PRINCE PATRON AT DINNER FOR GENERAL DAWES

"Comradeship as Opposed to Force" Hoover's Instructions

"That Phase Intent of Kellogg Pact," Says New Ambassador

LONDON, June 25.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Charles G. Dawes tonight told a dinner for overseas delegates to the fourth biennial conference of the British empire service league that his chief instructions from President Hoover had been to promote "comradeship as opposed to force" as arbiter between nations.

The ambassador said that phrase "expresses my chief instructions received from the president of the United States as I left for London to take up my duties as American ambassador and to enter on official relations with the two great English speaking peoples. That phrase expresses the intent of the Kellogg pact.

Service Men May Unite in Slogan

"It expresses a purpose in which your comrades of the American Legion may unite with you. It expresses a purpose in which former service men of all armies of the World war, whether they served with or against us, may unite with you. To further the ideal of comradeship as opposed to force as arbiter between nations is to further the hope of peace and progress and happiness of all humanity.

Ambassador Dawes prefaced his remarks by a personal reference to the Prince of Wales. When on Memorial day the latter visited the wounded and talked with them, the ambassador said, "he went straight to the heart of the American people, not only as a prince but as a man."

Prince Delighted to Welcome General Dawes The prince had previously expressed his pleasure at meeting delegates from all over the world and said the gathering was "all the more important for the presence of the American ambassador. This is the first opportunity I have had to welcome personally General Dawes to this country. We greet him as ambassador but we also greet him as representative of the former service men of the United States.

GREAT BRITAIN TO RECOGNIZE RUSSIA

LONDON, June 25.—(AP)—One of the first acts of the new labor government has been to cable the announcement to all the dominion governments of the British empire that Great Britain intends to resume diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia in the near future.

Official confirmation of earlier reports to this effect was made tonight. Political observers believe the labor ministry's move will receive sufficient support from conservative and liberal members of parliament to assure approval of British diplomatic relations with Moscow.

IDAHO YOUTH HELD

LEWISTON, Ida., June 25.—(AP)—Raymond Matthews, 25, who told officers that a single bullet accidentally discharged from a rifle he was cleaning passed through his body and fatally wounded his father, Lee Matthews, prominent Cavandish school raiser and grain grower, was brought to the county jail here today.

Cut Those Weeds! So Says Walter Low to Salem Folks Who Let Tall Grass Grow

Cut those weeds! Couched in slightly more diplomatic language, Walter Low, street commissioner, is broad-casting that demand to property owners and householders in Salem who have neglected to make their premises neat and presentable; and his demand is going to be backed up with legal compulsion.

With numerous tourists passing through the city daily and big convention crowds due to arrive soon, it ought to be a matter of pride with every citizen to clear tall grass, but— Ordinance is Cited

By Mr. Low. If they won't do it as a matter of pride, Mr. Low is going to invoke the enforcement of the following ordinance:

In Trouble

Senator Thomas Hefflin, nephew of Senator Thomas Hefflin, noted dry, told the judge in Washington D. C., he was under the influence of drugs when arrested for driving while intoxicated because he didn't want his papa to carry out his threat to talk someone's car away if he got in trouble with liquor.

Anyhow, Hefflin junior is out on $1000 bail.

TOURISTS COMING IN STEADY STREAM

The tourist stream through Salem has been on the increase since the coming of warmer weather, it appears from registration at the city auto camp. On Monday night 30 cars were registered, and "late" Tuesday afternoon it looked as though the number would be duplicated.

More camping parties are on the road now than there were three weeks ago. Tuesday afternoon the city camp registered cars from Wisconsin and North Dakota, and other camps near the city reported that the middle western states were having an increasing representation here.

Conversation with tourists revealed that most of them are taking the trips for the pleasure of travelling, but that some are looking for new homes, and that Oregon looks fine to them.

DAWES AND GIBSON TALK NAVAL AFFAIRS

LONDON, June 25.—(AP)—The question of relative naval strength upon which world peace depends so much formed the subject of a series of conferences today between Ambassadors Dawes and Gibson, President Hoover's right hand man in efforts to solve the perplexing problem.

The American ambassadors to Great Britain and Belgium were closeted together this morning in the American chancery, lunched together and then again this afternoon, exchanging ideas regarding the international situation in general and the disarmament question in particular.

Section 1. Section 2. It is hereby declared to be a misdemeanor for any property owner, occupant or person having the care of any property in the City of Salem, Oregon, to fail, neglect or refuse for the period of five (5) days to comply with the duty and obligation imposed upon all such persons by Section 1 of this Ordinance after written notice as to do has been served by the Street Commissioner or any duly authorized person, in his behalf.

Section 3. Any person who shall violate the provisions of this Ordinance shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof in the Recorder's Court shall be punished by a fine of not less than $5.00 nor more than $25.00, or by imprisonment in the City Jail not to exceed ten (10) days.

ORDINANCE TO REGULATE FOOD SALE PENDING

Sanitation for Establishments and Handlers' Health Touched

Douglas, Purvine, Williams on Committee Which Framed Program

The city council will be asked shortly, probably next Monday, to consider a food establishment regulation, which has been in process of preparation the past two weeks by a committee consisting of Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, county health officer, Ellis Purvine, member of the county health unit committee, and Fred Williams, city attorney.

The ordinance has two main provisions: First, general sanitation of food establishments premises; and second, health examination for food handlers. Enforcement would be largely in the hands of the city and county dairy and food inspector.

Food Establishments to be Carefully Inspected

Food establishments, in the ordinance described as any place where food is prepared for sale or sold, distributed or displayed for sale, would be carefully inspected not only for general sanitation of the premises but for proper washing of dishes and utensils and to make sure that only pure foods be prepared or sold.

The health examination, as the ordinance now stands only one being required for each employe, is designed to protect food from being handled by persons with disease. A health certificate will be issued by the county health officer to all employes and owners examined.

Food Sellers Seem To Favor Proposal

Members of the committee called in a number of food establishment owners of the city for a conference late last week. Besides the committee and cafe owners present were: Mayor T. A. Lively, Frank Neer of the county health unit, and the two sanitary inspectors, Batty Cooper and J. E. Blinckhorn. Reaction of food establishment owners toward the ordinance was good. Dr. Douglas said Tuesday.

At their suggestion, the ordinance will be introduced.

8 'KID' HI JACKERS NABBED IN PORTLAND

PORTLAND, Ore., June 25.—Eight juveniles, branded by police as hijackers, soda works looters and bicycle and automobile thieves, were nabbed by Patrolman Lillis today along with their 12 year old leader, whose name, authorities said was "Johnny."

Johnny, police said, admitted he and the others hijacked a bootlegging establishment and sold the liquor for $19.50. In the soda works here they are said to have stole cases of syrups and sodas. Near hospitals they are said to have stolen automobiles and bicycles.

All were turned over to juvenile authorities.

Mountaineer at Medford Gashed But Keeps Still

MEDFORD, Ore., June 24.—(AP)—Clay Hill, 35, a mountaineer living on the Fools creek near Gold Hill, was in a serious condition at his home today, suffering from many knife wounds, inflicted last night by an unidentified assailant. He has refused to tell anything of the affray. His two brothers who obtained medical aid for him, likewise, are silent. Hill received an ugly gash in his throat and two deep wounds in his chest. One arm was badly slashed. The throat wound is within a fraction of an inch of the jugular vein.

Tallman Hunt is On Abroad; Tip Anonymous One

LOS ANGELES, June 25.—(AP)—The Los Angeles detective bureau today cabled London and Liverpool to watch for William L. Tallman, suspected slayer of Mrs. Virginia Patten more than three weeks ago. The action was taken when an anonymous tip reached the bureau that "Tallman sailed on a British ship." The British liner Parthenia, cleared from San Pedro Port of Los Angeles, on the same day that the Admiral Benson, coastwise vessel on which Tallman was supposed to have embarked for San Francisco, left its dock.

Shall Scouts Get Camp? Up to Public

Contributors, six in number came into the Statesman office Tuesday to add their bit to the fund for a permanent summer camp north of Mehama but slightly less than $100 was on hand when the count was made at 6:00 o'clock and $200 was needed to bring the campaign objective of $300 to a successful finish.

Tomorrow the Statesman will publish a list of all contributors to the fund up to the present time and it is hoped that at least a score more local citizens will "do their bit" to make the summer camp a reality.

According to O. P. West, scout executive for the Cascade Area, more than 150 boys will this summer take training work at the camp. Heretofore the scouts have been forced to take their summer work at camps provided by other councils but with the erection of a permanent camp cookhouse, permanent floors for tents and the securing of a long-time lease on 37 acres of land near Mehama, the Cascade area can now have its own camp location.

West is very anxious to see that the $300 is on hand this week to purchase materials for the permanent camp buildings. All work on the project is being donated.

Contributions should be mailed or brought to The Statesman office, checks being made in favor of the Cascade Council of the Boy Scouts. Judge Harry Belt, president of the council, has heartily endorsed the project.

BOOTH AND DUBY ON STATE PARK BOARD

Two Men With Highway Commission, to Secure Park Locations

Governor Patterson appointed H. B. VanDuser, Portland; Robert W. Sawyer, Bend, and C. E. (Pop) Gates, Medford, members of the state highway commission, and Judge William Duby, Baker, and R. A. Booth, Eugene, as members of what will be known as the Oregon Park commission.

The purpose of the commission is to cooperate with both federal and state officials in obtaining state and federal parks along the highways. Members of the commission will operate without compensation. Appointment of the commission was suggested by Will Siele, supervisor of Crater Lake park, and has received the indorsement of many newspapermen and other persons interested in the park program.

Seek Forest Fund

At the next session of the legislature Governor Patterson will seek the passage of a law authorizing the expenditure of funds for the perpetuation of forests along the state highways. The money would be handled by the state highway commission.

Governor Patterson pointed out that a number of parks already have been acquired by gift and purchase. Among these parks and their donors are Talbat Park, by Guy Talbot; Pilot Butte park, by Charles K. Brown, K. B. Miller and P. R. Miller; Crooked River park, by the Great Northern Railroad company; Saddle Mountain park and others.

Many letters have been received by Governor Patterson urging his indorsement of the park program.

From Portland to Salem Miss Morgan and Miss Tracy were given a lift by Captain W. H. Patterson, member of the state board of pilot commissioners, and Frank J. Smith, historian of the Oregon Steamboat Men's association. The young women said they left New York with $24 and expected to have enough left to eat on when they reach San Francisco.

TREASURY PUTS TABOO ON USE OF PROPOGANDA

Public Schools Not to be Used for Prohibition Instruction

Pamphlet on Subject of Liquor to be Available on Demand

WASHINGTON, June 25.—(AP)—The treasury department does not intend to use the public schools as a medium for disseminating propaganda favorable to prohibition.

Announcement of this policy was made late today by prohibition Commissioner Doran after the publication of a pamphlet, containing slogans supporting prohibition and an admonition to teachers to help law enforcement in their work, by Edna B. Sutter, director of the statistical and educational division of the prohibition bureau.

Commissioner Doran issued the announcement following a conference with under secretary Mills, assistant secretary Lowman and deputy prohibition Commissioner Jackson in the office of Mills. Earlier in the day Miss Sutter was summoned to a conference with Assistant Secretary Lowman dealing with the publication of the pamphlet, which also listed eight subjects for schools which deal with prohibition.

Radio Propaganda Not Given Approval

Miss Sutter also was quoted in newspaper articles as having said she hoped congress would later appropriate funds to enable the bureau to disseminate prohibition propaganda over the radio and in the newspapers. High treasury officials said they had not heard of the plan nor approved it.

Nothing has been heard of them since Saturday, when message purporting to announce their landing in the Azores was picked up by a Portuguese ship.

He started from Seward several days ago but because of rough water he abandoned his attempt and came here today, saying he would start tomorrow. By starting farther south he hoped to avoid rough water. He will go by way of the Panama Canal and expects to reach New York in five or six months.

The entire plant will be open to inspection, and the friends of the managers in Salem are especially invited to call and participate in the tour of inspection at any hour of the afternoon.

CONTRACTS TO HAUL PUPILS ARE APPROVED

School Board Opposed to Purchase of Trucks for District

Many Phases of Problem of Transportation Up at Meeting

Dr. H. H. Olinger, chairman of the Salem school board, and W. H. Burghardt, clerk, were authorized to enter into negotiations with J. E. McLean of Salem and to complete contract if satisfactory arrangements are evident for transportation of pupils from outlying districts to the local high school, at Tuesday night's school board meeting. Motion to that effect was made by Director Frank Neer. Negotiations will call for a two-year service.

Neer's motion brought to a partial close several weeks of consideration of the transportation problem placed upon high school districts through enactment of the last legislature, and at the same time his motion brought before the board more clearly than ever all the ramifications of the "importing" of pupils. The board early went on record as opposing entering into the bus business for itself, due largely to a feeling that another legislative session may see fit to cancel the law, thereby leaving the district with a number of "white elephants."

Numerous Problems Bob Up Before Board

Problems which bobbed up at Tuesday night's meeting and had not been previously discussed included: drivers for the busses; routes to be established and who is to establish them; discipline to be maintained in busses; number of pupils to be transported in each bus. Discussion of liability in case of accident was also indulged, the paramount question being whether or not the district will be liable when it simply contracts for use of a bus. The clerk read a statement prepared by W. M. Smith of the state superintendent's office from previous cases, in which it was found school districts were not held liable in such instance. Whether or not the board of directors would be liable was held a different proposition, dependent upon facts in the case.

Several members stated that McLean had told them he intended to hire high school boys to drive some of his fleet, this suggestion meeting some incredulity. McLean could, of course, hire such boys cheaper than older persons.

The board will hold an adj. (Turn to Page 2, Column 1.)

GRADUATE MANAGER AT HIGH SUGGESTED

If suggestion made by Dr. H. H. Olinger, at last night's school board meeting should bear fruit, Salem high school will follow the lead of Willamette university and take upon itself a graduate manager. Olinger, following discussion of student body finances and the present method of handling them, asserted that the student body could well afford to pay a graduate manager, giving him a generous percentage and still come out ahead. Board members offered scant opinion.
