

Local News Briefs

Tax Refund Claimed—A steady stream of claimants for tax refunds under the over-collection refund act of the 1920 levy is coming into the county clerk's office. The refunds were advertised in the local papers this week and range in size from one cent to $50.00. The reason for the refund lies in the fact that the budget for 1920 exceeded the six per cent limitation and under a court action, the county was compelled to refund the excess tax collected to all taxpayers of 1920. In event the money is not claimed, the funds will revert to the general fund of the county.

Lippold Visits—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lippold and Billy, Jr., visited last month with Mrs. John M. Lippold at her home on 297 South 15th street. Mr. Lippold is director of the Louisville Institute of Technology, maintained by the Y. M. C. A. of Louisville, a department which has more than 1000 students enrolled. While this is Mr. Lippold's first visit to the west he is thoroughly delighted with the country.

Will to Meeting—Dr. David B. Hill leaves Saturday for Estes Park, Colorado, where he will attend the national convention of the association of orthodontists of which he is a member. The doctor expects to be away from Salem for ten days. Ordinarily he would take his movie camera with him but he has loaned the camera to the Chemeketa to permit them to take pictures on the trip to Mt. Jefferson.

Dr. Brown Visitor—Dr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of San Diego, Calif., were visitors in Salem Tuesday calling on Mr. and Mrs. A. N. Bush while here. They were on their way to the meeting of the National Medical association in Portland. Dr. and Mrs. Brown are neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Bush in the latter's home in San Diego.

Called to Portland—Rev. F. C. Taylor of the First Methodist church has been called to attend a meeting of the Board of Home Missions of the Oregon Conference in Portland Friday of this week. O. ## LONG FAVORS MODIFICATION

Present Status of Dry Laws Not Satisfactory, He Tells Kiwanis

The thinking public of America is not satisfied with the present situation of prohibition, Rev. Ward Willis Long of Stockton, Calif., declared Tuesday in an address before the Salem Kiwanis club. Opinion is divided as to the proper means of handling the situation although the public is quite generally agreed, Long averred, that the return to the licensed saloon is not to be tolerated. He did not suggest a solution for the existing situation other than to state that the way out lead in a return to temperance and sobriety.

Three other problems deemed as great moral issues before the American public were touched on by the speaker. The first he characterized as the problem of the breakdown of moral standards, the second the miscarriage of justice and the third the problem of international peace. Kiwanians can do much to aid in the solution of these problems, the speaker declared.

Long stated that all citizens might well be divided into three classes: men who didn't know about the problems confronting America and didn't care; men who were hostile to good government and men who studied the problems of government and desired to do their share in their solution. In the latter class, Kiwanians belong, Long declared.

Rev. Long has been visiting in the city for the past 10 days. His home is now at Stockton, Calif., where he is pastor of the Presbyterian church in that city.

Sam Cohen, publicity manager of the Elsinore theatre, introduced the members of the Fanchon & Marco "Opportunity Idea" to the club and Miss Salem, Dorothy Beyerly made a short talk expressing her appreciation on being in her home city. One of the members of the cast gave a pianologue. The attendance prize offered by Harry Crain was awarded to Gerald Fletcher.

A number of Californians were visitors at the noon luncheon.

OPPORTUNITY IDEA IS SHOWN TONIGHT

Tonight at the Elsinore theatre the Fanchon & Marco "Opportunity Idea" will be presented by a group of girls chosen from leading cities up and down the coast. Dorothy Beyerly chosen several months ago as "Miss Salem" will be starred in the local presentation.

Tuesday noon the girls engaged in a parade about the streets of Salem while at 1 o'clock they made an informal appearance at the Kiwanis club luncheon.

Mayor T. A. Livesley in a letter sent to the press Tuesday welcomed Miss Salem on her return home and urged support of the Elsinore in its show. Mayor Livesley's letter follows:

"Salem is again fortunate in the matter of having a girl who has been chosen and placed on the Fanchon & Marco circuit due to her own efforts and talents. I take this occasion to announce the arrival of Dorothy Beyerly showing in the Fanchon and Marco 'Opportunity Idea' Wednesday evening, July 10, at the Elsinore theatre.

I hope and believe the citizens of Salem will fill the theatre to overflowing to show their appreciation of her wonderful efforts and again giving another boost to Salem and if possible to aid her in her work.

is succeeded by A. N. Bryant who has been in the local office since March 1 familiarizing himself with this territory. Prior to his arrival in Salem, Mr. Bryant was city passenger agent in Seattle and later traveling agent at Vancouver and has been with the Southern Pacific for over ten years. The place left vacant by the promotion of Mr. Bryant is filled by Lester Hufstadter who comes to Portland from the general office in Albany. Mr. Hufstadter was also for a number of years stationed at Albany, Eugene and other valley points.

DR. M'CORMICK TO MARRY ON JUNE 16

Dr. J. D. McCormick of the Kimball School of Theology will marry Miss Myrtle L. Weise of Pasadena, Calif., at a very quiet service in Medford July 16. Following the ceremony, the couple will make a number of trips into the southern and eastern parts of the state, where Dr. McCormick will lecture for the various Methodist church Epworth institutes that will be held. They expect to be at home on Marion street by September 1.

Miss Weise has been teaching for a number of years in Pasadena. Previously her home was in Minnesota, where she first met Dr. McCormick who is one of the most popular members of the faculty at Kimball college and Willamette University. It was with considerable difficulty that Dr. McCormick spared enough time between his numerous summer appointments for his wedding.

RAYMOND RAREY IS CALLED BY DEATH

Friends of Raymond Rarey were grieved to learn Tuesday of his death in Kelso, Wash., Monday. ## BREIER COMPANY WILL REORGANIZE

Reincorporation of the C. J. Breier Co. under the new corporation act passed in the 1929 session of the Idaho legislature is in process now according to Manager Crossler of the local store who Tuesday received details of the company's latest plans for new financing.

"The C. J. Breier Co. in its 25 years of existence, feels it has justified its position as an economic factor in the popular-price field of department store operation and that it has outgrown the limitations which the old charter of the company bound it. Consequently the firm is ready for expansion," according to a statement received by Crossler.

Three purposes for increasing the stock have been listed by the officers. They include the providing of additional capital for developing and improving existing store units, the securing of a large group of stockholders thus assuring a large following of people interested in the success of the enterprise and the supply of capital for adding to the stores now established.

Under the provisions of the amended charter the C. J. Breier Co. will convert its 10,000 shares of $100 par value stock into 200,000 shares of Class B no par value voting stock. The amended charter will authorize a further issue of 1,000,000 shares of Class A preferred participating common stock to which the public is invited to subscribe. An immediate issue of 50,000 shares of this class A stock, known as foundation stock, will be offered to the public at $15 a share with rights to further purchase attached to each share.

The C. J. Breier Co. has a record of 25 years of department store operation in the west and is now composed of 47 stores operated in Idaho, Washington, California and Oregon. Headquarters of the firm are at 53 Fourth street, Portland.

BEAN'S FUNERAL IS HELD HERE TUESDAY

Funeral services for L. E. Bean, chairman of the Oregon public service commission, who died suddenly here Saturday, were held at Rigdon's mortuary Tuesday. The services were conducted by Rev. D. H. Leach, of Albany, assisted by Rev. Fred C. Taylor, of Kelso.

Active pallbearers at Salem included employees of the public service commission. A number of state departments were closed during the funeral hour, and flags on the statehouse were at half mast. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

LABORITES DEFEAT ENEMY IN SKIRMISH

LONDON, July 9.—(AP)—Premier MacDonald's government, supported by the liberals, tonight won the first division in the new house of commons on the free trade issue, defeating the conservatives by 340 votes to 220.

The union of liberals and laborites against the conservatives was a foregone conclusion because the central plank of liberal policy is free trade and the division tonight occurred over a conservative amendment to the reply to the king's speech in favor of safeguarding.

Chancellor of the Exchequer, Philip Snowden previously laid down the government's policy on safeguarding, or tariff protection, duties.

Mr. Snowden as a prelude to labor's first clash with the opposition on the conservative side, challenged the conservative side to protection as a party policy, saying that if the conservatives did so they might content themselves with being in opposition for an interminable period.

Declaring the government's determination eventually to remove all duties on foodstuffs and recalling the late Joseph Chamberlain's dictum that real imperial preference was only possible if foodstuffs were taxed, Mr. Snowden proceeded to ally possible indignation among the dominions by announcing the government's desire to call another imperial conference. This conference would discuss whatever other means were available to foster trade between Great Britain and her dominions.

Junior Town to Be Feature of Chautauqua Here

Toiling With Tillie..... or a Long Leap from railroading!

C-a-s-h boy! Railroad clerk! Dullness personified to young Russ Westover! So he drew pictures on the parcels he wrapped. And even the railroad pay vouchers he made out were not art-proof. After that his dad gave in and got him a job in the art department of a San Francisco paper. The Art Institute, where he studied evenings, abetted his artistic yearnings, too. But after all, Russ found that he simply could not take art seriously. He turned to cartooning.

The creator of "Tillie the Toiler" holds a public record for allegiance to one woman. "Tillie has been running for a good many years," he said, "and I'm still enthusiastic about her." Maybe that's because he doesn't have to pay for Tillie's clothes!

The other woman in the case, Mrs. Westover, has the upper hand of Tillie. Russ asks her criticism on his drawings. Probably that's why everything is so peaceful at his little vine-clad cottage out in New Rochelle. Russ works at home, you see. He never got "arty" enough to want a studio.
