Arthur de Kuh Ruled Out Due to Low Hitting; Warnings Not Heeded

NEW YORK, July 17. — (AP)—The North American debut of Vittorio Campomo, giant Argentine heavyweight, came to a rather unsatisfactory end tonight when he won his first bout from Arthur de Kuh on a foul in the third round. De Kuh was warned for low hitting several times in the first two frames before he was disqualified in the middle of the third.

By QUIN HALL
Is James J. Braddock, of Jersey, good enough to defeat Champion Tommy Loughran, of Philadelphia, at the light-heavyweight limit?
This is the question which is bothering the fight fans today. Tonight in New York this pair clash for the title. It is well known that Loughran for some time has been trading punches with some of the boys who tilt the beam in the heavyweight class undoubtedly he can still whittle himself down to the light-heavyweight poundage but... what will it take from him in the way of speed and effectiveness? That's what the boys who rest their chins around the resin-covered canvas would like to know.
Braddock is not a set-up—even for a champion who has shown

DUCKS CAPTURE ANOTHER GAME

Kings-Ex Contest Then Lost to Hollywood Without Affecting Rating

PORTLAND, Ore., July 17.—(AP)—After defeating Hollywood 7 to 6 in ten innings today, in the first game, making it two straight for the series and hauling Hollywood out of the first place, Portland this afternoon lost the king's-ex second game which was a playoff of a first half postponement and does not count in the second half standings. SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—(AP)—Curt Davis, young right hander of the Seals, was in fine form today and aided by a stone-wall defense and timely hitting on the part of his team mates, blanked Sacramento, 6-0. The Senators could find Davis for only five hits scattered throughout as many innings. Flynn started for Sacramento and was pounded for all the runs and nine of the eleven hits before he was pulled after the seventh frame.

More newspaper folk have taken up golf. Among the latest are Helen Yockey and Rosalie Keber. This reported that the enthusiasm with which they tackled the job of learning how to bat the balls around with those funny little sticks, mitigated any suspicion that they took the game up because—well, why do lots of folk play golf?

Curtis Davis of Rickreall, now on the San Francisco Seals pitching staff, gets into the big headlines again for shutting out the Seals. D'ya ever hear how Frisco Edwards happened to pass up the chance to get Davis for the Senators two years ago?

"I'm a pretty fair pitcher," said Davis.
"Well, I dunno. I've got plenty of pitchers right now," said Edwards.
"I can hit 'em," rejoined the unknown candidate.

So Frisco decided Davis didn't know much about the game, which was true enough at the time; and the local baseball mogul missed the chance to develop a future Coast league star. Last year Davis pitched parts of two games for Salem, showing his real stuff in one of them and taking an unmerciful lacing in the other.

If the Ducks keep up their present winning streak, we columnists will lose one fertile source of space filler. Four straight—can you imagine?

PORTLANDER IS NOT HIRED AS REFEREE
SPOKANE, Wash., July 17.—(AP)—George McKeown, member of the Idaho State Athletic commission today nipped efforts of Maxie Rosenbloom, of New York, to obtain a Portland, Ore., referee for his bout at Alan Arena, Idaho, with Fred Lenhart Friday night.

McKeown said that an Idaho man would be chosen, but which of two under consideration would officiate he declined to say. Rosenbloom, fearing that a "home town" might be prejudiced in favor of Lenhart, insisted that an outsider be named. His manager suggested Ralph Gruman of Portland.

Jersey Jimmy Braddock to Get His Chance at Tommy Loughran in Arena Tonight

NEW YORK, July 17.—(AP)—Jersey Jimmy Braddock, to whom not so long ago a crossing of the Hudson river was as much of an event as a crossing of the Atlantic to a seasoned globe trotter, will ferry over in style tomorrow night to fight a fellow Irishman, Tommy Loughran, for the light heavy-weight championship of the world.

It seems just a short while ago that youthful Jimmy, his hand-ers in lettered jerseys of emerald green, confined the exercise of his potent right hand to the battling area of Newark and Jersey City. But suddenly new fistic worlds opened up. Braddock stopped the wild charge of Tuffy Griffiths, highly touted westerner, at Madison Square Garden, then knocked out Jimmy Slattery and projected himself quickly into the spotlight. By more than a few critics, the 23 year old Jersey man will be conceded a good chance to tap the exclusive chin of Champion Loughran tomorrow evening and lift the crown.

The fight is for 15 rounds to a decision. The distance should favor Braddock, who is a natural light heavyweight and not handicapped, as it Loughran, by the effort of training down to the 175 pound limit. Although he probably will enter the ring a slight favorite at odds of six to five, the champion will need all his boxing skill and speed to offset the attack of the rugged, hard hitting youngster from across the river. Braddock has improved rapidly within the past year, under clever handling, while Loughran had demonstrated consistently that he is no longer at his best at the light heavyweight limit.

He admits this himself, while also predicting that he will easily outbox his slower and comparatively inexperienced opponent.

eliminated in straight sets by W. B. Evans of Princeton university, 6-1, 6-3, 6-3.
John Doeg, Santa Monica, Calif., defeated G. H. Perkins, Boston, 6-2, 6-0, 6-1.
The doubles contained a pair of unexpected victories and in the women's play Sarah Palfrey of Brookline, the national girls' champion, went down before the accurate racquet of Mary Greer of Kansas City, 7-5, 6-3. Another upset came when Marjorie Gladman of Santa Barbara, Calif., bowed to Margaret Blake of Lenox, 6-3, 8-6.

Josephine Cruickshank, Santa Ana, Calif., defeated Mianne Palfrey, Brookline, 6-1, 6-1.
Kenneth Appel of Orange, N. J., and Bradshaw Harrison of Oregon university, who were good enough yesterday to eliminate the Hartford, Conn., team of H. H. Hyde and Lee Wiley, seeded third, today defeated such rugged opponents as Doeg and Lawrence Hall of Orange, N. J., 6-4, 6-3, by twice breaking through the Californian's service. The third seeded team in today's play were able to advance into the quarter finals without serious mishaps.

MRS. HILL WINS IN GOLF EVENT
Defending Champion Slated to Repeat Last Year's Performance
DENVER, July 17.—(AP)—Shooting a spectacular 73, only two above regulation par for the Denver Country Club course, Mrs. O. S. Hill, defending Women's Trans-Mississippi golf champion, today was installed as the favorite to repeat her 1928 performance. Her score was one of the lowest ever made in championship competition and it was good enough to eliminate Mrs. C. N. Johnson of the Omaha field club, 8 and 7.

The Nebraska woman failed to win a single hole and was 6 down at the turn.
New Orleans Girl Shows Strong Game
Although failing to match the stroke score of the title holder, Miss Marion Turple of New Orleans, the medalist, continued her championship march by eliminating the Colorado champion, Mrs. T. S. Harrison of Denver, 6 and 5. Miss Turple was out in 49, four strokes more than Mrs. Hill. The southern girl did not complete her round, the match ending on the thirteenth hole.

Mrs. Hill, playing in the lower bracket of tomorrow's quarter finals, will be pitted against a Denver youngster, Miss Mary Petrik of the Denver Country club. Miss Petrik went 20 holes to beat Mrs. W. L. Baker of Denver in the first round and then eliminated Miss Gladys Cranston of Kansas City, 2 and 1.
Miss Turple will have as her quarter finals opponent Mrs. I. S. Hynes of the Normandie club, St. Louis. Mrs. Hynes put out Miss Carolina Lee of Hillcrest club, Kansas City today, 3 and 2.
Miss Ruth Replogle of Oklahoma City, faces Mrs. A. E. Madrick of Joplin, Mo. Miss Replogle beat Mrs. Ben Fitzhugh of Vicksburg, Miss., 1 up, and Mrs. Madrick had to go to the 19th hole to win from Mrs. Evelyn Walters of La Jolla, Cal.

Scott Page should have been credited with an assist in the box score of his golf match with Herb Stiff Tuesday morning. They were even on the second green within easy putting distance. Page a little away. His putt missed and knocked Stiff's ball in for a win.

Fashionable girl punters on the Thames this season are wearing washable Oxford bags," says a fashion note. Now we didn't know English girls practiced football in the summer time, and we can't see why they chose a river for it, but the idea of wearing Oxford bags, appeals to us as sensible if they punt the way American gridiron stars do it. And if they're going to do their punting on the river, we presume the Oxford bags would have to be washable.

Remarks made by a well meaning friend the other day about waiting patiently to find something funny in this column, have been taken to heart by us. The surest way to be funny is to follow the example of a recognized humorist, so here goes.

The Senators sure are playing great ball this year. In every game they have been making three putouts each inning.

"Spec" Keene, Willamette university football mentor, promises that his team will be right up to snuff this fall, and make six points on every touchdown; in fact he goes further and says if they convert the goals, they'll make seven points.

Hollis Huntington, who takes over the "reigns" at the Salem high again after two seasons in the grandstand, says he isn't going to let Spec get ahead of him; Hollis plans to build up a team that will gain ten yards or more every time it makes a first down.

Graham Sharkey certainly has some promising golf pupils out at the Salem Golf club course. There isn't one of them that hasn't learned to get the ball in the cup on every hole unless his opponent concedes the putt.

We could just go on indefinitely being funny like that. Sailor Willie Gordon has just
