The aftermath of the operation was a severe headache and fatigue that made it necessary to give him stimulants so that the trial could proceed.

Defense counsel tonight had managed to reduce the number of women on the jury to one. She was Miss Edith Dysinger, a retired nurse. In accomplishing this purpose, Snook's attorneys used three more peremptory challenges today, leaving them six challenges for later use. The state removed only one prospective juror today.

FORTUNE OF CZAR THE biggest event in Salem this summer will be the convention of The Soviet government took the American Legion which opens August 8. In conneetion with this will be the dedication of the Salem airport, one of the finest airports in the country.

The Statesman plans to feature these two big events with a special edition to appear on the morning of August 8. Every effort will be made to have this edition measure up to the important events which it is featuring. This edition has been heartily endorsed by the American Legion, but it is in no sense a legion enterprise; being planned and produced entirely by the Statesman staff.

Special advertising will be solicited with the idea of making the paper one of the most representativo ever ced and a cr presentation of Salem to the thousands of guests assembled here on that occasion.

In cases where the envelope is empty and unsealed, the chamber of commerce is inserting statistial folders telling of Salem's atractions and industrial possibilities. Some of the letters received include requests that the letters be initialed by the mayor, the governor and the postmaster. Since there will be 2000 or more letters to mail, it will probably be impossible for these initials to be added, but the letters will be posted according to directions.
