

HOOVER VIEWS BOARD'S LIST

Conferences Held With Two Members of New Agriculture Body

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Abandoning his weekend trip to the Blue Ridge mountains, Virginia, President Hoover conferred at length today with Alexander H. Lege, chairman of the new federal farm board, and Carl Williams, one of its members.

They were the first of the appointees to arrive in Washington and the president had planned to see them to his fishing lodge to cover the farm situation with him. Bad weather and impassable roads intervened, however.

Meanwhile, it was announced at the White House that Charles S. Conner, former New York state commissioner of agriculture, had been appointed to the board, leaving but one vacancy to be filled, unlike the other members, Conner will represent no particular branch of the agricultural industry. He is a practical, general farmer, and in addition has been in close association with the fruit and dairying industries of the northeast.

The membership of the board to date is as follows:

Secretary Hyde of the agricultural department, ex-officio; Lege, chairman, representing business and finance; James C. Stone of Lexington, Ky., vice-chairman, representing tobacco; Carl Williams of Oklahoma City, representing C. B. Deaman of Arlington, M. Livestock; Charles C. League of Los Angeles, fruit growing; William S. Schilling of St. Paul, dairying, and Wilson, representing miscellaneous agriculture.

The White House said today that it had been impossible to take the geographical distribution of the members into consideration in making appointments because of the necessity of selecting men qualified to represent the various phases of farming. It was emphasized, too, that all of the appointments had been born and reared in the United States, except a few of foreign birth, who have been actively engaged in the agricultural industry over considerable periods.

The remaining place on the board is to be given to a spokesman for the wheat growing industry. Although the president has many names under consideration at this post, he has not yet come to any determination and does not now expect to do so until after the first meeting of the board, which is scheduled to take place on Monday.

CAMP MEETINGS ON AT QUINABY PARK

The Marion County Holiness Association camp meeting is on in full swing and the people of the churches of Salem and some out of Salem attending and receiving great blessing. Quite a number are camping on the ground. Some in tents and some in cottages and are much enjoying God's great love of mercy. Sunday will be a rest day at the camp with services from early morning till the night in the evening. There will be three evangelistic services each day, one in the morning at 10:30, one at 2:30 in the afternoon and one in the evening at 7:30.

The camp will continue over Sunday July 21, Thursday the 15th will be missionary day with speakers from China and a great missionary rally.

The camp ground is six miles north of Salem in a fine park known as Quinaby park.

REPAIRS MADE IN HIGH SCHOOL HALL

Youthful feet, tripping blithely in search of knowledge, make such noticeable imprints on the floor at the Salem high school building that it has been necessary to replace parts of it each summer for several years past. At the present time, carpenters are substituting new flooring for the worn sections in the main hallway.

This work is being done in connection with the extensive repairs and alterations which are under way at the high school building currently with the reconditioning of the rooms.

Plane-Truck Accident Is Said Unique

PORTLAND, Ore., July 13.—(AP)—Something new in the line of traffic accidents occurred here Friday when a truck failed to yield right of way to an airplane. As a result D. Andrews, driver of the truck, has bruises about his head, as well as something to talk about.

The accident occurred at Swan Island airport. A small monoplane was nearing the ground to alight on the flying field, when the truck, belonging to the Port of Portland, plowed directly into its path. The pilot of the plane threw the nose of his machine straight up in an effort to jump over the truck, and the body of the plane cleared the vehicle. The tail, however, struck the windshield of the truck and shattered it.

Impact of the crash threw the tail of the airplane up so that the machine was restored to perfect flying position. The pilot then glided over the truck and made an ordinary landing. The plane, owned by Charles Schmieder, was undamaged, but the truck and its driver were much in need of repairs.

Secretary Good Lauds Flight of Daring Aviators

WASHINGTON, July 13.—(AP)—Secretary Good tonight recognized the record-breaking endurance flight of L. W. Mendel and R. B. Reinhart at Colver City, Calif., with the following statement:

"I am greatly pleased to hear of the splendid record the airplane crew of the Angellio made on their flight. The army plane Question Mark on its flight pointed the way to such records and nothing gives army men greater pleasure than to hear that others have followed and even surpassed the records they have set."

5,000 HOMELESS

RIGA, Latvia, July 13.—(AP)—Thousands of houses were reported here today to have been destroyed by fire in the Kusinsky district of the province of Perm, Russian. Five thousand persons were said to be homeless.

It May Be Urgent

When your Children Cry for It

Castoria is a comfort when baby is fretful. No sooner taken than the little one is at ease. If restless, a few drops soon bring contentment. No harm done, for Castoria is a baby remedy, meant for babies. Perfectly safe to give the youngest infant; you have the doctors' word for that! It is a vegetable product and you could use it every day. But it's in an emergency that Castoria means most. Some night when constipation must be relieved—or colic pains—or other suffering. Never be without it; some mothers keep an extra bottle, unopened, to make sure there will always be Castoria in the house. It is effective for older children, too; read the book that comes with it.
