BUS FRANCHISE EYED FURTHER

Rosebraugh Aims Views Upon Espee Issue; Emergency Clause Unexplained

Further light was thrown, Tuesday, upon the ordinance and franchise which the city council referred Monday night to its ordinance committee when it was shown that the ordinance dealt with the general operation of motor buses on the streets of Salem, and that the franchise dealt specifically with the Oregon Stages Inc., retaining their four present franchises for operation under one inclusive order.

At the present time, according to Councilman W. W. Rosebraugh, there is no working ordinance under which the council can control all of the buses operating within the city.

The proposed ordinance would give the city power to regulate these transporting vehicles, and at the same time would limit operation to those companies able to comply with its requirements. The ordinance provides that:

Franchise Made Necessary For Operation of Bus
No motor bus may be operated on the streets of Salem without first obtaining a franchise from the city of Salem.
In consideration of such franchise the city of Salem shall receive $250 for the first bus of a company, and $10 for every bus in addition. The motor buses to be operated must be of modern construction to safeguard the public.
Enumeration of this section provides that the buses shall possess either all wheel mechanical or two-wheel air brakes, heat, turning lights, and at least six inch balloons tires on the front wheels, and six inch dual tires on the back.
Restrictions To Be Put On Competing Lines
The council would at time of granting of franchise make such operative conditions and restrictions as it deemed necessary.
The ordinance also provides that it shall be in effect immediately upon passage by the Council, and the receiving of the signature of the mayor.

Teeth are put into the proposed measure by providing that failure to observe these conditions, shall invoke the penalty of $25 per day for every day's failure to compliance.

Stage Line Agrees To All Conditions
The franchise which was submitted by the Oregon Stages Inc., asks for the right to operate on the streets of Salem, and assents to all the conditions as presented in the proposed ordinance. At the present time this company is operating nine scheduled buses under four separate franchises, and is paying $25 for each bus or $225 total to the city per year. Under the new ordinance this sum would be increased to $330 for the year.

It was learned that should the council take favorable action upon the ordinance that the Oregon Stages Inc. would exercise the option which they now hold on the Highland bus, and would purchase this vehicle for $3000. This transaction it was stated would in no way affect the service which is now being rendered in the district in which the Highland bus is operating.

Transportation Is Still Being Talked
Individuals interested in the high school transportation problem continue to call upon Acting Superintendent R. W. Tavener and members of the school board to get facts and figures on the proposition. Fred Kirwood and M. Smith, agent for the International truck, Tuesday asked for route outlines, and when shown those drawn up last week for the board, asserted they could probably handle the situation with six buses, hauling 50 pupils each.

Should these buses be used, the company will sell a fleet to a local man, who will in turn contract to the school board. Up to the time of the school board meeting, June 24, J. E. McClean of Salem had submitted the best proposition to the board, as a result of which the board ordered the chairman and clerk to negotiate with McClean to get the haulage. Report of these negotiations will be made at the board meeting next Tuesday night.

GRACE BURNS GETS DAMAGES OF $7500

Damages of $7500 were awarded Mrs. Grace Burns as administrator of the estate of Carl Burns, deceased, by a jury in the Coos county circuit court at Coquille this week. Burns was killed in an automobile accident on the Roosevelt highway in January when the car he was driving went over the bank.

W. C. Winslow represented Mrs. Burns and the Coast Auto lines were the defendants in the action. The damage is the maximum allowed under the Oregon law previous to an amendment passed in the 1925 legislature when damages of $10,000 was made the upper limit for damage payments from auto injury.

Trial is now in progress in the case of W. P. Gustafson of the Coast Auto lines, which Gustafson seeks damages for a skull fracture resulting from the accident in which Burns was fatally injured.

James P. Cooke Loses His Fight to Escape Prison; Court Hands Down Ruling

James P. Cooke, former head of the defunct firm of Overbeck & Cooke, of Portland, must serve a term of seven years in the Oregon penitentiary for embezzlement, according to an opinion handed down by the state supreme court here Tuesday.

The opinion was written by Chief Justice Coshow and affirmed by the Multnomah county circuit court. The firm of Overbeck & Cooke had a capital stock of $10,000 and went into voluntary bankruptcy in the early part of 1925. In addition to being president, Cooke was active in the management of the corporation and owned 60 per cent of its shares of stock. He had been connected with the corporation since 1907.

The evidence in the case showed that Welch took to the office of the brokerage firm a certificate of stock for 30 shares of California Petroleum common stock and another certificate of stock of 10 shares of B. F. Goodrich preferred, with directions to sell and send to him a check for the amount due him after deducting charges for commission. The stock was sold, and the money was not turned over to Welch.

gram will be Doctors W. Claude Adams, H. C. Firott, A. J. Brock, C. M. Harrison, Dave Chase, E. M. Hart, all of Portland, and Dr. R. C. Mulholland of Medford, the latter of whom will also show an exhibit of health education work.

Two outstanding speakers of the meet will be Dr. George H. Wandel, director of the bureau of dental health, of the Chicago Dental association, of Chicago, and Dr. Russell W. Tench, of the New York University dental school.

Before returning to Salem, Dr. and Mrs. Brunk will motor to Los Angeles and en route north will also stop at Klamath Falls and Diamond Lake. They will arrive home August 1.

The attractiveness of Oregon as a home state is shown by the heavy influx of new people during the past six months of this year. During this period the state chamber figures show the number of families increased from 181 during 1928 to 307 in 1929; investments by new folks have risen from $633,769 during 1928 to $1,127,725 in 1929; and acres of land purchased have increased from 11,494 in 1928 to 17,903 in 1929. The state chamber also reports that it has received letters from families who will come to Oregon to locate during the remaining six months of the year and they will have $1,140,650 to invest in property.

HIGH CLASS MOVIE BILL IS SCHEDULED

Opening at the Elsinore today for a three-day engagement is a double program, which promises considerable entertainment value for local theatre-goers.

Owing to the many requests for a return showing of that famous jungle picture, "Simba," George B. Guthrie, owner and manager, has decided to bring this unusual cinema back, and offer it on the same bill with Paramount's latest all-talking picture, "The Studio Murder Mystery."

"Simba" had a very successful engagement at the old Oregon theatre, where it played recently at road-show prices, but when this picture opens at the Elsinore today, it will be offered at the regular admission prices, with no increase in admission.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson, world-renowned explorers of jungle and animal life were responsible for the filming of "Simba," it having taken them more than four years to film. The entire picture was taken in the wilds of Africa.

On the same bill will be seen and heard "The Studio Murder Mystery," a 100 per cent talkie, full of thrills and suspense. An excellent cast including Neil Hamilton, Warner Oland and Doris Hill are in the cast.

Another bright spot on the bill is the surprise organ selection by L. Carlos Meier.
