Goes to Jail, June 24 In 1928: Year Later Is Back on Schedule

Harry Townsend of Independence beleves in doing things on schedule. Monday he was arrested in Salem on charges of drunkenness and breaking glass on a public thoroughfare. That was June 24. When he was fined $10 in municipal court, it was recalled that he owed $10 on a previous fine for a similar offense. And when the officers looked it up, they found that Townsend had been in jail here June 24, 1928. He hadn't been back in year that intervened. He paid both fines. S. Riggle, arrested with Townsend Monday, was also fined $10.
