"A Gift of the Gods"

EVERY now and then the Fates unbend to drop a sack of gold in the lap of some major league ball club. When McGraw of the New York Giants, the Fates were in a most generous mood.

After looking over the youngster who cost the club a few bouquets of gold, he covers large acreage in the field, and takes a good healthy wallop at the sphere when he's at the plate. And those wallops are the things which are helping most to keep Mr. Ott in the Giant lineup every afternoon.

Still not old enough to vote, Ott has made good in no uncertain terms. If he keeps up the pace he has started, Mel bids fair to be one of the world's greatest outfielders. While McGraw has a system of shifting his outfield against left and right-handed pitchers, he seems to feel that Ott is good enough to stay in there every day.

Ott is a natural ball player. He never overlooks a signal from the boss, he covers large acreage in the field, and takes a good healthy wallop at the sphere when he's at the plate. And those wallops are the things which are helping most to keep Mr. Ott in the Giant lineup every afternoon.

This summer, the youngster has been nicking the apple for full circuit clubs and extra base socks.

Tommy was content to spar and clinch but McGraw took one to the face. The champion waded in for a moment with both hands pinning Braddock about the body.

GROCERS CLAIM TITLE FIGHT CARD IS MADE PUBLIC

Formal Protest Lodged With Twilight League Situation Recounted

PROTEST against the entire outcome of the Industrial twilight baseball league season, was registered Thursday by the Grocers' team through its manager, who claimed in a letter sent to Ray Ritchie, president and secretary of the league, that the Grocersmen finished the season with a percentage of .778, having won seven out of nine games, one of them by default.

The Grocersmen made formal claim to the championship and the trophies to be awarded in connection therewith. League officials had declared the Postoffice team the champion as the result of a defaulting game Tuesday night in which it won from the Portland Electric Power company aggregation.

"Any rule indicating that these games were not won by us, would mean that we would be precluded from pursuing the practice used by all of the members of the league in qualifying players after the opening of the season," the letter stated.

"At the beginning of the season the Salem Grocersmen's team had been discriminated against, purposely, in the matter of the eligibility of its players, and that the attitude shown by those in charge has been unfair."

"At no time has the Grocersmen's team played any person that would not have been eligible either by occupation or by acceptance in a regular meeting."

All sorts of queer excuses are used by chaps who resist the appeal of golf for years and finally fall victims, and now come Harry and Ed Gabriel with a new one. The heads of the Gabriel Powder and Supply company have started hitting divots with a vengeance, but they claim it's all in the interest of getting in condition for deer hunting next season. Ed says plenty of powder in his blazes down the fairway, while Harry takes along extra two-by-fours from the yard to replace broken club shafts.

Harry Plant finally got around to announcing the date for that Fox-Pelz fight. It's next Thursday, July 25. Well, it's about time.

Terry Kilen, nee Wattenberger, wandered into The Dalles the other day fully expecting that tonight he would meet one "Rocky" Rogers in a main event at that city. But on his arrival, Terry was informed that Rogers had contracted a case of boils and the fight was postponed a week. Reports don't say, but probably Terry was boiling hot when he heard about it.

In spite of all the talk about rough tactics in wrestling, a friend of ours says it's easy to tell a wrestling match from a boxing bout. Boxers wear gloves and spend most of their time wrestling, while wrestlers go bare handed and devote more time to punching than to looking for holds.

Tennis fans who raised their eyebrows when Tilden and Hunter were chosen on the Davis cup team, can now say "I told you so" since the youngsters, Allison and Van Ryn, defeated the veterans 6-4, 6-1 in a doubles try-out to determine which pair would play doubles against the Germans. The feeling pretty generally has been that Loft and Hennessy should have been given the call. Even though their supremacy over Tilden and Hunter hasn't been demonstrated decisively, it would have been a good move to send the young fellows forth to get experience. Some of them will have to take up the burden next year.

But after all, Tilden has done more for tennis in the United States than any other player, and if he wants one more chance to come back, he is probably entitled to it.

It's hard to believe, but less than two months the talk will all be about shift plays, lateral passes and the dear old alma mater.

Lou Gehrig has been having trouble getting his share of base hits and in early July was batting more than 50 points below his 1928 average.

Matchmaker Plant Confirms Announcement of Several Weeks Ago

Confirming a tentative announcement he made while at Camp Clatsop several weeks ago, Matchmaker Harry Plant Thursday completed arrangements for the Ted Fox-Pelz main event, and proclaimed next Thursday, July 25, as the date for the first of a series of mid-summer fight programs at the arena.

Fox has been smarting under the decision of what he took at Pelz's hands several months ago, and is so sure he can reverse the result that he offered to fight a "winner take all" basis, but this was vetoed by the matchmaker although Pelz was willing.

Some welcome improvements will be noted at the arena when they pass by the ticket taker next Thursday night to witness this fight card. Nine big electric fans will be circulating the atmosphere by way of a cooling breeze, and a new awning will adorn the floor. This awning, says Plant, cost $400, and in order to keep it intact, a non-smoking rule will be in effect, and smoking will be through the entire show without including in the weed, will be accommodated by a recess during which they may smoke in the basement.
