Camp Fire Girls Happy at Camp Sahequanna

Completing a most successful outing at Camp Sahequanna, Camp Fire girls of Salem, Stayton and Lyons returned to their homes Wednesday morning.

The week was crowded full with activities and pleasures. The stunt and masquerade programs proved interesting and popular.

Sunday was visitors' day and the grove was thronged with guests throughout the day. The Camp Fire girls attended Sunday school and church at Mohama, giving several choral numbers at each service. During the afternoon the guests were entertained with Biblical pantomimes.

Tuesday evening the programs were ended with the council fire ceremonial, when awards were given to the girls. It is a most beautiful and impressive ceremony and was attended by many guests from Salem, Stayton and Lyons. The program was given by all the girls in camp assisted by three Stayton groups and their guardians. Mrs. W. A. Barnham of Monmouth led the ceremonial. Mrs. Luther Stout awarded the honors. The council fire consisted of the Whoelo call, Song "Burn, Fire, Burn," Fire lighting ceremony with explanations of the three ranks of the Camp Fire, and inspiring talk by Mrs. Barnham, awarding of honors and closing songs, "Sinking in the West."

The Sahequanna honors were awarded those observing all the rules of the camp. Those winning the coveted honors were: Ruth and Marguerite Clark, Claraedna Mulkey, Beta Godsey, Betty Gough, Betty Mankiewicz and Doris Huber.

The tests were absolute quiet after taps and during rest hours, be on time for meals, setting-up exercises, and classes, completing one hand craft honor, do K. P. duty, morning dip unless excused by the nurse, no eating between meals, observe clean plate, no gum chewing, not to leave grounds without permission, good camp spirit.

The Schvartze honor given to all who take a morning plunge was awarded to Beryl Grace Stout, Minkiewitz, Maxine Stout, Claraedna Mulkey, Betty Gough, Ruth and Marguerite Clark.

Doris Godsey's tent won the honors for the best table decorations on Sunday and the best camp song composed, the table decoration being a miniature log cabin and yard.

Genevieve Mulkey's tent won the stunt night honor by giving the best stunt on Saturday night. The girls gave a clever imitation of a Scotch band with a saxofobia bagpipe. Those taking part were Claraedna Mulkey, Genevieve Mulkey, Beryl Grace and Gwendolyn Hunt.

Tent honor award for personal and tent inspection was won by Genevieve Mulkey, Claraedna Mulkey, Gwendolyn Hunt, Beryl Grace, Beta Godsey, Betty Minkiewitz, Maxine and Doris Huber.

Hazel Duncan won the Biblical pantomime honor, acting out the story of Joseph and his brethren. Those taking part were: Hazel Duncan, Maxine and Marjorie Schomaker, Laverne Oakman, Irene Kauter and Ruth Brown.

The masquerade honor was won by Claraedna Mulkey, the mask being a clever Turkish costume.

Those winning the honors in archery were: Bessie Newcomb, Beta Godsey, Betty Gough, Maxine Huber, Maxine Stout, Beryl Grace, Evelyn Entress, Irene Kauter, Ruth and Marguerite Clark.

Pioneering honor winners were: Hazel Duncan, Edith Clement, Marjorie Schomaker, Evelyn Entress, Marguerite Clark, Irene Kauter.

The Pollywog honor was won by Maxine and Marjorie Schomaker, Marguerite Clark, Betty Gough, Maxine Huber, Gwendolyn Hunt and Doris Huber.

Handcraft honors were won by: Ruth and Marguerite Clark, Marjorie Schomaker, Maxine Stout, Betty Minkiewitz, Doris and Maxine Huber, Claraedna Mulkey, Beryl Grace, Gretchen Gamber, Betty Gough, Ruth Brown, Gwendolyn Hunt, Bessie Newcomb, Beta Godsey.

The entire camp passed the first aid tests.

The girls all expressed a desire to hold a two weeks camp next year and wish to express their appreciation to those who contributed to the success of the camp.

Mrs. W. J. Minkiewitz, Mrs. Luther Stout and Miss Anna Stout were the directors of the camp.

B. & P. W. Club Hold National Elections

Miss Marion H. McClench was elected president at the tenth national Business and Professional Women's Club convention held in Mackinac Island, Michigan. She succeeded Miss Lena Phillips who has been president of the association for the past three years. Miss Phillips was named honorary president, and at the pageant of famous women which closed the session she was presented with a purse of several hundred dollars in token of the members' appreciation of her efforts. Not only was this done but the new building fund toward which $25,000 was raised and which is to be located in Washington, D. C., was named for Miss Phillips. It will be called the Lena Madelin Phillips building fund.

Miss McClench, the new president, is also a pioneer in Business and Professional Women's club work. She was a member of the committee which met in St. Louis in 1909 to perfect the national organization. She was president of the Michigan state club for two years, and is one of the leading insurance women in the United States. She entered this work shortly after her graduation from Smith college.

Other officers elected were Mrs. J. K. Bowman, Richmond, Virginia, first vice president; Miss Daisy H. Leake, Temple, Texas, second vice president; Miss Earlone White Jackson, Mississippi, recording secretary; Mrs. Helen Schluraf, Erie, Pennsylvania, corresponding secretary; and Miss Margaret Stewart, Ogden, Utah, treasurer.

Some interesting resolutions passed were a protest against discrimination against women in civil service, municipal state and city appointments; a calendar simplification study; and a resolution urging the Root plan for the United States in entering the World court.

Other interesting highlights were that the organization send envoys to 13 foreign countries in the interest of establishing an international organization. The beginning for this was made at this tenth convention by the fact that there were several Canadian club with delegates present and Dr. Marie Castellani of Rome, Italy, founder of the new Italian Business and Professional Women's club was present.

Membership was given as 54,000 with 1045 clubs in the United States, according to Miss Mary L. Johnston, of Trenton, N. J.

Miss Mary Stewart of Washington, D. C. a prominent member of the national club, it was announced during the session, has just been made assistant director of the education department in the Indian service. Another noted member is Mrs. Susan B. Arnold, who is owner and manager of the dock properties at Mackinac Island, conducts a ship coaling station, and is president of the Ar-

H. C. Stovers Plan Extensive Trip

Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Stover accompanied by Mrs. Helen Paget and Miss Alice Riggs will leave by motor Monday for far eastern points. They will stop first in Denver where they will visit Mrs. Stover's brother, David Wolpert. Denver was Mrs. Stover's old home. The next stop will be Winona Lake, Indiana, where the group will visit with Rev. Stover's brother, Prof. Irving C. Stover who is presenting Shakespearean plays before the Winona Lake chautauqua.

The travelers will then go on to Niagara Falls, through the New England states, the White Mountain district and down to Boston and Plymouth Rock then on to York, Pennsylvania, Rev. Stover's old home.

They will return by way of Washington, D. C., Amarilla, Texas, where they will visit with Mrs. Charles F. Ward, on through the Grand Canyon of Colorado, through California and home again. They expect to be back in Salem about September 20.

Our Closing Out Sale

This sale involves a shattered lease and Chattel Mortgage of our Aberdeen Store, through a transaction whereby we disposed of our Aberdeen store including lease of premises. A Chattel Mortgage was drawn up for the merchandise and the deal was considered a closed affair. But we overlooked the financial standing of our successors and discovered that creditors refused to extend credit. And to add fuel to the fire, a disagreement was encountered between the new management and the owners of the building whereby the lease was broken and the tenants ordered out—With this disastrous result we were forced to take quick action to recover and remove our merchandise which has now been jammed into an already overcrowded store—and from which we must seek quick relief regardless of what realization can be had at the present time.
