

PONTIFF ENDS CONFINEMENT

Pope Pius XI Performs Rites Before 200,000 Crowd at St. Peter's

VATICAN CITY, July 25. — (AP)—The long voluntary imprisonment of Roman Catholic pontiffs in the Vatican came to an end this evening as Pope Pius XI emerged from his confinement into the famous square before it and blessed a throng of fully 200,000 persons that knelt before him.

Amid deep religious solemnity, broken only at the beginning by cries of "viva il papa" (long live the pope), the Bernini colonnade that circled the square behind a magnificent procession and back to a special altar at the other end of the colonnade.

Here he halted and as the spectators, deeply stirred by the solemn moment, knelt, the pontiff blessed them with the elevated ostensorium containing the sacred host which he had carried in the procession.

In the crowd were thousands of American visitors to Rome, while in the long procession were numerous American bishops and prelates.

The procession itself, headed by the pontifical guard, started from St. Peter's at ten minutes to six and it was two hours and thirty-five minutes before the pontiff once more disappeared within St. Peter's and the epoch making event, made possible by the recently signed Italo-Vatican accord, had ended.

Despite the size of the crowd which had swelled to at least 200,000 by the time the ceremony was over, everything went off smoothly. At times there were some commotions in the crowd as here and there spectators fainted in the intense heat, but temporary Italian Red Cross stations quickly cared for them.

About 15,000 troops were on duty in the square and surrounding streets which had been barricaded off, as the pope passed these troops presented arms in his honor, symbolizing the accord reached after 60 years between the church and the state.

CLARA BOW TALKIE STARTS SATURDAY

Clara Bow's latest all-talkie comedy success, "Dangerous Curves," is booked for a four-day run at the Elsinore theatre, commencing Saturday. "Dangerous Curves" is a story of circus folk, and all the scenes are taken under the big top and in the circus trains. Miss Bow plays the part of a bareback rider and a clown. The characterization calls for dramatic and deeply romantic work, and she handles the part with distinction and gusto to that is even more interesting than her portrayals of flapper-dancer types.

An excellent supporting cast will be seen and heard, among them including Richard Arlen, who will be remembered for his good work in such productions as "The Man I Love," and others. Kay Francis, whose versatile role as the vampire in "Gentlemen of the Press," is another contributing factor.

MRS. RICHES GOES HOME

SILVERTON, July 25 — Mrs. E. C. Riches and little daughter, Sue, left for Portland Wednesday. Mrs. Riches has been staying at Silverton caring for her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Dahl, home while they have been in the east. She will join her husband who is with the customs service there. Mr. and Mrs. Riches lived at Marshfield before moving to Portland.

RHOTEN BUILDS BIG NEW BARN

Stock Raising Forte of This Roberts Farmer; Herd Totals Over 100

ROBERTS, July 25 — E. A. Rhoten has just finished building a large barn on his farm here which he intends to use as storage for hay. Mr. Rhoten has a big crop of hay this year and has recently plowed 25 acres of alfalfa which is looking splendid. The dairy stock on the Rhoten farm numbers more than 100 head. Twenty-five of these cows are now being milked. The old bee tree that has stood for many years on the edge of the farm that now belongs to Mrs. W. U. Johnson is now a thing of the past. A fine stand of German bees was taken from the tree after much protest from the bees, also there were several gallons of delicious honey. The tree measured about four feet in diameter. James Fry has recently put on a new roof on his house.

Hay Balers Hard at Work Hay balers are the most important persons in the neighborhood at present—especially to the cooks. Elmer Mutch and Ira Heckinger are running their balers again this year.

James Fry is building an addition to his barn. He has an unusually big crop of hay this year.
