Delightful Picnic Party at Hazel Green

One of the most delightful affairs of the year for the Ecclesiastical club was the picnic at Hazel Green Monday night. The picnic dinner was a "no host" affair enjoyed out under the trees of the park at long tables.

Following dinner a goodly part of the evening was spent in an initiation ceremony for three new members, Miss Audrey Winslow, Miss Josephine Maulding, and Miss Alice Gravis. After the initiation had been completed much fun was enjoyed in stunts and games.

Special guests for the occasion were former members of the club, Mrs. Ernest Wagner (Bertha Miller) of Los Angeles, Mrs. Alfred Erickson, and small daughter, Shirley Ann of Valsetz, Mrs. Gail Jones, and Miss Inez Wood. Other members present were Golda Wheeler, Charlotte Lindquist, Esther Erickson, Ivy Bowden, Ruth Kitchen, Mabel Alrick, Bernice Strand, Flora Turbull, Gladys Newberry, Vivian Eitter, Glenna Russell, Vera Olmsted, Irene Hughes, Rita Claggett, Irene Gosdale, Violet Bowden, Edna McElhenny, Louise Miller, Laura Magee, Emmadell Schwaubauer, Leota Beal, Leoyln Brown, Marcella Caspell, Ruth Moore.

After the picnic was over the whole group returned to serenade a newly married member of the club, Mrs. L. B. Schmidt, wife of Dr. Schmidt, and who was formerly Miss Gladys McKee.

Salem Hunt Club To Have Summer Location

Now that the Salem Hunt club has completed its incorporation its board of directors have arranged to have members be able to ride for the summer in the most advantageous place for vacation riding, according to its president, Rich L. Reimann.

A new site for the summer has been chosen out on the West Salem hills. The horses will be removed to this site from their present location at the state fairgrounds horse show barn some time within the next two weeks. Until then the club will continue to operate as usual with a regular instructor, "Jimmy" Emmons in charge.

The new location will give ample opportunity for out-riding over cool trails and in deep woods and will be a genuine pleasure to the members who are not able to leave the city for the summer vacation.

The new location is on the Glenn L. Adams place.

Wills-Doane Wedding Announced

Miss Mable Wills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wills of Carlton, and Walter Doane, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Doane of Salem, were quietly married Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in a lovely garden wedding at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Reynolds of Corvallis officiated.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Doane have been students at Oregon state college. Mr. Doane graduated in engineering in 1927. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Phi fraternity and also of the honorary fraternity in engineering, Tau Beta Pi.

Miss Ruth Kau was bridesmaid and Fred Hessler of Dayton was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Doane left immediately for Bartlesville, Oklahoma by way of Glacier park. Mr. Doane is connected with the Empire oil company in Oklahoma and the young people plan to make their home in Bartlesville.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK HERE FOUND GOOD

With merchants in the city making statements for the first half of the year of 1929, a general feeling of satisfaction with business to date and optimism concerning the outlook for the remainder of the year was expressed.

Business for many merchants started out well in January and February but was light for a number of weeks in the spring due to untoward weather which held back buying. Later in May buying picked up and June has generally been reported as satisfactory.

Several merchants said Monday that buying had increased materially as the July 4 holiday approached while the canneries' operations also had distributed considerable money in the community and speeded up sales.

REHEARING ASKED OF SUPREME COURT

Petition for rehearing of the case filed by W. M. (Pike) Davis, president of the Oregon state bar association, to set aside the ballot title prepared by the attorney general for the referendum measure attacking the so-called circuit judge law, was filed in the state supreme court here Monday.

The supreme court recently affirmed the ballot title. It was set out in the petition for rehearing that the ballot title failed to give the purpose of the act.

The law under referendum attack authorized the appointment of two additional circuit judges in Multnomah county.

Completed petitions have been filed and the referendum measure will go before the voters at the general election next year.

Stockwell Back After Long Trip Across Atlantic

Dr. H. K. Stockwell returned to his home here Sunday after a four-months study trip to Vienna, Austria, and he says although he enjoyed the continent, Oregon and Salem look mighty fine to him.

Mrs. Stockwell met the doctor in New York, returning home with him. An experience not reckoned on his itinerary but one which he was ready to cope with and for which he received commendation, was acting as ship surgeon when the regular doctor became ill. Incidentally, a transfer of medical supplies in mid-ocean was necessary for proper care of the regular ship surgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Smiley and their niece, Ernestine Smiley went to Coos county Saturday. They will return home Monday.

July Starts as Hot Month With Temperature 90

Up, up, steadily up goes the maximum temperature as July arrives and becomes the present. The first day of the month brought the highest temperature of the year with 90.

The river is slowly going down and the wind holding steadily with these signs of summer, the minimum recordings are coming up to the point where driving with out coats in the evening will be something looked forward to all afternoon.

Bill Stultz, Ocean Pilot For Amelia Earhart, Dies In New York Plane Crash

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., July 2.—(AP)—Bill Stultz was killed in a crash Monday the second successful airplane pilot to cross the north Atlantic ever to be killed in a plane smash. Two other men were killed with him.

The first crossing of the north Atlantic by plane was made just ten years ago by John Alcock and Arthur Whitten Brown and the same year Alcock was killed when his plane fell in England.

Since then Lindbergh has crossed that treacherous sea and Chamberlain and Levine, the Byrd expedition, Brock and Schlee, the Bremen crew, those of the Yellow Bird and Amelia Earhart, Lou Gordon and Wilmer Stultz.

All of these have kept on flying and all were alive until today. Then Stultz took up a couple of friends to do a bit of stunting and a few minutes later both Stultz and the friends were dead.

They went up in an open biplane owned by John Hay Whitney, Stultz' employer, and about 300 feet from the ground they went into a tail spin. The two passengers, Pasquale Castelluccio and Edward B. Harwood were dead when pulled from the wreckage, and Stultz died as he was being carried into the Nassau county hospital in Mineola.

Stultz did not regain consciousness after the accident and so he could not tell what had happened, but there were two mute witnesses, a left and a right shoe that did not make a pair, that told the story well enough for those with a bit of imagination.

It was the first time Castelluccio and Harwood had ever been up. Stultz took them through a series of loops and on one of the loops witnesses said he barely missed a rooftop.

After the plane crashed investigators looked in the crumpled forward cockpit and there they found one right shoe caught on the rudder control on one side and a left shoe similarly caught on the other side.

Castelluccio and Harwood had sat together in that cockpit and those reconstructing the accident saw evidence in these unmarked shoes that they had been terrified by the stunting and had unintentionally jammed their feet in such position that they had taken control of the ship from the pilot.

It was the fourth fatal accident to planes from Roosevelt and Mitchell fields within a week, the other victims being Francis Phillips, son of the late Queens sewer magnate; Jash Ashcraft, endurance flier, and Corporal Elmer Barry, army stunt flier.

Stultz was 29 years old and was married. He first came to wide public notice when he signed up to pilot Mrs. Francis Wilson Gray-son's plane down across the Atlantic. He had a disagreement with Mrs. Grayson and resigned from the expedition before the plane flew away a year and a half ago, never to be seen again. Next he was employed by Charles A. Levine and flew Levine and Miss Mabel Boll in a non-stop flight to Havana, later being selected to pilot Miss Boll across the ocean in Levine's trans-Atlantic plane Columbia. He switched from Miss Boll's colors to Miss Earhart's, however, and was successful in landing the Earhart plane Friendship in Wales. Since then he had been privately employed.

The county paving plant will begin its operations shortly after July 4, according to roadmaster Frank Johnson. Patching of
