ENJOY FRUITS WITH SUGAR

Improve the Flavor of These Healthful Foods

Everyone knows the importance of fruits in diet. Fruits give needed roughage, vitamins and beneficial mineral salts. It is important for children and adults to eat one raw and one cooked fruit each day.

The addition of sugar to either raw or cooked fruits brings out their finest flavors. Fruits should be made palatable, or otherwise we are not likely to eat enough of them. Prepared as we like them, they will become a regular and beneficial part of our diet.

"Fruit acids are softened by sugar," a famous food scientist recently said. "Fruit flavors are developed by sugar. Sugar promotes and facilitates the ingestion of fruits."

Remember this the next time you eat grapefruit, oranges or any of the fruits which appear on your table. You will enjoy them more with sugar. Varied foods benefit you more and you will eat them with this finest of nature's flavors.

All fruits can be made delicious with the addition of sugar. Fruit pies and puddings are most appealing. Applesauce and jelly add delightfully to lunch or dinner. For goodness eat sugar. The Sugar Institute.

PROGRESS MADE ON VALUATIONS

P. E. Co. Report Up to 1928 Soon Ready Says J. P. Newell

Rapid progress is being made in bringing down to 1928 the property valuations of the Portland Electric Power company, according to a letter prepared by J. P. Newell, consulting engineer, for the Oregon public service commission. A copy of Mr. Newell's letter to the commission Monday was forwarded to Frank Grant, city attorney of Portland.

"Pursuant to your instructions," read Mr. Newell's letter, "your staff began a study of the additions and retirements of plant, property and equipment since the date of the original valuation, December 31, 1916. The net additions to the property in the 12 years have cost approximately $25,000,000 and have covered every department of the utility. The records of additions and retirements from 1917 to 1928 are summarized in the valuation records of the power company. More than 16,000 entries. But little, if any, less than a million items have been entered in the preliminary records in the 12 years period. Obviously it has been impossible for your staff to cover such a mass of detail completely.

Apparent Errors Few

"As our investigation has proceeded it appeared for a time that corrections of considerable amount would be required, but further study so far reduced the apparent errors that it became evident that the total amount of additions would be but little changed. We thereupon concluded that calculations of the rate of return earned each year by the utility in each department and of the proper accruals of depreciation in each part of the property might safely be based upon the company's records of additions, leaving all revisions and corrections to be made as of December 31, 1928, the date fixed for the present valuation.

"We are now preparing a statement for each year of the entire valuation plus net additions. In these compilations there will be included all branches of the utility, city lines, interurban lines, gas, and non-operating, as well as three divisions of the electric, in order that there may be no uncertainty as to the allocation of any part of the investment.

"Studies are being made of operating expenses, receipts and net earnings, and proper accruals for depreciations, with comparisons of the amounts actually accrued."

The complete analysis of the 1916 valuation, due to the state's well organized valuation force, has cost the state not to exceed $6,000," members of the public service commission informed City Attorney Grant. The 1926 valuation of the company's properties was approximately $55,000,000.
