NEWSPAPER'S SCRIBES JAILED

Appeal Taken to High Court After 30 Days and $500 Imposed

CLEVELAND, July 17—(AP)—Sentenced to serve 30 days and pay fines of $500 each for an editorial denunciation of Common Pleas Judge Frederick P. Walther, Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, and Carlton K. Matson, chief editorial writer, were at liberty tonight pending an appeal after spending an hour at the county jail earlier in the day.

Judge Walther pronounced sentences today at the conclusion of his hearing of his own charges brought against the two newspapermen after adjudging them in contempt of court. Newton D. Baker, former secretary of war, who conducted the defense, filed an appeal and obtained a stay of execution from Appellate Judge Willix Vickery.

Both Men Ared Freed Under Bond—Seltzer and Matson were released under $1,000 bond pending the outcome of their appeal after they sat in Sheriff E. J. Hanratty's office an hour while Baker got in touch with the Judge Vickery at the latter's home.

The contempt proceedings were started by Judge Walther after the Press editorially commented on his issuance of an injunction restraining Sheriff Hanratty from interfering with operation of the Thistlewood race track and the use of the disputed "contribution" system of betting "if the same be not in violation of the law."

Assistant County Prosecutor P. L. A. Leighly held the injunction "not worth the paper it was written on," and the sheriff raided the track, made three arrests and halted the meet.

Inferences Cast On Judge's Motives—The editorial which characterized the injunction either "monstrous," or "ridiculous," and intimating that Judge Walther had been made the victim of race track interests, appeared the same day the track was closed.

Judge Walther held the criticism contemptuous. He set forth three reasons—that the case was still pending before the court at the time the editorial was published, that even had the case not been pending, the court has a perfect right to punish for contempt, and that the court has inherent power to determine the character of actions punishable by contempt and that such acts only have to be construed as obstructing justice.

Motion For Dismissal Of Case Overruled—Seltzer and Matson were pronounced guilty after Judge Walther overruled a motion for dismissal which Baker argued for in a long plea for freedom of the press and defense of the privilege of criticizing public officials. He denied that the order involved was still pending, as claimed by Judge Walther.

The judge then sentenced the men and ordered them taken to the county jail at once.

In a joint written statement, Seltzer and Matson declared that the jail sentence was a "small price" to pay in "fighting for a principle." They contended that the injunction they attacked "purported to restrain an officer of the law from doing his sworn duty," and that they knew they faced a "hazard" in their battle.

"This is a plain case of the freedom of the press to criticize court orders which it regards as laws," they declared.

Appellate Judge Vickery said that unless special efforts are made to advance the appeal, it will not be heard for six or seven months.

FOREST FIRE HITS EAST WASHINGTON

SPOKANE, July 17—(AP)—The most serious forest fire of the year in this region, today flickered toward a stand of several million feet of yellow pine timber near Indian creek, not far from Newport, Wash., the flames leaving behind the charred ember of 75 acres of standing timber and a quantity of cut logs.

The Elkins Logging camp was believed to have been saved last night by a changing wind and 45 fire fighters of the Eastern Washington Timber Protective association, Spokane, fire headquarters sent 50 men to aid them today.

The fire is burning in one of the finest stands of timber remaining from the days when Pend O'Reille county was the mecca for lumber operations all over the northwest. It is one of the few forested areas which escaped the tremendous fires of 1910 and 1924.

PROPOSED NAVAL BASES EXAMINED

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17—(AP)—Rear Admiral W. A. Moffet and his committee of four naval officers, on the Pacific coast to survey sites offered for a proposed navy dirigible base, left tonight for California after inspecting four plots all within easy distance of Portland.

Although he did not comment on the sites, Rear Admiral Moffet said the site at Scappoose, Ore., was "excellent in all respects as far as topography is concerned."

H. S. Rogers, dean of the Oregon State College of Engineering, Ore., chamber of commerce, and H. E. Walter, a member of the college faculty, invited the committee to visit a 3,000 acre tract near Corvallis.

West Salem News

WEST SALEM—Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Filsinger entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home on Third street, yesterday. Among the guests were: Mrs. Filsinger's nephew, George Bean of Klamath Falls; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Filsinger and family of Portland, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beady of Kelso, Washington. Mrs. Beady and Mrs. Filsinger are old school chums.

Mrs. Lynn Sloper of Edgewater street left last week for the coast where she will spend her vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sutter of Salem and Mrs. Grace Bless and daughter, Helen, of Summit were recent callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Burgoyne on Second street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Curtis and son of Edgewater street are leaving early this morning for Eugene where they will make their home.

Mrs. Bessie Chaplin of McNary avenue was a Wednesday afternoon guest of Mrs. McAdams of 245 D street, Salem.

Prayer meeting and Bible study will be held in the Ford Memorial church, Gerth and Third street, this evening at 8 p. m. All are urged to attend.

Decision to repeat its contract with the Moroni Olsen players for three dates during the coming season, was made Wednesday by the Lions club at the executive meeting of the club. During last year the appearance of the players here was sponsored jointly by the Lions and Kiwanis clubs but next year the former organization will handle the three local appearances as its own venture.

The dates set for the coming season are November 1, February 5 and May 2.

The Moroni Olsen players make tours throughout the northwest and into California three times a year. Their repertoire of plays this year will be entirely changed from the plays presented in former years to Salem audiences.

EUGENE MAN HEADS PHARMACIST GROUP

ASTORIA, Ore., July 17—(AP)—Stanley Stevenson, Eugene, Ore., was elected president of the Oregon Pharmaceutical association at the closing session of the fortieth annual convention of the organization at Seaside, Ore., today.

Other officers named are: John Witty, Portland, first vice president; George Steelhammer, Silverton, second vice president; Harry Weiss, Portland, third vice president; Frank S. Ward, Portland, secretary; John Laue, Jr., Portland, treasurer.

No site for the 1930 convention was selected, the matter being placed in the hands of a committee. A past president's badge was awarded S. A. Matthieu, Portland, retiring president and he was selected as delegate to the national convention of retail druggists in Minneapolis in September.

BIG VESSEL ABLAZE OFF FLORIDA COAST

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., July 17—(AP)—A telephone message to the St. Petersburg Times from its Sarasota correspondent early tonight said a large steamer was apparently burning about five miles off the shore at that point. The coast guard base here had no report on the ship, but was investigating.

J. H. Hall, manager of a beach hotel, who first reported the smoke on the horizon, said the boat had not moved for several hours, and still was in the same position tonight.

The smoke did not spiral upward as from a funnel, he said, but was rising densely from all parts of the steamer. Another boat in the vicinity apparently did not stop.

Flashes of light, resembling rockets, were reported from the latter boat by beach residents.

JUNIOR GOLF MEET ADVANCES STEADILY

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17—(AP)—Settling down to a program of match play the juniors in the state golf championship at the Multnomah club set a merry pace today as they rattled off round by round to bring their competition down to the semifinals.

In tomorrow's matches Dick Near, Eugene, Ore., who was medalist in 1923, will play Jack Paulson and Holman Crawford, negro star from the Peninsula course, will meet George Van Horn.

Extra hole matches were not uncommon during today's play. Dick Near and James Bushong put up a great exhibition, the former turning in a 74 against a 75. He was one down at the turn in their second round match, but came back on the second nine in 36 to win by a single hole.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS TOTAL

Births exceeded deaths by a ratio of three to two in Marion county in June, if deaths of non-residents in institutions were left out of consideration, the monthly report of the county health unit reveals.

There were 74 live births and 66 deaths, but of the latter, 17 were institutional non-residents and 49 were Marion county residents. Two were infants less than a year old.

More than the usual number of violent deaths were noted, 12 in all including two resulting from automobile accidents. Heart disease claimed 14 victims, cancer nine, communicable diseases seven of whom six were institutional non-residents, and apoplexy five.

Leaving out of consideration the institutional cases, reports of communicable diseases were made in June as follows: Measles 13, chicken pox 18, mumps 13, smallpox 9, tuberculosis 5, pneumonia 4, diphtheria 3, scarlet fever 3, German measles 3, influenza 2, syphilis 1, gonorrhea 1.

KIGHTLINGER HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Marion E. Kightlinger, 72, suffered serious injuries including a fractured rib, scalp wounds and possibly a fractured skull, when the automobile he was driving collided with one driven by G. B. Hill of Seattle, Wednesday forenoon on the Pacific highway opposite the Catholic cemetery. His condition was still regarded as serious that night.

The crash occurred when Mr. Kightlinger, according to witnesses, turned his machine across the highway, evidently to enter a garage. Mr. Hill was unable to stop quickly enough to avoid the crash. His car was not damaged, but Mr. Kightlinger's machine, hit broadside, was thrown against a power pole and the driver was thrown against the steering wheel and windshield. He was taken to the hospital in the Golden ambulance.

The ditch to contain the telephone lines must be dug 25 feet from the center of the road and must be properly filled.

PROPOSED ROUTES FOR CABLE LINES Viewed by Court

Proposed routes for the cableway to run from Portland to Salem and to contain the large number of lines for the Pacific Telephone and Telephone company between the two cities, were viewed Wednesday by the county court. Under the franchise allowed by the county court, the telephone company may extend its cableway from the Marion county line south to Woodburn.

TILLAMOOK KIWANIS TO ATTEND CONFAB

Everyone of the 53 members of the Tillamook Kiwanis club registered for the Kiwanis district convention to be held in Salem August 18, 19 and 20, when a delegation from the Salem club attended the invitation Tuesday night. The local quartet and Secretary N. D. Elliott accompanied on the trip to Tillamook, a delegation from McMinnville which carried the traveling bell to present to the Tillamook club.

The Salem club had offered a prize to the first club which should register 100 per cent of its membership, and while several other clubs are expected to duplicate this record, Tillamook won the prize. The Albany club is one which his planning to attend en masse.

After hearing the report from Tillamook, members of the local convention committee are more thoroughly convinced than before that this will be the best Kiwanis convention ever held in the northwest.

WORK STARTS SOON UPON GAS PIPE LINE

Pipe for extension of the high pressure gas main system of the Portland Gas & Coke company to the Salem plant which they will take over August 1, has already been ordered, according to announcement made here Wednesday. Work will start next month and a large number of men will be given employment. Cost of the construction has been estimated at $500,000. Completion of the work will be made by November 1.

The high-pressure main is to start either at Oregon City or Tualatin. The length of the line will be approximately 45 miles and valley towns between Portland and Salem will be served. The main at the Portland end will be ten inches in diameter decreasing to six inches at the Salem end.
