

EWING AGAINST SPLIT SEASON

Matter to Come Up at Monday Meeting of Coast Clubs

OAKLAND, Cal., June 29.—(AP)—When directors of the Pacific Coast League meet in San Francisco, Monday, to vote on splitting the season, J. Cal Ewing, president of the Oakland club, will oppose the plan, and, if it is passed, will lead a fight against adoption of any bonus money to be divided after the post season championship playoff series.

Ewing made known his attitude today. He declared that whether the season is split or not, he is opposed to taking a lump sum from the league's treasury to hand up to the winner of the two halves to play for. The Oaks official said voting of a bonus would be the means of penalizing Oakland for having a winning club.

The season will be half over tomorrow and if a split season is voted Monday, the San Francisco Missions will automatically become winners of the first half. As first half champions, the Missions are assured of at least 40 per cent of the bonus, provided such a proposition is put over. Last year, the bonus was divided 60-40.

stated at the time that the purpose was to bring in a new ordinance lacking the features to which the North Salem folk objected. They, however, saw it as an effort to nullify the referendum movement.

It is possible that the council will award a contract for the North Salem fire station, on which bids were received at the last meeting and referred to the fire and water committee.

New business coming up is expected to include the ordinance providing regulation of restaurants and food handlers.

MAJOR RELATES HIS STORY OF RESCUE

"At dawn we took the longitude by the sun, which showed that we were to the southwestward of the Azores. We therefore flew through the clouds and landed to economize fuel and examine the situation. We checked our position and took off, shaping a course for Fayal, but owing to a strong head wind, we ran out of gasoline about 40 miles from that point. A strong northeasterly wind drifted us to the south, and on the following day, the 23rd, we were about 100 miles from Fayal.

Wind blows up to Force of Hard Gale.

"The wind shifted to the southwest, reaching gale force, and drifted us toward the island of Santa Maria, from the 24th to the 27th winds of varying force and direction drifted us about. On the morning of the 27th the situation was extremely dangerous on account of wind and sea conditions.

Behind this simple statement, told in such unvarnished language, was the dramatic story of a struggle against the overwhelming odds the first details of what lay behind the veil that for the past week had obscured the fate of the four adventurous men who started from Spain determined to fly the Atlantic by way of the Azores.

For the first time it was learned that the fliers had "landed" to economize their fuel after discovering that they had missed the comparatively tiny Azores in the vast Atlantic and had passed beyond them. They resumed their flight, but exhausted fuel brought them down only 40 miles from the island of Fayal where the eyes of the world had restlessly centered awaiting their arrival.

CLEAR LAKE BRIDGE SOON READY TO USE

Lake Labish Center Work to be Undertaken This Summer

The Clear Lake bridge should be open to travel the early part of this week, according to announcement made Saturday by Frank Johnson, roadmaster. Work has been rushed the last week so that the bridge would be ready for the July 4 travel, and virtually everything but installing railing and cleaning up was done by Saturday.

Improvement of the Clear Lake road between the Russell and Colliard places will be undertaken this summer it was stated. It has been passable in the summertime but not in the winter. Grading has been done, and gravel will be put on this summer. The repair of this road will make it an important cutoff for a number of ranchers in the Clear Lake neighborhood.

Another new bridge will be put in near the Labish center school on the North Howell road, roadmaster Johnson announced. This bridge, to be constructed of cedar piling, will be 249 feet in length, and will cross Pudding river. Persons on the other side of the proposed bridge will be able to get out either to Salem or Portland; the main inconvenience will be worked on the mall carrier, but a rearrangement of his route will enable him to serve everyone, it was promised.

Are You Acquainted WITH THE Holt Windrow System

We believe it will save more grain—of higher quality—operate cheaper than any other windrow method of harvesting.

MANY CROPS ARE HARVESTED BY THE WINDROW SYSTEM, CLOVER, VETCH, RYE GRASS, SMALL GRAIN, ALSIKE AND OTHERS.

The HOLT windrow HEADER cuts the crop—places it in windrows for the seed to ripen—stems to cure and weeds to dry.

The grain comes out clean—fully matured—free of weed seed and weed stains. Higher quality demands higher prices.

The all steel HOLT is light of weight for light draft. Anti-friction bearings giving long life—smoothness of operation. Positive agitation saves extra bushels—that means extra dollars.

Combine direct whenever possible—with a HOLT combine. It is the cheapest known method of harvesting. Should your conditions warrant the windrowing system, the HOLT line offers the right equipment in the right size to harvest the crop, better, cheaper, quicker, easier.
