FRENCH LEADER ENDS COMMAND

Soldier Who Quit Monastery for Army Quits Morocco for France

TAZA, Morocco, June 26.—(AP)—General Freydenberg, brilliant French soldier who quit a monastery for the barracks in his 40th year, in an order of the day to the soldiers and officers under his command in the Meknes district, today announced that he was relinquishing his command and returning to France.

The dashing red-headed general, who won all his stripes from corporal to brigadier general on the battlefield in charge of the territory where the French detachment was ambushed June 10 and where the post of Atiyakous was besieged by dissident tribesmen from the Atlas mountains.

Army circles thought that he had been recalled because of the interpellations facing the government on its Moroccan policy in the chamber of deputies.

Freydenberg has been one of the most successful of all the French commanders in handling the difficult military problems presented in Morocco. He has fought against the Touaregs, who brought him promotion from corporal to captain and gave him the gash which is still visible as a white streak through his flaming red hair.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Harold Lloyd, Mrs. Lloyd Hughes, Mrs. Robert Z. Leonard, Helen Ferguson, Edythe Mayer and Irene Mayer, all of the Hollywood Film company.

GOLFERS PRIMED TO START 'OPEN' TODAY

MAMORONECK, N. Y., June 26.—(AP)—If the country's best professional and amateur golfers are not ready for the open championship now they will not be this year, for the long 72 hole grind will start at 8:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Many of the start remained away from the course today, resting for the later ordeal. Others spent their time in last minute practice sessions and the rest feverishly galloped over the course, playing 18 holes and even 36 holes. Leo Diegel, who has been suffering from a lame back, was much better today and had a snappy 70 on his last practice round.

Fred Baroni, Pittsburgh and Al Akeroff, Youngstown, clipped a stroke each from par by scoring 71. Tommy Armour equalled par, as did Gene Sarazen.

Harry Cooper, the Buffalo pro, favored by many to be among the leaders, scored 76, taking seven at the 13th hole. Horton Smith said he was "around eighty."

Rotarians Will Meet All Comers In "Shoe" Match

Rotarians who are more or less expert at horseshoe pitching, have issued a challenge to the other service clubs for a "barnyard golf" tournament in connection with the inter-club picnic which will be held July 12 at Hager's Grove. Lytle Bartholomew and George Vick are coaching the Rotary team.

SUIT LOOMS ON TREASURE HUNT

$600,000 at Bottom of Sea Made Known; Wiley is Ready to Fight

OLYMPIA, Wash., June 26.—(AP)—Someone talked out of turn, concerning the $600,000 treasure supposed to be lying on the bottom of the ocean in the steamship Islander and E. H. Wiley's intentions of recovering the booty.

As a result, those persons here close to Wiley implied that court action would be sought against the person in Juneau who talked and the publishers who used the story.

"Yes," Wiley's friends said, "someone talked, but publishers will be sued if further accounts of the activities are published."

Wiley, an Olympia man, had been in Juneau, Alaska, looking over the situation with intentions of recovering the safe from 272 feet of water and had guarded the story and activities well for several months. But somehow the story got out.

The Islander sank 28 years ago off the coast of southeastern Alaska.

LAUREL CAPTAIN TO SEARCH OLD VESSEL

ASTORIA, Ore., June 26.—(AP)—Attempts to tow the Point Adams life saving boat from Peacock spit were abandoned today when on the third attempt to shoot a line from the boat which is beached opposite the wreck of the Freighter Laurel, the offshore line parted efforts to remove the lifeboat will be renewed tomorrow.

Captain Louis Johnson, master, and K. McNaught, second mate of the Laurel, passed through Astoria today enroute to Cape Disappointment. They will attempt to board the Laurel tomorrow to search for personal belongings left on the wreck. It is believed here that beachcombers have stripped the vessel of all small objects of value during the past few nights.
