

Salem Senators Chalk Up 9-3 Win Over Bearded Bambinos

HOUSE OF DAVID BADLY WHIPPED

Locals Come From Behind to Take Game After Visitors Start Strong

Hitting consistently in the pinches, the Salem Senators edited the record crowd of the season at Olinger field Wednesday afternoon by defeating the strong House of David club 9 to 3.

The long haired vegetarians looked mighty imposing in the first inning when hits whistled past the ears of Wayne Barham, Salem moundsman, with the speed of rifle bullets. Four ringing blows, one a three bagger by Hall, accounted for three runs.

After that Barham had the visitors at his mercy, allowing only three more hits and with spectacular support especially on the part of Gibson, shortstop, preventing any further scoring.

Meanwhile the Senators set methodically about picking up the lead. They scored one run in each of the first five innings, then wound up the scoring by getting four in the next.

Quinn started the process by getting a single; he was forced at second but Lamb was safe at first; he stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a fielder's choice. In the second inning, Gibson and Edwards singled in rapid succession and Gibson scored on Faust's bad throw home.

In the third, Hafenfeldt went around to third on two overthrows, and scored on Cloninger's pinch single. Barham scored in the fourth without the aid of any hits. He walked, went around to third on Harrison's overthrow, and scored on Lamb's sacrifice fly.

The run in the fifth inning was made by Sullivan, who tripled and scored on another perfect bunt by Hafenfeldt.

Fitzke was batted all over the lot in the sixth. Barham and Quinn singled, and Bigbee scored both with a two bagger. Sullivan then batted out the longest hit of the season to the fence in right center field for a homer; he could have made another base or two necessary.

Low Sun Prevents Hitting By Batters. With the sun hanging low over the trees and directly in the batsmen's eyes, there was no scoring in the seventh or eighth. The visitors threatened in the fourth when Harrison tripled; again in the sixth when Barham issued two free passes in succession, and in the ninth when Deal singled and Fitzke hit a two bagger; but each time there were already two out, and neat fielding saved the day.

Fox's Foe Tonight

Benny Pelz, fighting musician from Portland, who will attempt to repeat his previous victory over Ted Fox when they meet in the armory ring here tonight.

Ted Fox And Benny Pelz To Do Their Stuff

FIGHTERS ALL SMALL, FAST

Nobody on Tonight's Card Weighs More Than 135 Pounds

Tonight's Card
Main event—Ted Fox, 130, Salem, vs. Benny Pelz, 130, Portland; ten rounds.
Semi final—Jackie Kileen, 115, Independence, vs. Perry Israel, 115, Portland; six rounds.
Special—Mickey Dolan, 135, Portland, vs. Archie Archer, 135, Los Angeles; four rounds.
Special—Floyd Ambrose, 118, Salem, vs. Jackie Woods, 118, Salem; four rounds.
Preliminary—Batting Firpo, 135, Salem, vs. Danny Moore, 135, Independence, four rounds.

All fast, little fellows, not a fighter in the bunch weighing more than 135 pounds; that's the unusual card that Harry Plant, local matchmaker, offers to the fans tonight.

What Ted Fox may be able to do to Benny Pelz, is of course the question that looms large. Benny won a decision when they last met in the ring here. Some fans, laudably loyal to Fox, claimed he got a raw deal. The majority saw it the way the referee did.

It's all a matter of "ifs" and "buts." Fox is faster and has that distinct advantage in reach which has meant much to him in every fight. But if—note the combination—events shape themselves along certain lines which are not beyond the realm of probability, Pelz stands to win.

Fox can outbox and outspeed the Portlander. If the fight proceeds along conventional lines, if something happens to Pelz that causes him to "see red," then look out. When Pelz gets properly stirred up, he's a whirlwind.

Granting that Pelz was entitled to a decision in the last fight, Fox's hope of victory depends largely upon the claim that he is in better condition than he was on that occasion. A glimpse at his physique and his actions in training points to the conclusion that he is in much better condition. Whether that is enough, nobody can say until the fight is well under way.

If earnestness will turn the trick, Fox ought to win. He has his heart set on winning this fight and getting a chance at Eddie Thoms, which is the prospect held out to him by the matchmaker.

Plant completed his card Wednesday afternoon by signing up Batting Firpo, well known here, for a four round curtain raiser against Danny Moore of Independence, who is also no mere name to local fans.

Tom Loutitt, be the third man in the ring for all bouts.

WHITMAN NET STAR LOOKS LIKE WINNER
SEATTLE, July 24.—(AP)—An ever-smiling slightly-built young man from Spokane, fresh from a spectacular rise to tennis fame in eastern Washington and Idaho, sounded a serious challenge for the Washington state tennis championship today when he conquered the brilliant Danny Lewis of Seattle in the third round of play here.

Worth Oswald, a good looking youth, who recently captured the inland empire, Idaho state and Northwest college titles, disposed of Lewis after the most thrilling match of the tournament. Oswald won the first set 6-4, and then staged a terrific battle to gain the second set 12-10.

Only a few out of town players failed to advance through the third round.

Kurt Berndt, seeded No. 1, star from San Francisco, eliminated Joe Livengood, Seattle, 6-3, 6-1. Berndt was a little slow in warming up but blazed through the sets easily after once getting started.

Laverne Fator in early July led metropolitan jockeys with a record of 23 firsts, 16 seconds and 13 thirds for 126 races.

Curt Comments

By CURTIS

WRONG AGAIN!

Cleverest thing we saw in the House of David game was Lyle Bigbee stopping a hit with his feet, cutting it down to a single when otherwise it would probably have been a triple.

And the queerest was the play in the third, when Dewhirst, 225 pound left fielder, came tearing in to cover home plate, while both teams stared at him completely mystified.

It was this way. Hafenfeldt hit one to Faust, the shortstop, and Heckman at first base let the throw get away from him. Hafenfeldt streaking to second. Deal, the catcher, chased the ball and threw it in the general direction of second base, but it went on through to Dewhirst. He threw it back into the diamond, Hafenfeldt by this time being on third. Deal was still out behind first base and nobody came to cover the plate; nobody saw it was unguarded except Dewhirst. He sprinted a fast 75 yards to save the day, but it wasn't necessary because Hafenfeldt and the catcher at third, Gill, hadn't noticed the lack of alfalfa around home plate either.

But Hafenfeldt scored after all, on a hit.

Dewhirst is said to be the son of a former California superior court justice, which probably accounts for his quick diagnosis of the situation. He's only 19 years old, but he has one of the longest beards in the outfit.

That homer of Billy Sullivan's looked as though it never would stop.

Hoot Gibson had his biggest day of the season in the field, handling eleven chances, most of them hard ones, successfully. He dropped a fly ball, but staved off the prospect of having an error chalked up against him, by training for a runner at second base on the play.

With nine electric fans blowing fresh air, pretty decorations overhead and a brand new canvas underfoot, the fans won't know the old armory tonight.

The "no smoking" rule ought to fit in appropriately with the new scenery, which caused its adoption. There'll be a recess for the smokers, giving them an opportunity to expiate themselves downstairs.

Our "mental movies" nearly got us in wrong Wednesday. Fellows who had an argument about how Jack Johnson won the heavyweight title, called us up and we said he won it from Jeffries. That was because the Jeffries-Johnson fight left its impression and we had momentarily forgotten Jeffries' previous retirement. But we corrected the statement before the line was disconnected.

We pick Benny Pelz to win or draw.

GEORGE DIXON WINS OVER OAKLAND LAD
OAKLAND, Calif., July 24.—(AP)—Young George Dixon, sensational negro middleweight of Portland, spotted Red Uhlan seven pounds, and stopped the 163 pound Oakland southpaw in the ninth round of their ten round bout at the Coast Bay Athletic club tonight. Dixon caught up with his opponent in the fifth round and gave him a hard beating from that time on.

Much Depends on Allison And Van Ryn in Davis Cup Matches Against French

By TED VOSBURGH (Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK (AP)—In the happy combination of young Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison the United States has hit upon a Davis cup doubles team to tackle the best that France can offer with something like an even chance to win.

Already these promising youngsters have flattened one of the best French pairs, accounting for Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon on the way to the British championship a few days ago, and it just happens that their type of game is calculated to prove even more deadly against Jean Borotra and Cochet, the team they are likely to be pitted against in the challenge round.

The style of the Allison-Van Ryn alliance, as described by no less an authority than Big Bill Tilden, is a flashing, battering net attack, and it is particularly noteworthy that Tilden, shortly before his departure for Europe, delivered the opinion that "only a driving, net rushing attack has a chance" against such a wonderful smashing team as Borotra and Cochet.

Tilden and Hunter, playing a softer, slower game, failed to stop these two great Frenchmen in the challenge round a year ago. George Lott and John Hennessey, master lobbers, would be feeding Jean and Henri just the kind of overhead fare they thrive upon. But Van Ryn and Allison, with their slashing, dashing forecourt game, carry the guns that are calculated to do the most harm.

Van Ryn, the dark-haired Orange, N. J., youth who captained Princeton's tennis team last year, and the blond Allison—former intercollegiate champion from the University of Texas, form one of the greatest potential doubles pairs this country has ever put together.

Allison is ranked fifth and Van Ryn sixth among America's leading players, and in single combat neither youth can hold much hope of beating any of the first three Frenchmen. But some strange touch of tennis necromancy multiplies their strength when they are combined as a doubles team. They played together some last season, but on their performances were ranked only fourth among the country's leading pairs. Hennessey and Lott, Lott and Doeg and Tilden and Hunter all out-ranked them, and it was not until the Wimbledon tournament that perfection on team work was achieved.

The victors' assignment now is to win the Davis cup doubles, an accomplishment which would make it possible for the American forces to win back the cup with only an even break in singles.

YANK DOUBLES TEAM STRONG

VAN RYN AND ALLISON CAUSING WORRY IN FRENCH ROUNDS AS TOURNEY NEARS

PARIS, July 24.—(AP)—America's college tennis team of Johnny Van Ryn and Wilmer Allison have set the French to worrying about the outcome of the Davis cup doubles to be played Saturday, following the opening singles battles of the challenge round Friday.

After watching the "two kids" lambast the everlasting daylight out of Karl Kobeluh, the world's ranking professional, and Martin Piau, French pro, 6-1, 6-2, 6-0, today, Pierre Gillou, captain of the French team, ordered out two old guard, Henri Cochet and Jean Borotra, who paired together in doubles practice. They offered Jacques Brugnon and Christian Boususs a handicap of two games per set, which Brugnon scornfully refused and then went out to take a three to nothing lead over the French ace.

Cochet and Borotra, however, put on a little more speed and won the set 6-4. Then they came back to take the second 6-1.

MRS. MALLORY IS ALMOST DEFEATED

MANCHESTER, Mass., July 24.—(AP)—Mrs. Mollie Bjustard Mallory of New York, seven times winner of the American women's tennis championship, today had to battle Sarah Palfrey, 16 year old Brookline girl, through 90 minutes of nerve wracking tennis before advancing into the semi-final round of the fifth annual Essex country club invitation tournament tonight. The scores were 6-2, 2-7, 9-7. The other three qualifiers for the second last bracket were Mary Greet of Kansas City, who defeated Clara Greenspan of New York, 3-6, 6-4, 6-1, Eleanor Goss, New York, as a result of her 6-2, 6-3 victory over Ethel Burkhardt, San Francisco, and Edith Cross of San Francisco, who defeated Marjorie Morrill of Dedham, 6-2, 4-6, 6-2 in a match that was closer than the scores indicated.

Hole No. 8 at Winged Foot, where the national open was held, is a hard one. Johnny Farrell took an 8 and Bobby Jones a 7 there.
