The Peplum Is Very Smart

Pattern 1757

Statesman 15c Practical Pattern Today's model is the last word in frocks for the first days of fall. Design 1757 is developed in light weight tweed of basket weave. The bodice is simple with merely a band of fabric trimming the V neck. The skirt is gracefully flared, a new note for woollens. The waist line is raised in accepted fashion.

The peplum blouse is stunning on youthful figures, and especially lovely in this frock. We suggest black and white mixture in very fine tweed and a black patent leather belt. Brown and beige or blue and gray would be equally smart, the belt selected to match the darker color.

May be obtained only in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26 and 28. Size 14 requires 4 1/4 yards of 54 inch material.

SOUTH SILVERTON LADY GOES EAST

SOUTH SILVERTON, August 27.—Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Haberly motored to the California-Oregon Power company to appropriate 275 second feet of water from the north fork of Rogue river for the development of 18,970 horsepower. The cost of this development was estimated at $1,000,000. Another filing on Mill creek is pending.

Reports received here today indicated that surveying operations are under way, and that the actual development work will get under way within the next few months.

ROME—(AP)—Aviators who demonstrate ability to keep a plane under control at 300 miles an hour are to be given the right to wear a merit "V" on their shoulder straps. The government's idea is to encourage Italian pilots to adapt themselves to new high speed military machines and to represent Italy in international contests.

Six and Half Millions to Be Spent in Development Of Power on Rogue River

Expenditure of more than $6,500,000 in developing approximately 54,560 horsepower on the Rogue river and its tributaries is proposed by the California-Oregon Power company, according to water filings in the offices of the state engineer.

Records of the state engineer disclose that on April 23, 1927, a permit was issued to the California-Oregon Power company to appropriate 75 second feet of water from Red Blanket Creek, 150 second feet of water from the south fork of Rogue river and 150 second feet of water from the middle fork of Rogue river. The applications for these permits were filed with the engineer on January 5, 1924.

The company proposes to divert water from the south fork of Rogue river through a canal three miles in length to the proposed plant on the middle fork. Water also would be diverted from the middle fork of Rogue river through a canal and pipe line for a distance of six miles. This canal and pipe line would terminate at the head of the present diversion from the north fork of Rogue river, near the Prospect Point power plant. The waters of Blanket creek would be discharged into a conduit between the middle fork and the north fork.

The plans call for a north fork dam 40 feet high and 250 feet in length. The middle fork dam would be 30 feet high and 300 feet in length. The diversion dam on the south fork would be 10 feet high. The cost of this development was estimated at $5,500,000. Approximately 35,580 horsepower would be developed.

Another permit was issued under date of August 24, 1929, authorizing the California-Oregon Power company to appropriate 275 second feet of water from the north fork of Rogue river for the development of 18,970 horsepower. The cost of this development was estimated at $1,000,000. Another filing on Mill creek is pending.

America's Only Speed Hope

Lieutenant Alford J. Williams, America's outstanding racing ace, appears to be the only hope that this country has as a promising entrant in the Schneider Cup races to be held in England on September 6. He is shown here trying out his secret race car on the Severn river at Annapolis. At top, Williams, left, is seen being congratulated by Admiral Moffett.

JEFFERSON, Aug. 27.—Ethel Klampe Hanes was born at Salem, Oregon, August 30, 1904, and died August 23, at Labish Center. She was converted at the age of 12 years, under the ministry of E. G. Hornschuch and spent practically her entire life in Christian service.

She was elected president of the Evangelical Christian Endeavor society at Jefferson at the age of 13 years, which position she held for years.

She was elected president of the Marion County Christian Endeavor union for three successive terms, which she held up to July, 1929, when she resigned because of failing health. She received her education in the public school at Jefferson, graduating from the eighth grade in 1921, with the highest average grade in Marion county.

Has High Average Four years later she graduated from the high school of Jefferson with the highest average in her class. She began teaching at a logging camp at Mehama in 1922, at which place she organized a Sunday school and had entire supervision. SILVERTON YOUTH BROUGHT TO COURT

When L. Johnson of Silvertown gave a fictitious address to an officer and failed to put in his appearance at the justice court here he evidently figured he would escape punishment. But the officer who tagged Johnson for failing to stop at a main highway, ferreted out the lad's address and saw that he was brought to court. The result was a $20 fine Tuesday in justice court for Johnson and revocation of his driver's license for a year.

Justice Brazier Small assessed $10 as a fine against E. A. Jarvill for driving without proper lights. Jarvill had been tagged by an officer and called to make an appearance until sent for.

The policy of Justice Small has been to let first offenders go with a reprimand when they have been tagged but when an officer has been needed to bring them to court a fine has invariably been assessed against them.

SALEM DISTRICT IS FOUND DESIRABLE

Indicative of value to Salem from its conventions is a letter received by The Statesman this week from Allan Stevens of Route two, Beaverton. Mr. Stevens, impressed the city and desires to locate here. His letter, in part, follows:

"The writer, a disabled veteran mostly deaf and too dumb to bite at some bait, attended your Legion convention recently. I was so sold on your city and its hospitality and good soda pop of various colors that I made a return trip last week and spent four days looking over small acreage places. I have an option on the 3rd place—the last one I looked at and expect to be with you as soon as I am able to get away."

Turkey has forbidden fishing to all except commercial fishermen, who pay a tax for that purpose.

Walnut Orchard At Willow Lake Very Productive

KEIZER, Aug. 27.—Having heard a great deal about the wonderful English walnut orchard at Willow Lake farm, the Keizer reporter called to investigate and found a most beautiful sight.

In one orchard of 30 acres in bearing are three varieties, Franquette, Bertha Vincent and Marctags. These trees are nearly 20 years old and have at least a fifty foot spread. The most of them are as full as can be—sometimes three and five nuts in a cluster.

A young orchard of 20 acres which will soon be in bearing lies just across Willow lake.

Mr. and Mrs. William Blake are the owners of these orchards and they said these were next in size to the Skyline orchards. It has been proven again that Keizer bottom land will grow anything that can be grown in Oregon. The Blake have something to be justly proud of in these orchards which are so well kept.

Hostess

Miss Alice Davis, daughter of Dwight M. Davis, new Governor-General of the Philippine Islands, is seen here on the balcony of the beautiful Malacanang Palace in Manila. Miss Davis will act as official hostess for her father.

LEGION DRY AGENTS MAY BE EXPELLED

MILWAUKEE, Aug. 27.—(AP)—Dry agents who used American Legion credentials in attempting to buy liquor during the recent state convention at Kenosha may be recommended for expulsion from the organization, Attorney Cornelius Hanley, of Post 172, West Milwaukee, announced today. Charges that Edward L. Evans, an undercover agent, presented his Legion card to Carl Wallig, as evidence that he was "OK" were made before United States Commissioner H. L. Kellogg today, when Wallig was arraigned on liquor charges growing out of a raid Saturday. The evidence was collected during the convention, it is reported.

Hanley said that if it is established that Evans and other dry agents wrongfully used their cards, he would ask that they be expelled.

Farmers Want Market Reports

DALLAS, Aug. 27.—That Polk county farmers are interested in receiving market reports is indicated by the number that have sent in their request to the United States bureau of agricultural economics in Portland. Funds for this extended service were appropriated by the last session of congress and many organizations urged the establishing of such an office in Portland. William A. Schoenfeld is northwest representative of the department.

In the state, requests for reports on livestock lead the list with wheat, potatoes, poultry coming next. In Polk county there have been 7 requests for livestock reports, 6 for wheat and hay, 4 for grain and potatoes, 3 for butter, eggs, poultry and clover seed, 2 for prunes and wool, and 1 for milk, cream and general market news. Additional requests are coming in steadily.

HAWLEY TAKES TRIP AROUND MT. HOOD

Investigation of ways and means to handle the federal forests in the Mt. Hood district was conducted over the weekend by the sub-committee on appropriations from the United States House of Representatives according to Congressman W. C. Hawley who returned here Tuesday from a trip around the mountain in company with the committee. The group is charged with making recommendations for the appropriations for the department of agriculture. Additional federal forest roads and trails were considered necessary for the safety of the forests according to Mr. Hawley.

While he was at the mountain Mr. Hawley made a brief survey of the proposed tramway line to the summit of the mountain. The proposal is to build a road to Cooper's rock from which a cable line would be run to Summit rock. The cable line would be about a mile in length and over it a large basket would be hauled in which passengers could ride to the summit. At no place in the ride would passengers be more than 60 feet above the snow.
