General Feng Believes He Will Go Abroad to Look Around

SHANGHAI, China, June 27.—(AP)—What appeared certain war between the nationalist government and Feng Yu-Hsiang and a group comprising the last large faction of militarists in the opposition now appears dissipated through the reported decision of Feng to go abroad to "investigate foreign conditions."

While this reported development on its face gives the nationalist government a tremendous forward step in its campaign of unification of the country, the situation of entire China north of the Yangtze is considered still in a state of extreme flux with the next few days likely to reveal authentic reactions.

It is believed by observers that if Feng should go abroad this would represent but a step in the real activities which have been going on for the past month in which Chiang Kai-Shek, president of the nationalist government, displayed ability termed as "uncanny" apparently to straiten out the difficulties between Feng and the central government.

It was announced that Feng would turn over all his armies and dominions to Yen Hsi-Shan, known as the model governor of Shansi province. Yen is declared to be working with the Nationalists while developments even indicate that he also is planning to leave China in event of which the Nationalist government directly and bloodlessly would take over the vast northwest areas which remain the last considerable territories in which the Nationalist government authority is not established.

Prior to the Sun Yat Sen state funeral near Nanking on June 1, war seemed certain, the crisis between Feng and the government having developed to a point where the two groups had half a million soldiers taking up positions in readiness to open hostilities at the funeral. The event, however, failed to materialize although both groups had openly stated that hostilities were destined to open momentarily.

For the past three weeks the Nationalist government has been silent concerning developments although it was known that Chiang Kai-Shek and his associates were striving in every way to bring pressure against Feng in order to oust him from the northwest without restoring to arms.

AMERICANS HURRY ON IN ENGLISH RACE

WIMBLEDON, England, June 27.—(AP)—Thursday was a day of almost complete triumph for Americans seeking English tennis titles at Wimbledon, with Miss Elizabeth Ryan, alone of the Yankee contingent falling by the wayside.

The former Californian was stopped in her quest of the women's single title when she met Sonorita Di Alvarez, of Spain, the Spanish star appearing a step nearer to the finals in which she lost last year to Helen Wills, when she defeated Miss Ryan in straight sets, 6-4, 8-6.

"Big Bill" Tilden had a brief workout in the mixed doubles paired with Mrs. Molla Mallory, defeated Baron von Kehring of Hungary and Miss J. Jamieson, 6-2, 6-2.

COLONEL AVERS TREATMENT BAD

Demand for Investigation Led to His Ouster, Hennessey Says

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., June 27.—(AP)—Thirty days after Colonel P. J. Hennessey recommended an investigation into the lack of cooperation between federal departments in this area he was informed that he was to be relieved from his post as coordinator of the eighth corps area, he testified today before the senate committee investigating patronage.

Colonel Hennessey said that immediately after his appointment as coordinator he began investigating law enforcement. He was informed, he declared, that liquor, narcotics and aliens were being smuggled into the United States over the 1,300 miles of Rio Grande border.

Disension Grows
Discussion had developed between William A. Whalen, superintendent of the district immigration office in San Antonio and Roy Campbell, customs collector at Laredo, and the differences increased when the border patrol was established, Colonel Hennessey said.

In September of 1927 he wrote the chief coordinator at Washington, suggesting an investigation and a month later he was informed that he was to be removed from his position, he said.

"I heard that Roy Campbell wanted to lead out the skids under me," Colonel Hennessey said.

Patronage Wrong
Colonel Hennessey's testimony was intended to show, it was claimed, that unsatisfactory handling of patronage had resulted in poor cooperation.

Mrs. Florence T. Griswold, San Antonio, republican national committeewoman, told Senators Smith W. Brookhart, Iowa, republican, and Kenneth McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, the committee members, that attempts had been made to get her signature to a promise that she would not participate in the bestial of offices in Texas. The proposal was made to her by Henry Zweifel, United States district attorney at Fort Worth, document, but was reappointed she said. She refused to sign the national committeeman despite threats, she declared.

BREWERS BID BEST LUCK ON JOURNEY

STAYTON, June 27.—Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Brewer were honor guests at a "pot luck" supper at the club house Tuesday evening, when a number of their friends gathered there to wish them god-speed on their trip to the continent.

Huge baskets of flowers in a red, white and blue combination were effectively used about the club room and soft shadow lights also added an attractiveness. On the long table were toy trains, ships and other articles, suggestive of travel.

Following the excellent meal, bridge was enjoyed. The high score of the evening for the ladies was awarded Mrs. Edw. J. Bel, while Dr. G. F. Korinek won high score for the men.

The guest list included, besides the guests of honor, Dr. Smith and wife, of Corvallis, who will take charge of Dr. Brewer's practice during his absence, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Tate, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Tate, Mrs. R. G. Rice, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Gardner, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Nelbert, Mr. and Mrs. Dave
