Bridge Tea Closes Women's Social Activities

The gay social whirl that has marked the woman's share in the Kiwanis convention which closed Tuesday evening came to a close with the brilliant bridge tea at the Elk's temple Tuesday afternoon between the hours of 2:30 and 5 o'clock.

Two hundred guests played in the attractively arranged card room of the Temple where hostesses were busy seeing that each person was comfortable and happy. There was a happy chatter and the most friendly sort of attitude to be heard and found where ever one went.

Flowers were every where that flowers could be placed to advantage and this gave a note of festivity to the rooms used as card, tea and receiving rooms. The tea table was especially lovely. It was long and centered the dining room of the Elk's Temple. Over it was laid a beautifully delicate lace cloth which came well down on the sides and ends and over which was placed a covering of melene in orchid pink shade. The table was centered with a five point crystal chandelier which held deep pink candles. Silver service and bowls of delicately shaded flowers added to the beautifully appointed table at which was seated Mrs. T. Harry Gowan of Seattle, Mrs. Harold Jones of Portland and Mrs. Claude Barrick of Tillamook and Mrs. Ralph Cooley of Salem. Delicate orange bouquets were presented each of these four ladies.

The women who planned and decorated for this afternoon were Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. F. A. Doerfler, Mrs. Sheldon Sackett, Mrs. Willis Clark, Mrs. David Wright, Mrs. Douglas McKay and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton.

Prizes for the afternoon of bridge went to Mrs. Art Stone, of Portland, Mrs. Gleason of Spokane, Mrs. W. J. Braun, Salem, and Mrs. Kenyon.

Music at the tea hour was given by Mrs. Margaret McCullough Lang, violinist, and Mrs. Hazel Hammer Hill, pianist, of Seattle, wives of Kiwanians who were here as guests of the convention, and Mrs. Sleep of Ontario, who sang several selections. The musical numbers were beautifully presented.

The Oregon State quartette won much praise for several quartette numbers. Solos were sung by Mrs. Douglas of Ontario, and Mrs. Warner Holmes of Tacoma. Mrs. Gedding, Mrs. Burns, and Mrs. Fowler of Aberdeen formed a trio of two voices and the piano and gave several numbers. Each musical number was well received.

The musical program and luncheon was concluded by an address given by Charles Walker. Mr. Walker was made governor of the Pacific Northwest district of Kiwanis International at the afternoon business session of the Kiwanians.

Mr. Walker talked on the enigmatical topic of "Chief Treasure," choosing that he seemed to feel was woman's chief and indispensable possession, a mirror, to drive home some pertinent topics concerning Kiwanis. He gave the idea that a mirror has four parts, the glass, the reflector element, light and the subject reflected. Kiwanis according to Mr. Walker was likewise—Kiwanis was based on the problems of today, its achievements, such as the care for the underprivileged child and other like works, that it is a force for the good of mankind, and that taken as such it reflects the community spirit in which it grows.

WORK DONE ON SCHOOLS HERE

Painting and Remodeling Progressing Well, Says Smalley

Summer work on buildings and grounds of the Salem schools is progressing satisfactorily, with a large share of work outlined already accomplished, reports G. W. Smalley, head janitor in charge of the remodeling and upkeep. Painting of the Garfield and Englewood buildings, contract for which was let by the board several weeks ago, is scheduled to begin this week. Most of the other work is being done by the regular janitor force.

The main projects being completed now include painting the windows at Parrish and Leslie junior high buildings, this being the first time the brush has been used on these, and remodeling and construction in the high school domestic science department room. In the latter, the partition which separated the sewing room and a narrow hall has been removed allowing for more room, and a 24-foot cabinet has been constructed almost the entire length of one side of this room. The cabinet, the handwork of E. S. Bark, manual training instructor at Parrish, contains a silverware and linen compartment which may be locked, other compartments and 68 roomy drawers which will be assigned one to each student. Floors in two of the domestic science rooms has been painted a dust color and the entire equipment in the kitchen has been repainted. Swinging doors have been constructed between the sewing room and the basement room used for a lunch room.

More painting than usual has been done in the various buildings this summer, Smalley says. Floors in locker rooms and laboratories in the high school building, as well as the hallways, have been given fresh color. The halls have been painted a lighter shade for about two feet wide where students run their hands along the walls, thus allowing for washing in the future.

Poor boards in the floors in most of the buildings have been removed and new ones placed; scrubbing and cleaning and re-tiling has been completed in several buildings. A number of pieces of furniture has been constructed for the Parrish gymnasium. The counter in the high school principal's office has been raised a foot that it will be more convenient for persons who wish to write upon it or transact other business over it.

One of the biggest jobs of the summer was working of the Leslie junior high athletic field, which when completed will be one of the finest natural high school stadia in the state. The Leslie bowl, horseshoe in shape, has been graded down and is practically ready for use, except that some additional grading will likely be necessary after the first rains.

Quering, Scholls, Bueller and Jensen sang several selections and a fifth, Mr. Dirks, gave the message, using for his subject "The Saviour, the Soul and Salvation." At noon 24 people sat down to a bountiful dinner in the dining room. Pictures were taken of the various members of the group. Conversation and music occupied the remainder of the afternoon, closing with the old song "God Be With You till We Meet Again."

The joy and fellowship of the occasion will long be remembered. Miss Kumler, of Kokomo, Ind., who had just returned from a trip to Europe, telegraphed greetings, and another telegram was returned to her.
