Salem Heights Lads Have Poor Luck Fishing On Hike To Indian Prairie Lake

SALEM HEIGHTS, July 8. — Robert Venns and Arthur Anderson of Portland, Dale Caldwell, Willis Caldwell, Jr., and Floyd Douglas of Salem Heights spent the weekend on a fishing trip.

They packed in 11 miles to Indian Prairie lake. The fish did not bite very well. Only 18 fish were caught by boys. The sizes of the fish ranged from eight inches up to 22 inches.

Besides fishing the boys enjoyed swimming every day.

The group met two old timers, Joe Fisher and John Santner of Stayton, who had fished on the lake at various times for years. They entertained the young fishermen with their experiences as trappers, hunter, and fishermen in the early days.

The boys returned to Salem stiff and sore but happy and were willing to repeat their trip.

They reported that the mosquitoes were biting fine.

Move to Klamath Falls

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Robertson have moved to Klamath Falls where Mr. Robertson has accepted a position in a mill.

Mr. and Mrs. George W. Herschbach and family celebrated the Fourth of July at Newport.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bohannon spent the weekend at the coast.

Miss Nora Davidson and friends went deep sea fishing at Newport July 4.

Mrs. Butler was called to the bedside of her son, Jessie Warrington of Portland.

Miss Theresa Schotttoffer, Miss Maida Caldwell and Miss Rozelle Straub motored to Toledo, Newport and Harlam.

Keizer

KEIZER, July 8.—Mrs. Arthur Holden and daughter, Eileen, left by auto Saturday morning upon receiving word that her father, Mr. Buell of Myrtle Point had suffered a stroke of paralysis.

Things were pretty quiet over the Fourth at Keizer. Nearly every one went to the beach or on a picnic.

Loganberry and cherry picking is in full blast in Keizer community. The logans are looking especially fine.

Mr. and Mrs. David Saucy gave a 6 o'clock dinner Wednesday evening in honor of Nick Brinkley and Jewell Gardner, whose wedding will take place Sunday, July 7 at the Jason Lee church.

Zena

ZENA, July 8.—Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Edwards of Lincoln and children Elnora and Kenneth attended the annual homecoming of the Edwards clan at Roberts Sunday.

The picnic was held at Riverdale Park, owned and operated by W. C. Pettijohn, where the lovely grounds, swimming and playground apparatus provide an ideal place for picnics.

D. C. Wallace of Arizona, an old friend of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Merrick when they resided at Buell, visited them at their home at Lincoln Monday.

D. R. Hule who has been painting a fruit house, fell from a 15-foot scaffold breaking a rib. A large barrel standing under the scaffold partially broke the force of his fall.

C. A. Muths, who has been visiting several months at Port Townsend, Washington, has returned to his home at Lincoln. Mr. Muths was very ill here during the winter and his trip to Washington proved to be quite beneficial.

ZENA, July 8.—The 13th annual reunion of the Walling clan was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Walling at Lincoln, June 30. Mrs. Anna Walling Peaslee and Ben Walling, both of Portland, who were ill, were the only living members of the immediate family who were absent. A sumptuous basket dinner was served on tables in the grove near the house and was followed by an excellent miscellaneous program. Horseshoe pitching was enjoyed by young and old alike. The president of the organization, John Walling, was unable to attend and Mrs. Grant Walling presided at the program which was as follows: Saxophone and piano number, Ellis and Marjorie Walling; a vocal solo, James Mott; instrumental numbers by Mr. McLardy, radio artist; interesting remarks on family history by H. WOMAN, 82 DIES AT HOME

Mrs. Estella Moshberger Was Faithful Member of Her Church

WOODBURN, July 8.—Mrs. Estella Moshberger, for years an esteemed citizen of Woodburn, passed away at her Cleveland street home Tuesday and was buried from the First Presbyterian church of this city Friday.

Mrs. Moshberger was the wife of Charles Moshberger who died nearly 10 years ago at the same home she was living in at the time of her death. She had been, up to the time of recent ill health, a devout Christian and was a member of the Presbyterian church here. Before she was married she resided with her parents near Canby but since then she has lived in Woodburn until her death at 82 years of age.

Surviving her are four sons, Orson Moshberger of Portland, Lawrence Moshberger and Colonel Eugene Moshberger of Woodburn, Raymond Moshberger of Palo Alto, California and brothers, sisters and grandchildren.

Hazel Green

HAZEL GREEN, July 8.—B. C. Zelinski has harvested four tons to the acre of Marshall strawberries from acreage leased from N. P. Williamson.

N. P. Williamson has leased almost all of his 240 acre farm for strawberries to the following: B. Z. Zelinski, Orville Luckey, Mr. Bibby, Tony Kasper, Mr. Dougherty.

Albert Hashebacher has the finest corn in the community. Max Woods' corn is a close second.

Mrs. Edward Dunigan Jr. has an acre of cucumbers which is doing fine. The cucumbers are being raised for the pickle factory at Monitor.

Orville Luckey, C. A. Van Cleave, W. G. Davis, F. W. Ware and G. G. Looney have prospects of a good prune crop. Other orchards are not up to their usual crop.

W. G. Davis and son, Homer Davis of Monitor have an acre of stock beets that are good.

B. C. Zelinski and brothers, Joseph and Charles Zelinski have a fine crop of wild blackberries now being picked. These berries are bringing a good price.

Fred Hashebacher Sr., has the best oats in over 30 years of farming. Mr. Hashebacher and brother, Gottlieb, came from Switzerland.

C. A. Kobow, who is baling hay here says the clover was hurt by the freeze and the baling season is shorter than usual.

Max Wood has extra good wheat and oats.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph are rejoicing over the arrival of a baby boy Wednesday morning. Mother and babe are doing nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Zelinski and children, Lawrence, Clarence and Gertrude, Ina and Ronald spent a day at Silver Creek Falls. They reported roads in good condition.

Max Wood and Frank Zelinski filled silos last week with clover. C. A. Kobow doing the cutting.

Max Wood, Frank Zelinski, Clem Wolf, Fred Hashebacher, C. J. Stuphel and G. G. Looney have purchased a silo filler.

Mrs. Williams, sister of F. W. Ware has returned home to Yreka, Calif., after several weeks visiting her brother. She was very much pleased with Oregon.

HATCH IS MADE HAPPY

Butternut Trees Revive Memories BACK TO BOYHOOD DAY

Mrs. Callin

By MADALENE L. CALLIN

MANY stories have been written about how men looked back on their boyhood days and dreamed of the time when they searched through the autumn woods for nuts. Somehow the nuts they got in later years never tasted quite so good and they have longed to turn time backward and again search through the fallen leaves for those treasures that they sought so eagerly.

In his boyhood J. B. Hatch, now of Falls City, gathered butternuts along old French creek in Pennsylvania. French Creek was the scene of many French and Indian war skirmishes and interesting indeed are the stories of these days.

After Mr. Hatch came to Oregon his sister who still lived in Pennsylvania sent him some of those butternuts gathered from along French Creek. He planted some of the nuts and before long they began to grow. That was seven years ago and the trees have made remarkable growth. This year they blossomed and Mr. Hatch is looking forward to having butternuts this fall.

The automobile has brought the city and the farm much closer together but even yet one wonders at the colossal ignorance of the city man and woman in regard to the simplest every day things on the farm.

Not long ago a beautiful car stopped in front of the Waldo Finn home at McCoy. A lady alighted and came to the door. Mrs. Finn greeted her and the lady asked, "Are those lovely flowers for sale?" Now there are flowers in the Finn yard of course but not in commercial quantities. Mrs. Finn asked, "What flowers?" "Why those lovely blue ones. Do you raise them for the Portland market or will you sell just a few?" "Mrs. Finn was more than ever puzzled. The Portland market? What could the woman mean? "Just where are these flowers you want? I am afraid I do not understand."

"Why right there in that field. There must be acres of them." She pointed to a field of vetch in full bloom.

Light dawned in the puzzled mind of Mrs. Finn. "Why those are not grown for the flowers; she explained, that is vetch and we raise it for hay."

"Oh, was the pained reply." Do you mean to tell me that you feed those beautiful flowers to the cattle?"

She departed seemingly hurt at the lack of aesthetic appreciation she had found.

Soon after coming to Oregon, William Looney was drowned in the Santiam river near Jefferson. After his death Mrs. Looney married Mr. Doty and they settled on a donation land claim near Jefferson.

C. A. Kobow attended the buckaroo at Molalla on the Fourth.

Mrs. Alois Schwank (Alice Hashebacher) and baby daughter, Loretta of Portland, were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hashebacher the past two weeks, her husband joining her on the Fourth.

The Looney and Doty families will hold their reunion at the Grandfather Doty farm near Jefferson, July 14. Virgil Looney of Albany is president of this group.

Mr. and Mrs. William Looney and five children came from Missouri by automobile in '48, turning south from the Oregon trail, going to Sacramento where they spent the winter of 49 and 50. William Looney's mother was the first white woman buried there.

On this farm the descendants meet for an all day picnic in the grove on the Santiam where the young folks enjoy the "swimming hole."

Rev. Miss Luckey and father, James Luckey, spent the Fourth at Champney.

Bethel districts on high school transportation will meet at the Bethel school house Monday evening July 8 at 8 p. m. All interested should be present.

D. A. Harris went to Mill City Tuesday to visit his daughter, Mrs. A. S. Baker.

O. D. Binegar has traded his five acre tract for the largest house on the Childs tract.

R. West of Swegle has just finished drilling a well for Irvin Caplinger.

Mr. Caplinger will build a new house in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson of Salem were callers at the M. M. Magee home Sunday evening. Mrs. Robertson is well known here as Mabel Beaver.

A crowd of young people called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith Friday evening and treated them to an old fashioned charivari.

Lake Labish

LAKE LABISH, July 8.—Miss Minnie Neufeldt, guest at the Hether home at Woodburn for July Fourth. Miss Neufeldt is the daughter of Rev. Neufeldt, of Woodburn.

Brush College

BRUSH COLLEGE, July 8.—Mrs. T. D. Pomeroy of Texas has just left after a week's visit here with her brothers, A. E. Ewing and Fred Ewing and their families. Mrs. Pomeroy was enroute to California when she stopped to visit in Brush college.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hogan of Redwood City, California and four children, Blanche, Edward, Donald and Jean, are visitors in Oregon this month. Tuesday they were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Whitney of Brush College.

Dr. Corydon Blodgett had a very serious heart attack Thursday, following a hemorrhage of the eye, at his home at Brush College. Dr. Blodgett has never fully recovered his strength since he had a hard siege of flu.

Yank Firm Gets Contract With Russian Soviet

NEW YORK, July 6.—(AP)—The New York Herald Tribune tomorrow will say road construction contracts totaling $150,000,000 have been awarded by the government of Soviet Russia to the Seabrook company, a New York firm. The contracts, it was said, will be spread over a period of six years and specify the construction of 14,000 miles of road in the province of Moscow.
