

Just as soon as Jupe Pluvius decides on the date of his last visits to Salem for a few days at a time, Oscar Steelhammer, leader of the Salem band which for years has furnished a concert in Wilson park during the summer season, will get busy with his pencil and mark the date for the first concert on his big calendar.

Usually the first concert is held late in June but Steelhammer has been reluctant to set the opening date until the weather was more settled.

Two concerts are held each week, one on Tuesday and one on Friday night. Twenty-five members of the band have been working for several months preparing for the summer season.

FOUR SALEMITES TO TAKE WESTERN TRIP

Four Salemites will be included in the Upton Close tour of the orient this summer. It was learned Wednesday. They include Dean Roy Hewitt of the Willamette university law school and his son; the Rev. Norman K. Tully, pastor of the Presbyterian church, and Prof. Roy A. Lockenour of the Willamette law faculty.

Upton Close, authority on conditions in the orient and author of "The Revolt in Asia" and other books on the subject, who will head the party of 125 or more persons making the tour, was in Salem Wednesday visiting with friends and conferring with the local men who will accompany him.
