PLANE LANDS AT AUMSVILLE

Engine Trouble Forces Racing Plane Down. Sight Proves Interesting

One of the air planes that was in the race from Portland to Eugene was forced to land in the Hoyt Cup's hay field near Aumsville Friday afternoon on account of engine trouble.

The landing was made without any trouble. A plane was called from Portland to bring necessary parts but returned to Portland and sent a new engine out by truck and left for Eugene this forenoon. Dick Rankin was pilot of the plane to come down. The machine was of the Rankin School of Portland and caused considerable excitement in Aumsville as the Rankin plane was in the lead when forced to land.

J. J. Saare, while working in a mill at Lyons today had the misfortune to fall and hurt his face quite badly.

Mrs. J. L. Saare left today for Crawfordville to be with her daughter Mrs. Ganise Fuson who is ill.

R. M. Fuson left Wednesday for Breitenbush for his health.

Miss Myrtle Lacey is spending the week with her aunt Mrs. W. McClain at Buena Vista.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hammer of North Bend have been visiting here for a few days at the W. C. Cheffings home. Mr. Hammer returned to North Bend Friday while Mrs. Hammer and two children will remain for a two weeks visit here with relatives.

Woodburn, July 29 Saturday, July 27th was the opening date of the new Berry center Dry Goods Store of Woodburn. The owners are Mr. and Mrs. Otto E. Sawilish, who have come here from the east to make their home.

Their stock of goods comprises millinery, ready-to-wear, men's furnishings and infant's wear. The goods is all newly purchased, is well arranged and appears to be interesting.

The store occupies a portion of the Frank W. Settlemier building, usually known as the Masonic building, which has been partitioned off from the rest and newly finished in an up to date manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Sawilish were assisted during their opening day by Miss Woodfin.
