Salem Hunt Club Moonlight Ride

The Salem Hunt club announces a riding event for Friday night, that promises to be unusually attractive. Riders will leave from the Hunt club's West Salem stables Friday evening at 8 o'clock for a moonlight ride over a trail that has already been chosen for its special beauty at night. A portion of the trail leads along a vantage point where, it is said, the lights of the city are unobscured and extraordinarily effective.

Sargeant MacManus, the new riding instructor at the club, is in charge of the ride. Camp for a wienner roast will be set up by a stream. (Each rider will bring his own cup.) The return ride will follow the roast.

Informal Affair Given Convention Guests

The women who have been guests here during the convention were complimented with an informal affair at the St. Joseph's hall Wednesday evening. Mrs. A. A. Mickle was in charge of the arrangements.

WOODBURN, July 17.—The Woodburn Garden club held its regular meeting at the lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Settlemier of South Woodburn, Tuesday night.

They met at 7 o'clock in order that they might inspect the lovely flowers and shrubs at the Settlemier home. After they had been shown around the grounds, several cardinals motored over to the Settlemier nurseries where they were conducted through a portion of the place by Mr. Settlemier. He explained that it took eight years to raise a crop of trees, first planting the field to clover and grain to prepare the soil with plant food for the young trees. The seeds planted are usually peach trees because they grow from seeds better than the other varieties. After the trees are sufficiently large they are grafted to other desired fruits.

Mr. Settlemier explained and demonstrated the methods of budding, grafting, root pruning, transplanting and crop rotation.

Following the trip through the nursery, the group again went to the Elmer Settlemier home where they had a short business session. Mrs. H. F. Butterfield, Mrs. H. L. Gill and Mrs. Harry Grubb were appointed by the president to decide which invitation to accept for their next meeting. Refreshments were served and the meeting adjourned.

An out of town affair that will interest Salem folk is the dinner party at the J. K. Weatherill home in Albany Thursday evening. Among the Salem people who will attend are Miss Hester Davis, Ward Davis and Walter Fuhrer.

Mrs. Gertrude Houghton of Los Angeles is making an extended visit with her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain, at her home in Salem Heights.

Hearings On House Tariff Bill Approach Completion As Wheat Issue Is Argued

By D. HAROLD OLIVER Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, July 17.—(AP)—The senate finance committee approached the end of its long hearings on the house tariff bill today by listening to conflicts over the new administrative provision affecting Canadian wheat milled in bond in the United States.

Buffalo milling interests assailed the proposed amendment to the law whereby Canadian wheat milled in bond in this country and intended for export to Cuba would be taxed about 35 cents a barrel or 30 per cent, which is the amount of tariff reduction granted by Cuba to American flour.

Southwestern millers not only endorsed the proposed change but asked that it be tightened to guarantee the Cuban preferential market to flour made from American wheat.

While the hearings were progressing, the state department forwarded to the committee two more foreign communications complaining of the house rates on granite and matches. The proposition came from the Swedish Match company and the Association of Swedish Granite Industries.

The committee hopes to conclude its five weeks of public hearings tomorrow. As was done in the house ways and means committee, the democrats then will be excluded and the eleven republicans will retire behind closed doors to prepare amendments to the bill. It still is doubtful whether the measure can be made ready for the senate by August 19, the date it reconvenes.

John Pillsbury, Pillsbury flour mills, Minneapolis, W. L. Harvey, International Milling Co., Minneapolis, and Frank H. Henry, Washburn-Crosby Co., all operating milling-in-bond plants at Buffalo, opposed the new house wheat provision. E. H. Hogeland, Kansas City, representing the Southwestern Millers' league, argued for its retention and strengthening.

The opponents contended the change would divert to Canada the milling of Canadian high protein wheat now done under bond in the United States; that Cuban bakers had become accustomed and had expressed a preference for the flour made from the Canadian product, and that Cuba would continue to purchase this flour if the provision were adopted—but from Canada instead of the United States. Pillsbury maintained the southwestern millers would get practically no benefit from the change.

Hogeland denied that southwestern millers could not obtain wheat from American growers of the protein content said to be desired by the milling in bond exporters, declaring such wheat could be obtained in sufficient quantities from Kansas, Oklahoma and the Texas panhandle.

He suggested an amendment to make Canadian flour as well as wheat, when brought into this country for export to preferential duty countries, pay a duty equal to the preference, and another to make the changes effective immediately upon enactment of the tariff bill instead of 90 days afterward as provided by the house.

THINGS A COOK SHOULD KNOW

Let These Cookery Secrets Make Foods Taste Better

Sugar may be described as the partly understood food. Everyone knows that sweets are valuable energy foods, but sugar's supreme service to good cookery is as a flavorer.

Add a dash of sugar to cereal while it is being cooked and you will discover what seems to be an entirely new flavor. Flavors of cereal are very delicate. The dash of sugar develops them so that they can be tasted.

A little sugar brings out the natural flavors of fruits when stewed, making them delicious. A little sugar softens the fruit acids of the citrus fruits and of berries.

Sugar demonstrates its supreme condimental power when a dash of it is added to vegetables when they are cooking (preferably in little water). This use of sugar makes these essential foods delightful to the taste.

Small amounts of sugar added to chopped beef, pot-roasts, stews, ragouts and other inexpensive dishes makes the finished product richer in flavor and more appetizing in appearance.

A little sugar distinctly improves both the flavor and color of almost every sauce or gravy served with meat, especially if made from the juices of the meat.

Think of sugar as a flavorer. Use it to make the balanced meal enjoyable to eat. Good food promotes good health. The Sugar Institute
