

CHARGES MADE OF WILD PARTY

American Officers Stole Booz Then Went on Jamboree, Claim

WINDSOR, Ont., June 27.—(AP)—Charges that men attired as United States officers had a "wild party," at a St. Clair river port Monday night after hijacking 15 cases of liquor on Canadian soil, were made today by Joseph Tibodeau, liquor exporter of Port Lambton.

Five men, some of them in uniform, pulled into Canadian waters near the dock, he said, and removing their shoes and stockings and rolling up their trousers waded into the beach. Covering a watchman with guns they seized the liquor, carried it into their craft and roared away after taunting the watchman with derisive shouts.

15 Cases Seized
The Port Lambton men said they had traced the seizure on the American side, learning that 15 cases of whiskey had been turned in by certain officers but that several of the cartons had been opened and bottles removed. The men learned, they added, that the missing bottles provided for a party among the raiders.

Walter S. Petty, acting collector of customs at Detroit, was highly skeptical of the report. "None of my men would pull a stunt like that," he said. "Our men don't go in parties of five. They travel in pairs. I am confident none of them would dare to cross over the line to Canada and make a seizure."

Claims Discounted
"Last week the customs border patrol arrested a man on river St. Clair who claimed he had been arrested in Canadian waters. He already has been arraigned before the United States commissioner in Port Huron and is waiting trial. I have heard nothing of any further alleged invasion of Canadian waters or land. I don't think there is anything to it unless the five were hi-jackers dressed as officers."

AIR DERBY PLANNED TO BOISE, IDAHO

Flight Through Eastern Oregon to Point Out Shortest Route

July 7 the first annual air derby managed by the Yellowstone cut-off airways association will be flown from Redding, Calif., to Boise, Idaho, following the route of the Yellowstone cut-off highway with stops made at Alturas, Calif., Lakeview and Burns, Caldwell, Idaho and finishing at Boise, Idaho.

Competition will be restricted to planes of the OX5 type because the officers desire to demonstrate that the Redding-Boise route is practicable for the type of craft the public in general will use in years to come, rather than to stage a race with freak racing machines which speed the sole factor.

Safety Keynote Stressed
Safety in aviation is the keynote stressed in the instructions which have been sent out to the towns participating, and the local men in charge have been impressed with the necessity of carefully preparing the landing fields and making arrangements to handle the crowds which will gather to watch the planes land and take off again. Wind cones will be required on each field and finish lines must be marked. Flyers will be clocked onto each field as they zoom across the finish line for each leg of the race. From this time they will be given 20 minutes to land, refuel and take off for the next lap of their flight.

The event will be limited to 25 starters who will leave the Redding field at three minute intervals and invitations, together with entry blanks containing the official rules for the race, have been sent to various chambers of commerce in a great number of cities in the Pacific northwest. This was done because the idea is to have cities represented by flyers rather than making it an entirely personal thing with aviators entering as individuals. Three prizes will be awarded this year, $750, $500, and $250 for the first three with lowest elapsed time at the finish.

MEDLAR GETS HIS FLYER'S PAPERS

According to a letter just received in Silverton by Mrs. Warren Crabtree, from Miss Louisa Medlar, junior high teacher, who is spending the summer in Seattle, Dan Medlar, her brother, has just received his commission as second lieutenant in the flying corps at San Antonio. Mr. Medlar has visited in Silverton a number of times with his sister.

In honor of her son's fifth birthday, Mrs. Warren E. Crabtree entertained 12 little guests on Saturday afternoon. Each little visitor presented David with a pretty bouquet of flowers.

Favors at the tea table were large colorful balloons, and several kindergarten games were enjoyed. As an extra feature of the afternoon, Prof. Crabtree took motion pictures of the little folk in an outdoor parade. The guests included: Billie Hannan, Bonnie Hallett, Marian Hulse, Barbara Jeanne Palmer, Ruth Sanders, Jean and Beverly Arbutnot, Raymond Childers, Martin Brinden, Bobbie Hamre, Edna Wilson and John Walker-Sluster.

Mrs. Guy Danders and the hostess' mother, Mrs. Cate, assisted. Hadley's to Hillsboro. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hadley, formerly of Newton have moved from Walla Walla to Hillsboro, where Mr. Hadley has accepted a position with the Imperial Feed and Grain Co. of that city. They went to Walla Walla from Silverton last fall where Mr. Hadley was employed in the Southerland Electric company. While in Silverton, he was bookkeeper with the Fisher Flour mills, and Mrs. Hadley was in the office of the Silver Falls Timber company.

ELK CALF HAS COW AS MOTHER

"Baby Big Ears" Loses All His Bearings; Now Adopted

PORTLAND, Ore., June 27.—(AP)—When the cows came home down on Freddie Noah Jr.'s ranch, 20 miles up the Coos River from Marshfield today, as cows and family skeletons and black sheep will, in the cool of the evening, there was a strange looking member in the herd of bos-sies.

He had long dandy legs which appeared strangely out of proportion with the rest of the body, and he had a pair of big floppy ears that distinguished him at a glance from his sleek, trim fellow calves.

While most of the calves skipped at their mothers' sides, "baby big ears" marched a solemn beat at the flanks of the big Jersey cow, which had no such company when the herd left this morning for the pasture about a mile from the Noah farm house.

It had been the Jersey cow's duty, since she was not concerned with the duties of rearing an offspring, to provide milk for the Noah household. But when the pail and stool were obtained it became apparent at once that "baby big ears" had made other arrangements.

The Jersey cow had had motherhood thrust upon her; she had been adopted by an elk calf, not more than two weeks old.

A thorough search failed to reveal the mother elk which apparently had lost its infant.

So Noah asked Commissioner Harold Clifford if he might keep "baby big ears." Clifford said "temporarily" the elk could become a bovine.

MRS. LEFEVER GIVES AFTERNOON AFFAIR

Little Daughter Honored Upon Occasion of Her Birthday

VALSETZ, June 27 — A most pleasant afternoon was enjoyed Saturday at the home of Mrs. Dick LeFever where a party was given in honor of Gertrude LeFever, it being her sixth birthday. The guests were Vivian Farrar, Charlotte Massie, Hilda June Ross, Bernice Johnson, Virginia Green, Dorothy Davis, Betty Lou Morris, Harriette Hudleson, Dorothy Patton, Margaret and Orelia LeFever, Junior Morris, Billie Lebo, Donnie Davis, George and Low LeFever. Games were played and dainty refreshments served, after which the guests presented the little hostess with many lovely remembrances.

Mr. and Mrs. Coye Morris are entertaining Miss Vera Wheeler of Newport. Miss Wheeler is a cousin of Mr. Morris.

Farewell Party Given
A farewell party was given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. M. E. Raymond for her little granddaughter, Mary Jo Raymond, who is leaving in a few days for San Francisco, Calif., where she will spend her summer vacation. The guests were Marjorie Jean Thomas, Francis Neize, Catherine Hahn, Louise March, Doris Massie and Irene Patterson, all members of the little girls sewing club which adjourned for the summer. There were games played instead of the usual program of fancy work. A dainty luncheon was served and the children had a most enjoyable time.

BIRTHDAY PARTY IS VERY PRETTY FETE

SILVERTON, June 27.—In honor of Mary Elizabeth's second birthday, which was June 21, and of Robert's sixth birthday, on June 26, Mrs. Nye O. Bristol entertained 35 little folk on Saturday afternoon, at a delightful garden party. The lunch table was spread on the lawn, and each little guest was given a pretty colored cap and balloon. Several of the mothers of the younger guests were also present, and assisted the hostess in arranging outdoor games.

SILVERTON, June 27.—Complimenting Mrs. Davis, of Colorado, sister-in-law of Mrs. H. R. Irish, who is spending the month at the Irish home, Mrs. R. E. Kleinsorge entertained at bridge on Friday were used in decoration through afternoon. Delfinium and roses out the rooms where five tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. H. B. Latham and Miss May Service assisted the hostess in serving attractive refreshments. High score was won by Mrs. A. D. Woodmansee, and low score went to Miss May Service. A guest prize was presented to the honor guest.
