MRS. FULKERSON GETS SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs. Mary L. Fulkerson, county school superintendent, has just been notified that she is recipient of a traveling scholarship, from the Commonwealth fund, parent institution of the Marion county child health demonstration. The scholarship is granted to further knowledge of health education and to leave local health leaders with the demonstration closes its work at the end of this year.

Several scholarships have been granted for study at eastern and southern universities this summer, including those to William W. Fox, rural school supervisor; George W. Hug, city school superintendent; and Mrs. Grace S. Wolgamott, director of physical education in the Salem schools. County Superintendent Fulkerson is particularly pleased with a traveling scholarship, inasmuch as she believes the observation of actual work in a number of schools will be of greater benefit to her work than attendance at a summer session. She will probably use the scholarship during March, when work is somewhat slack in her office. Itinerary has not been outlined. Word that the scholarship had been awarded was first received Friday by Dr. Estella Ford Warner.

Mismatched Shoes In Salem Store Cause Comment

Buster Brown Shoe company has been promoting a unique contest for the last three days in the center showcase in the entrance of their store. The case was full of shoes—one pair of shoes was mismatched and to the man and the woman who guessed which of these was the mismatched pair, a pair of well mated shoes was to be given.

The resulted was far-reaching even to bringing out matrimonial difficulties as shown by a note received concerning the mismatched shoes which ran thus: "I am so mismatched I would be thankful for a mismatched pair of shoes."

The final results Saturday night gave the correct guess for women to Mrs. R. F. Groshong, Brooks, and the correct guess for the man to W. J. Hardie, 755 Breys avenue.

SHORT TIME LEFT UNTIL CHAUTAUQUA

"Skidding" Featured Play for Fourth Night of Program

Only a short time remains until the fourth night of chautauqua here. The 1929 program as announced by the local committee, is the result of the efforts of a corps of experts who have spent the past year in arranging a program designed to please all classes and ages.

"Skidding," the play given on the fourth night of chautauqua has had the longest run of any play on Broadway during the past season. The chautauqua management is fortunate in securing so recent a New York success. Chautauqua is carrying out their policy of bringing the best to the people instead of the select few having to go to large cities to hear such plays.

Jay Tobias, "Prince of Comedians" will open the 1929 program with his famous spice cake musical revue. He is one of the best known and most popular comic entertainers on the American platform. With his company he brings a whirlwind of laughter, good music and genuine entertainment, clever makeups, the giant accordion, colorful costumes, saxophone, banjo, violin and other instruments all go to make up the clever ensemble Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock.

HOLINESS CAMP TO BEGIN JULY 10

Rev. Calvin Choate will be special evangelist for the Marion county Holiness camp meeting which will begin July 10 and continue through Sunday, July 21. Directors of the camp are planning to make much of singing the old gospel hymns and to this end a large choir from the different churches has been organized.

Quartets and duets, as well as solos, will be features of the musical program. Mrs. Alma O. Smith will have charge of the children's work at the camp and will hold a special children's service daily at 1:30 o'clock. Preaching services will be held each day at 10:30, 2:30 and 7:30 o'clock. Free entertainment will be given all who camp on the grounds throughout the season, and transportation will be furnished free. The camp is located at Quinaby park, six miles north of Salem, and may be reached either by the River road or the Pacific highway. Persons desiring further information should get in touch with Mrs. Clara Cooley, 792 Gains street, Salem, phone 1873-J. Tent orders should be placed to Mrs. Mary Staunton, 2265 N. Church street, phone 454-W.
