

NEW SACKS FOR POTATOES EYED

Objections and Advantages Are Compiled by State Market Agent

A test is in progress regarding the merits of the system of packing potatoes in white sacks of 15 to 50-pound capacity, Seymour Jones, state market agent, states in the weekly crop and farm review bulletin. Many good reasons for the system have been advanced, but the latest bulletin points out the objections which have been appearing as the test progresses.

These objections are as follows: That many consumers prefer to see the potatoes before buying; that it adds to the cost; that the white cotton bags may become soiled and unattractive; that deterioration occurring after packing due to freezing, sprouting or other causes would result in a reaction by consumers against this type of package; that there would be a tendency for shippers to lower the quality; that the season during which this package could be used in shipping would be limited because of danger of damage from heating in the early fall and from sprouting in the spring.

Condition of seasonal employment described as follows in the same bulletin: The seasonal employment commission of Oregon reports no shortage of any point in the state as of August 2, except in the berry fields around Gresham, where a slight shortage of pickers was indicated. There is a surplus at Portland, Hood River, Medford and Ashland. Supply and demand are well balanced at Salem, Forest Grove, Eugene, The Dalles and La Grande. Many California transients are in the fields.

ZIONISTS TAKE UP DEBATE ON TREATY

ZURICH, Aug. 8. — (AP) — (Jewish Telegraphic Agency) — The Zionist congress late today started its long deferred debate on the ratification of the pact between the Zionists and non-Zionists for the extension of the Jewish agency for Palestine.

Dr. George Halpern of London, chairman of the committee on the Jewish agency, submitted the final text of the constitution draft for ratification.

The constitution is to govern the enlarged all-Jewish body to be created by the Zionists and non-Zionists at a special conference to be held in Zurich beginning this Sunday with the participation of 110 Zionists and 110 non-Zionists, including 44 prominent Americans headed by Louis Marshall and Felix M. Warburg.

A storm which broke over the congress yesterday because the American delegation demanded 44 seats on the council of the extended Jewish agency, a number equal to that accorded non-Zionists, ended today in compromise.

The American Zionists agreed to accept 18 seats on the council, instead of the ten which they were entitled under the party list. They are also to have 36 alternates.

Notice of Assessment for the cost of improving Thirteenth Street from the south line of Mission Street to the south line of Rural Avenue, in the City of Salem, Oregon, will, at or about 7:30 p. m. on the 19th day of August, 1929, or at any subsequent meeting of the said Council thereafter, in the Council Chamber of the City Hall of Salem, Oregon, proceed to assess upon and against each lot or part thereof or parcel of land liable therefor in its proportionate share of the cost of improving Thirteenth Street from the south line of Mission Street to the south line of Rural Avenue, in the City of Salem, Marion County, Oregon.

Notice is hereby given that the Common Council of the City of Salem, Oregon, will, at or about 7:30 p. m. on the 19th day of August, 1929, or at any subsequent meeting of the said Council thereafter, in the Council Chamber of the City Hall of Salem, Oregon, proceed to assess upon and against each lot or part thereof or parcel of land liable therefor in its proportionate share of the cost of improving Waller Street from the east line of Twelfth Street to the west line of the Southern Pacific Company's Railroad Right of Way, in the City of Salem, Marion County, Oregon.

All persons interested in the said assessment are hereby notified to appear before the said Council at said time and place and present their objections, if any they have, to said assessment, and apply to said Council to equalize their proportionate share of same. By order of the Common Council this 5th day of August, 1929. M. POULSEN, City Recorder. Date of first publication, August 9, 1929. Date of final publication, August 11, 1929. A. 9-10-11.

Famous Lifer Sees World

For the first time since he was committed to Charlestown, Massachusetts, for life, 53 years ago, Jesse Pomeroy, center holding package, laid his eyes on the outside world when he was transferred to the State prison farm to serve the remainder of his sentence. He went with two other prisoners, shown with him. Pomeroy was convicted, at age 17, for the murder of two children younger than himself. The wonders of the modern world which greeted his eyes so astounded him he could hardly grasp their meaning.

League Institute is Best Ever Held, Reports From Falls City This Week Say

FALLS CITY, Aug. 8.—The 17th Falls City Epworth League Institute opened Monday evening and by Tuesday evening the paid registration had reached 400, the largest in history and the goal which had been set for the year. The paid registration last year was 200. More will enroll during the week. About a hundred more are here who do not register. There are more than 150 tents in "the tent city."

The dining room is a hilarious place where the different leagues give their yells and songs. "Salem will win today" and "Portland will win today" are often heard now that the athletic contests between these districts have started. At the end of the first day's games they are about even in points.

Dr. Clarence True Wilson spoke on the prohibition situation for a short while Tuesday evening. Dr. D. C. Dutton is giving excellent messages each night at 8 o'clock. From 7 to 8 Wednesday night there will be a debate between the Salem and Portland districts. Different groups are planning their stunts for Thursday night. Friday afternoon there will be the annual ed today in compromise. The American Zionists agreed to accept 18 seats on the council, instead of the ten which they were entitled under the party list. They are also to have 36 alternates.

VALLEY GRAIN CROP NOT YET ESTIMATED

Although the threshing season in the valley is well under way, there is as yet no estimate on the number of bushels of grain that will be turned into the mills this year. Receipt of wheat at the Portland elevators is well ahead of last year, with 224 cars received Thursday, as against 155 at the same time last year, local millers have been informed.

The oat thresh will probably be better about Salem than anticipated if report brought by one of the Hager brothers from route five is an indication. From one patch that was supposed to have been frozen out, Hager has just finished threshing 50 bushels of oats to the acre, he told a local buying concern Thursday.

LEMONS REACH NEW HIGH MARK IN PRICE

A new high level for the season is effective this week on lemons, with a retail price of 60 cents a dozen, and wholesale quotation of $13 a crate. The hot weather is of course responsible. Weather and the strong demand engendered by the warm days are also behind the manner in which melon prices hold up, with watermelons selling at four cents, casabas and five cents and ice cream melons at five cents a pound. Cantaloupe demand is also good and prices still high, at from 10 cents to 18 cents each.

First fresh limes were displayed this week, at 60 cents a dozen. More varieties of peaches are offered, at from 25 to 40 cents a basket, depending upon size and kind.

Apricots are nearing the end of the season, and are pretty soft. They sell at 10 cents a pound, or $1.19 a box.

Gravenstein apples are plentiful at five cents a pound, with fair demand.

The season's first crabapples are offered now, at five cents a pound. Peach plums are better and coming in in good quantities. Peach plums sell for 25 cents a basket.

Raspberries, near the end of the pick, are selling 15 cents a box and loganberries, also the last ones, are 10 cents.

Fresh vegetables are arriving at the peak of the season, with practically every commodity offered now and the demand good all around. True, some of the vegetables in local gardens are not yet ready for harvest on commercial scale, but the greenness here is more than made up for the imports. Especially is this so in the tomato market. Tomatoes are more and more plentiful, however, with the northern pickings. The fancy pack retails at two pounds for 35 cents, and others two pounds for 25 cents.

FRESH VEGETABLES ARE NOW PLENTIFUL

The Midget Market will close at 2:00 p. m. Friday and remain closed the rest of the day, in order that our employees may participate in and enjoy a part of the convention.

Corn on the ear is cheaper this week, and good quality at 25 cents a dozen. This is also coming in in larger quantities.

There are lots of green beans at three pounds for 25 cents; sometimes they are extra large, other times a medium size. Peas, not so fresh appearing as previously, sell three pounds for 25 cents.

Green peppers, the new shipment, are selling cheaper, at 15 cents a pound. Cabbage continues at 10 and 15 cents a head, depending upon size.

Lettuce shows some improvement over last week, but the rusted spots are still in evidence and some of the heads are none too solid. It sells at around 10 cents a head. Celery could be improved upon, too, but is beginning to look more to the particular buyer's liking. Price is around 10 cents a stalk on the smaller ones.

10 pounds for 25 cents. Bunch onions are five cents or two for nine cents. Beets are fair at two for 15 cents. Carrots and radishes, the latter not so plentiful, are selling at no change in prices.

GOLF TEAM HERE The Corvallis Legion golf team showed up Thursday morning and are all pepped up over their prospects of winning the golfing trophy of the convention. Looking over the competition they believe their chances are pretty rosy.

The Abbey theater in Dublin is the only theater in the British commonwealth which has a government subsidy.

The 70 best scholars of the Roman grammar schools were awarded a free trip through the historic cities of north Italy this summer.

A Matter of Choice

It is not a matter of ignorance but carelessness when it comes to spending your money. How the purchasing power of money changes when in different hands. Some can purchase almost double the amount that others can with the same amount of money. When it comes to foodsuffs which is the most important factor of our needs. How easy it is to save 10 to 20% by a little forethought. "The thrift habit is really a matter of choice." Anyone can cultivate the thrift habit if they choose to do so. We as leaders in food distribution are in a position to help you save daily if you permit, as thousands of families are now doing. A saving that at the end of the month or year will amount to a surprisingly large sum.
