

Don Moe Makes Even Par to Quality in Mission Hills Play

PORTLAND MAN WITH LEADERS

71 is Low Score Turned in by Four Players in Western Meet

MISSION HILLS COUNTRY CLUB, Kansas City, July 8.—(AP)—Four players who had not been courted among the favorites shared low medal 71's for the first 18 holes of qualifying play today in the Thirtieth Annual Western Amateur Golf tournament.

Clarence Hebb, Dallas, Tex., millionaire who made his fortune by raising chickens; Chester Jones, Lawrence boy and University of Kansas sophomore playing under the colors of the Swope Park club, Kansas City; Frank J. English, veteran Milburn club player of Kansas City, and Frank Ayward, another Swope park player, made 71, one under par.

Eighty one strokes, nine more than par, were required by the veteran Chicago golfer in his first 18 hole test.

Close behind the leaders came Don Moe of Portland, Ore., and Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City. Each had 72, even par. Moe was among the leaders last year and is striving to carry back again to his home city the title left undefended by his fellow townsman, Frank Dolp.

Will He Fill Speaker's Shoes?

BY QUIN HALL
THERE MAY be some important civic questions to be decided in Cleveland, Ohio, but wherever men gather in the evenings the conversation usually starts off with "This fellow Averill" and is bolted down there securely for a considerable part of the evening.

Averill is the expensive outfielder purchased from the San Francisco Seals. He looks like "the prize rookie of 1929" to a lot of fans who take their baseball seriously, and his purchase nicked the Tribe bankroll for a reported $50,000.

The Cleveland fans are already beginning to forget the loss of Tris Speaker, the great old Gray Eagle. They figure that, before the year is over, Averill will have done things around the American League which will be worth re-reading during the long winter evenings when they sit around munching apples and eating pop corn.

NEW YORK, July 8.—(AP)—Johnny Dundee, former featherweight champion, won the decision over Cannonball Eddie Martin, former bantamweight king, in a ten round bout at Dexter park, Brooklyn, tonight.

Dundee outpointed Martin by a wide margin all the way. The former bantamweight champion's tactics got him nowhere in the face of Dundee's clever boxing.

Dundee weighed 129½; Martin 128½.

SENATORS KEEP FIRST POSITION

Salem Team Shades Kelso 8-7 to Retain Lead in Baseball League

Table showing baseball league standings for Ore.-Wash. League.

At Salem—Salem 8, Kelso 7.
At Portland 2, Wolter's All Stars 0.

The winning punch was demonstrated once more by the Salem Senators Sunday when they defeated the speedy Kelso ball team 8 to 7 and catapulted into a niche all alone at the top of the Oregon-Washington league percentage column.

The aforesaid winning punch was pretty largely personified by Billy Sullivan, who had a perfect game at bat for the second consecutive Sunday, maintaining his 1.000 per cent batting average for the second half of the season with five hits out of as many trips to the plate.

Billy's Texas leaguer single in the last half of the ninth put the game on ice, Hafensfeld coming in on that hit for the winning run.

Just before, Lamb had scored on Hafensfeld's hard drive to the third baseman, to tie the score. Kelso had forged ahead with a run in the eighth after the teams had been tied from the fourth at six all.

Kelso started strong with two runs in the first inning and four in the third. After that Barham tightened, allowing not more than one hit to the inning.

The Senators came back slowly but steadily, scoring two runs in the second, one in the third and three in the fourth.

The ninth inning rally was a thriller. Lamb poked out a two bagger. Then came Hafensfeld's lightning drive that bounced off the third baseman's shins and hit the score board, Lamb scoring.

Hafensfeld went to second on Bigbee's infield out, and raced home while the second baseman and center fielder were vainly trying to corral the ball that Sullivan hit.

WORLD TITLE IN WRESTLING UP

Largest Crowd in History of Sport Expected to See Big Match

BOSTON, July 8.—(AP)—Gus Sonnenberg and Ed "Strangler" Lewis will go through their heavy-weight championship wrestling match here tomorrow night at Fenway park before the critical eyes of athletic officials from three outside states as well as a crowd that promises to be the largest in the history of the sport.

Both wrestlers completed their long training sessions this afternoon. Lewis at nearby Revere beach and the champion at his shady camp in Danvers. Lewis lost his title to the former Dartmouth football player here last winter.

Joe Coffey and "Doc" Krone, rival Chicago wrestling promoters who accompanied Commissioner Samuel P. Luzzo of the Illinois State Athletic commission here for the match, announced they had signed both Sonnenberg and Lewis and planned to match the winner of tomorrow night's match with an opponent selected by the Illinois authorities.

They said they would stage this match jointly in Chicago on or about Labor day.

Curt Comments

Howdy, fans. Did you miss it? "Why do you always stick up for the Senators? Why not raise them once in a while like the Portland papers and the D-coys?" That's the line we heard a while back, but lot lately.

These comments are supposed to be Curt, and they will be when conditions justify, but we haven't seen the justification for jumping on the Solons yet. They're a whole lot better ball team than Salem deserves to have, considering the financial support it has given. And now they seem to be producing, even against the clubs with overflowing money bags behind them.

They'll be calling Billy Sullivan "Dinkelspell." Only a few of the fans will get that one, but anyway it's no slam.

Last week while you fans were looking in vain for this column, we were up at Bend getting our annual beating at a tennis tournament that we inaugurated. Yes, we were "eliminated."

One of the players used the word "eliminated" and his small son asked him if they gave the winners lemonade.

If you think they play "oop" tennis up in central Oregon, you're badly fooled. There were varsity players there from U. of O., Oregon State and Willamette—and a home town sawmill hand won the men's singles.

And the reason is that Bend is overcrowded with public courts.

Salem will develop a raft of good tennis players when it gets plenty of public courts and the boys and girls get the proper encouragement.

Oh, that expression "oop" players. It means players who whang away at the ball, look where it goes and then say "oop!" in an apologetic sort of way.

Some of the fans have been wondering when we'll say something funny in this column. Give us time. Harry Plant is likely to pop a good one in our face most any day.

We notice where Don Upjohn has been raving against the big "show" signs at the street corners. Why doesn't he get up courage to drive into one and find out it's made of rubber?

BASEBALL HELD LOSING GROUND

Interest Falling Off, Yale College Professor Says In His Report

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 8.—(AP)—college baseball has become "an increasingly vexed problem," says Prof. George H. Nepton, Chairman of the board of control of the Yale University Athletic association, in his annual report, made available tonight.

"Even friends of college baseball frankly admit the considerable decline in general interest in the sport," said the report.

"Doubtless the major reason for this is the great increased participation of students in all forms of outdoor sports, with the consequent multiplication of class and scrub teams and crews, and the increased opportunities for formal and individual recreation in such sports as tennis and golf.

"This change, amounting almost to revolution, in general student attitude has, in the spring at least, largely emptied the grandstands and crowded all available playing fields of every kind.

"Yale's early addition and constant development of the policy 'athletics for all' are matters of common knowledge. The logical result has been most gratifying even to those who find themselves intimately connected with the now recognized decline of interest in college baseball. No one would contenance for a moment a call 'back to the bleachers' but especially to various colleges closely associated with Yale in athletics, the situation in baseball has become an increasingly vexed problem."

GOOD FIELDING WINS FOR LEGION BALL 9

Superior fielding, principally, gave the American Legion ball team a 3 to 0 victory over the Building Trades nine in a Commercial league game Monday night.

Hooper of the Building Trades held the war veterans hitless, but five errors permitted the latter to score runs in the second and third innings.

Schnee, Legion pitcher, was nicked for three hits, two of them in succession in the third inning, but with good support, kept the constructors from making the circuit.
